The Chinese University of Hong Kong Calendar 1990-91 contains information as at August 1990.
The emblem of the University is the mythical Chinese bird 鳳(fēng), which is chosen because of its symbolism as Bird of the South since the Han Dynasty. It is also a symbol of nobility, beauty, loyalty and majesty.

The University colours are purple and gold, representing devotion and loyalty (purple), perseverance and resolution (gold).

The motto of the University is ‘博文約禮’(po-wen yüeh-li); ‘博文’ is to broaden one’s intellectual horizon; ‘約禮’ is to keep within the bounds of propriety.

These words of Confucius have long been considered a principal precept of his teaching. It is recorded in the Analects of Confucius that the Master says, ‘By extensively studying all learning, and keeping himself under the restraint of the rules of propriety, one may thus likewise not err from what is right.’ (Legge’s version of the Four Books)

In choosing ‘博文約禮’ as its motto, the University is laying equal emphasis on the intellectual and moral aspects of education.
INTRODUCTION

The Chinese University of Hong Kong was incorporated in October 1963 under a Hong Kong Ordinance 'to establish a university with a federal constitution in which the principal language of instruction shall be Chinese'.

The constituent colleges of the University are Chung Chi College (founded 1951), New Asia College (founded 1949), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956). In December 1976 a new ordinance was enacted, making important changes in the constitution governing the University and the colleges. Ordinance of a new constituent college, Shaw College, was enacted in July 1986. The new college became operational in 1988.

The University is a self-governing corporation drawing its income mainly from grants made by the Hong Kong Government, supplemented by fees and donations from private sources.

The governing and executive body of the University is the Council, which has the management and control of the affairs, purposes and functions of the University. The Senate has the control and regulation of instruction, education and research.

A wide range of full-time undergraduate programmes leading to the BA, BBA, BMedSc, MB ChB, BSc and BSSc degrees are offered by various departments under the Faculties of Arts, Business Administration, Medicine, Science, and Social Science. There are eight part-time degree programmes leading to the degrees of BA, BBA, BEd, BSc and BSSc.

Postgraduate programmes leading to the DSc, MD, PhD, MA, MBA, MDiv, MEd, MPhil, MSc, MSSc, MSW degrees as well as the Diploma in Social Work, and full-time and part-time programmes leading to the Diploma in Education are offered by the Graduate School through its thirty graduate divisions and the School of Education.

The total enrolment of the University in the academic year 1989-90 was 8,369, including 6,925 undergraduate and 1,444 postgraduate students.

The University has four research institutes, under which are a number of research centres. They are the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, and the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies. The newly established Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology has been incorporated as a self-supporting research and development entity.

Extensions of the University include the Department of Extramural Studies and the New Asia — Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

Establishment
UNIVERSITY ORDINANCE AND STATUTES

The Chinese University of Hong Kong was incorporated in October 1963 under a Hong Kong Ordinance "to establish a university with a federal constitution in which the principal language of instruction shall be Chinese". The University shall (i) assist in the preservation, dissemination, communication and increase in knowledge; (ii) provide regular courses of instruction in the humanities, the sciences and other branches of learning of a standard required and expected of a university of the highest standing; and (iii) stimulate the intellectual and cultural development of Hong Kong and thereby to assist in promoting its economic and social welfare. It is a self-governing corporation drawing its income mainly from grants made by the Hong Kong Government, supplemented by fees and donations from private sources. The principal medium of instruction is Chinese; English is also widely used. Indeed, the majority of the teaching staff are bilingual (Chinese/English) and have studied and/or taught in major universities all over the world. The University is international in outlook and enjoys a close association with many universities, foundations and organizations abroad.

In December 1976, a new Ordinance was enacted, repealing and replacing the previous Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance. The aims of the University, however, remain unchanged. The new Ordinance (No. 86 of the Laws of Hong Kong 1976) and the Statutes of the University, and their subsequent amendments are printed on the following pages.
THE CHINESE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG ORDINANCE

An Ordinance to repeal and replace The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance, to repeal the Chung Chi College Incorporation Ordinance, the Board of Trustees of The United College of Hong Kong Incorporation Ordinance and the New Asia College Incorporation Ordinance and to make new provision concerning the Chung Chi College, The United College of Hong Kong and the New Asia College, to make provision for Shaw College, and for purposes connected therewith.

WHEREAS —

(a) The Chinese University of Hong Kong was established and incorporated in 1963 by The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance as a University with a federal constitution;

(b) the original Colleges of the University are Chung Chi College, New Asia College and The United College of Hong Kong;

(c) it is considered desirable that some of the powers and functions conferred on the said Colleges under their respective constitutions and Ordinances should be vested in The Chinese University of Hong Kong and that the principal role of the said Colleges be the provision of student-oriented teaching under the direction of The Chinese University of Hong Kong;

(d) it is also considered desirable to make certain alterations in the constitution of The Chinese University of Hong Kong;

(da) the Council of the University has, by special resolution, resolved that Shaw College shall be a constituent College of the University;

(e) it is declared that The Chinese University of Hong Kong in which the principal language of instruction shall be Chinese, shall continue to —

(i) assist in the preservation, dissemination, communication and increase in knowledge;

(ii) provide regular courses of instruction in the humanities, the sciences and other branches of learning of a standard required and expected of a University of the highest standing;

(iii) stimulate the intellectual and cultural development of Hong

General Information
THE UNIVERSITY

Origin

The University has its origin in three post-secondary colleges: New Asia College (founded 1949), Chung Chi College (founded 1951), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956), which drew, in their early days, a sizable proportion of their teachers and some of their students from mainland China.

In 1957, these three colleges came together to form the Chinese Colleges Joint Council with the object of securing Government recognition of their efforts in providing higher education for the students of Hong Kong. In 1959, Mr. John S. Fulton (later Lord Fulton of Falmer) was invited to advise on the general lines of development for the three colleges as a whole. In 1960, the Government introduced the Post-Secondary Colleges Ordinance and Regulations, which approved financial support to the three colleges with a view to raising their academic standards.

In 1961, a University Preparatory Committee, chaired by Dr. the Hon. Sir Cho-Yiu Kwan, was appointed to advise on sites and buildings and matters relating to the establishment of the University. A group of advisers from Britain and the United States visited Hong Kong in the same year to advise the colleges on development to university level of courses in arts, science, commerce and social science. The report of these advisers was encouraging, and so in 1962, the Government appointed a commission under the chairmanship of Mr. John S. Fulton to consider and determine whether and how a Chinese university should be created from the three colleges.

The Report of the Fulton Commission, known as the Fulton Report and published in April 1963, recommended the establishment of a new university. Shortly after its publication the Report was approved in principle by the Government. A Provisional Council was set up in June 1963, and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance and Statutes were enacted in September of the same year. On 17th October, 1963 the University was formally inaugurated.

The Ordinance

In November 1975, the Governor, in his capacity as Chancellor of the University, appointed an external commission to review the constitutional arrangements governing the University and its constituent colleges. Lord Fulton of Falmer was again invited to serve as chairman of the commission.
The second Fulton Report was submitted to the Chancellor in March 1976 and published in May. The Report recommended important changes to the constitutional arrangements governing the University and the colleges. Under the new arrangements proposed by the commission, the University would be responsible for academic and development policy, financial management, the matriculation of students, the appointment of staff, the determination of the curriculum, the conduct of examinations and the award of degrees. The participation of senior academics in the governing bodies of the University would be strengthened. In addition, the Report also recommended that the University should strive to strike a balance between 'subject-orientated' teaching and small group 'student-orientated' teaching, and that the latter should be entrusted to the colleges. This 'student-orientated' teaching would be designed to build in the students' habits and frames of mind characteristic of experts in their chosen fields and to equip them with the necessary skills for meeting new challenges in a rapidly changing world. A new ordinance to give effect to the recommendations in the second Fulton Report was enacted in December 1976.

In 1986, the University received a generous donation from Sir Run Run Shaw for the specific purpose of establishing a fourth college, Shaw College, which began admitting students in September 1988. The Ordinance and the Statutes were further revised to provide for the establishment of Shaw College.

The Ordinance and the Statutes of the University incorporating the amendments over the years are printed on pp. 11-50 of this Calendar.

Academic Structure and Policy

The Chinese University of Hong Kong is a growing university offering a range of full-time and part-time courses which lead to bachelor’s degrees, master’s degrees and doctorates.

There are five Faculties (Arts, Business Administration, Medicine, Science and Social Science) and a total of forty-nine departments offering thirty-three Major subjects and thirty-one Minor subjects for full-time undergraduate students and eight Part-time Degree Programmes for part-time students.

Postgraduate programmes including twenty-one doctoral programmes and forty-one master’s programmes are offered by the Graduate School through its thirty graduate divisions and the School of Education. The latter also offers full-time and part-time postgraduate programmes leading to the Diploma-in-Education.

The Senate has control over instruction and research. The Faculties advise the Senate through the Faculty Boards on the programmes of studies recommended by the boards of studies. The boards of studies are responsible for subject-orientated teaching. The colleges, in turn, are responsible for student-orientated teaching and the provision of residential accommodation. All teaching staff and undergraduate students are assigned to different constituent colleges.

Undergraduate Studies

At its inception the University curriculum was based on a combination of the credit unit system and the degree examination system. After a comprehensive curriculum review in the mid-eighties, the Senate ruled that a new curriculum structure be adopted for students admitted in 1986 and thereafter. The essential elements are: (a) abolishing the degree examination system, (b) strengthening general education programmes, (c) making Minor programmes optional and (d) emphasizing the standard of Chinese and English languages of students.

Full-time Undergraduate Studies

The University endeavours to provide a wide variety of Major and Minor programmes to meet the needs of society and its students. In 1986-87, an Integrated BBA Programme was introduced in the Faculty of Business Administration to provide students with a more balanced exposure to different business functional areas. In 1988-89, the discipline of Information Engineering was introduced in the Faculty of Science, which is part of a long-term plan to develop a Faculty of Engineering in the University.

A Minor programme in Physical Education was also started in 1988-89. This programme aims at providing the community with trained personnel in physical education and satisfying the needs of students who plan to teach physical education and/or coach at primary or secondary school levels.

Part-time Undergraduate Studies

The Part-time Degree Programmes were first launched in 1981-82 with classes offered in the evening. The eight Part-time Degree Programmes offered are Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Physical Education, Primary Education and Social Work. The programmes normally require six years to complete, although direct entry to upper years is provided for in certain cases.

Postgraduate Studies

Doctoral programmes of the University were first introduced in 1980-81. With the introduction in 1990-91 of six new PhD programmes in Computer Science, Education, Geography, Information Engineering, Psychology and Statistics, there are now twenty-one doctoral programmes. Master's programmes were first offered in 1966-67. The number of programmes reached forty-one in 1990-91, including three new programmes: MPhil programmes in Information Engineering and Religion, and a MSc programme in Information Engineering.
Finance

The University’s main source of income for both capital and recurrent expenses is the Hong Kong Government. Fee income represents a relatively small percentage of the University’s total revenues. In addition, the University and its constituent colleges have small endowment funds at their disposal and also receive contributions from private donors for research and other designated purposes.

Negotiations between the University and the Government are conducted by the University and Polytechnic Grants Committee, established in 1965. This committee advises the Government on the financial requirements of the University.

The total capital cost of buildings on campus amounted to HK$576 million by June 1989. Although the majority of the funding has come from the Government, the University has also received generous support from private donors, whose contributions have made up about 27% of the total capital cost.

Lands and Buildings

The University has a campus measuring some 133.8 hectares located on a tract of land under lease from the Hong Kong Government north of the Shatin New Town in the New Territories. It commands scenic views of Tolo Harbour to the north and Tide Cove to the east.

The campus varies in elevation from 4.4 to 140 metres above sea level and was carved from a rocky promontory into four plateaux in the late sixties to provide the sites for buildings of the University and its three original colleges. Over the years, many endeavours have been made to try to expand its buildable area by way of site formation, extending its northeastern boundaries into fresh reclamation from the sea, and by negotiating with the Government for more land to be granted to the University. A fifth plateau was recently formed at the northwest tip of the campus to accommodate the fourth constituent college, Shaw College.

The central activities buildings are located mainly at the mid-level, with Chung Chi College at the lower level and New Asia College and United College at the highest level. The expanse of land in the valley next to the University Station of the Kowloon-Canton Railway has been the campus of Chung Chi College since 1956. United College and New Asia College moved from urban Hong Kong and Kowloon to their present sites in 1972 and 1973 respectively. Each of these colleges has its own administration and teaching blocks, library, staff/student amenities building, student hostels and staff quarters. Shaw College, commissioned not long ago in 1989, has comparable facilities except accommodation for academic departments as it is designed to be a residential college only.
Around the impressive tree-lined University Mall and the University Square featuring a sizable sculpture and a forum structure with reflecting pool, the following major central buildings cluster: the University Administration Building; the University Library; the Institute of Chinese Studies and the Art Gallery, its extension and annex; the Sui-Loong Pao Building and the Pi-Ch’iu Building (two teaching blocks); the Y.C. Liang Hall (a lecture hall complex); the Sir Run Run Shaw Hall (a 1,500-seat multi-purpose auditorium); the Lady Shaw Building (a large teaching building complex); the Science Centre Complex; and the Choh-Ming Li Building for Basic Medical Sciences.

Other buildings scattered at the periphery of the central campus include the Benjamin Franklin Centre and John Fulton Centre (two amenities buildings for staff and students); the Health Centre; the Sports Centre; the Li Dak Sum Building and Fung King Hey Building (both teaching facilities); Ho Tim Building (housing the School of Education and a multi-purpose hall); the Fong Shu Chuen Building (a Chinese language centre); the Marine Science Laboratory; the Estates and Maintenance Building; the Postgraduate Hall Complex (a dormitory mainly for postgraduates); the guest houses and a Transport and Security Depot. And to the north clustered on the hilly slopes stand many blocks of staff quarters.

In less than two decades, over seventy buildings have been erected on the once barren hillside. Recent additions include Fong Yun Wah Hall (an extension to the New Asia—Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre) and the earlier phases of the Shaw College development, comprising Student Hostel I (two hostels and an amenities building complex), Wen Lan Tang (an administration and education block), and Ya Qun Lodge (a residential block of guest suites and staff residences).

Building projects under construction or active design include the Leung Kau-kui Building (teaching facilities for the Business Administration Faculty) at the central campus, phases I, II and III redevelopment of the Teaching Buildings Complex of Chung Chi College, phases I and II extension to the Central Library, extension to the Elisabeth Luce Moore Library of Chung Chi College, phases I and II Academic Building for Engineering Studies, a lecture theatre complex and a third student hostel at the Shaw Campus, phase I redevelopment of the hostel buildings of Chung Chi College, a building complex for the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology, blocks I and II of a new Inter-University Hall and a squash centre. Major engineering services projects being implemented include air-conditioning of the University Gymnasium, floodlighting of the University Stadium and a new telecommunication system for the campus.

Other capital works being planned include phase IV redevelopment of the teaching buildings of Chung Chi College, extension to the Ch’ien Mu Library of New Asia College, and a new master development plan for the University as well as facilities to enable the University to entertain a substantially faster rate of student growth in the next several years.

The clinical departments of the Faculty of Medicine are housed in the Clinical Sciences Building at the Prince of Wales Hospital, the regional hospital of Shatin, about eight kilometres from the main campus.

Residential Accommodation

The University provides several types of accommodation for staff members, academic visitors and students.

Staff Housing

Staff quarters are allocated by the University to appointees who are eligible for staff housing. There are about 300 senior staff flats on campus in multi-storey apartment buildings, some 100 flats for single teachers and other staff, and several blocks of quarters for minor staff.

The Inter-University Hall provides fully-furnished and self-contained quarters for academic visitors coming to the University for periods of one to two years.

Guest Houses

The University operates three guest houses which provide room and board facilities for guests on short periods of stay in the University. The Yali Guest House, completed in 1974, is a gift from the Yale-China Association. The University Guest Houses I and II began operation in 1980. Further accommodations are being planned to cater for the growing demand in recent years.

Student Hostels

The University and its constituent colleges operate a number of hostels for students who wish to live on campus.

The Postgraduate Hall Complex, consisting of Sir Cho-Yiu Hall, Lady Ho Tung Hall, and the Postgraduate Hall, provides 250 places for graduate students as well as a limited number of undergraduates. Chung Chi College has seven hostels: Ming Hua Tang, Wen Lin Tang, Ying Lin Tang, Hua Lien Tang, Theology Building, Madam S.H. Ho Hall and Wen Chih Tang. Together they accommodate a total of 784 students. At New Asia College, the Chih Hsing Hall, Xuesi Hall and Grace Tien Hall can accommodate 770. At United College, the Adam Schall Residence, Bethlehem Hall and Hang Seng Hall also have a combined capacity of 770. Some 584 hostel places are available at Shaw College whilst an additional 300 are being planned.

With the exception of the Postgraduate Hall Complex which has 120 single rooms, most student hostels provide shared accommodation in the form of twin-bed rooms. They are generally available to all undergraduates except where specified. Because competition for residential places is very keen, interested students are advised to apply early to their respective college authorities.

In addition, the Faculty of Medicine operates the Madam S.H. Ho Hostel for medical students at the Prince of Wales Hospital at Shatin, the teaching hospital of the Faculty, to provide accommodation for 148 senior Clinical students.

Hostel fees range from HK$850 to $1,980 a term, depending on the type of accommodation. Special rooms for married students without children are available at HK$1,135 to $1,540 per month. Detailed information on hostel fees is listed on p. 245.

Liaison with the World of Learning

The University has since its inception in 1963 striven to enhance the cross fertilization of Chinese and Western cultural traditions. To this end, the University has over the years established and maintained connections with a large number of overseas bodies, including universities, institutes and centres of learning, governmental agencies, and in particular, with regional and international associations of universities.

The University enjoys a close relationship with numerous overseas universities. The first exchange programme was launched in 1965 with the University of California. Today there are student exchange programmes with New York University, the University of Missouri, Georgetown University, and Brown University in America. Staff exchanges are also maintained with a number of French universities through the arrangement of the government of France, the majority of the outgoing staff members being China specialists. In Japan, a short-term staff visit programme with Soka University and a student exchange programme with the same and with Tsukuba University have been established. Beginning in 1982, further exchanges have taken place through the International Student Exchange Programme (Washington, D.C.), of which the University is a member.

The University’s constituent colleges, too, have cultivated links with certain universities abroad. New Asia has close relations with the Yale-China Association, Chung Chi with the Wellesley-Yenching Committee and the Princeton-in-Asia Committee, and United with Williams College and Indiana University. For the exchange of undergraduates and graduates, Chung Chi has made special arrangements with Redlands University, Washington and Lee University, International Christian University, Keio University and Soka University; New Asia with Asia University and Soka University; and United with Williams College and Indiana University.

Chung Chi College also participates in the Asia-North America Faculty Exchange Programme sponsored by the United Board of Christian Higher Education in Asia to nominate staff to teach as visiting professors for one year in North American universities.

In response to the growing demand of overseas students and scholars for Chinese and Asian studies, the University launched the International Asian Studies Programme in 1977 in cooperation with the Yale-China Association. The Programme makes it possible for participants to take credit-earning courses on China and Asia taught in English and Chinese, as well as courses on Chinese language. So far over five hundred participants from more than twenty-five countries have joined the Programme. The Office of International Studies Programmes was established in 1985 to manage University exchanges, coordinate exchange programmes of the constituent colleges, and operate the International Asian Studies Programme. For details of admission to the Programme, see pp. 238-239 of this Calendar.

The facilities at the University for international conferences and seminars have continued to attract scholars from far and wide. The Luce Scholars Programme administered by The Asia Foundation, for example, has been conducted in the University for more than ten years. In recent years, the University has been the venue for many regional conferences or gatherings of international stature. Some of these are organized with local organizations, others with institutions abroad including the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the Inter-University Consortium for International Social Development, the International Association of Schools of Social Work, the International Public Relations Association, the Association of Commonwealth Universities, the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation in America, the International Development Research Centre in Canada, French National Centre of Scientific Research, the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning, and the Southeast Asian Mathematical Society.

The international character of the University has been significantly enhanced by foreign government contributions to the language and literature instruction programmes. Visiting lectureships have been provided by the governments of France, West Germany, Italy, and Japan for instruction in their respective languages, and many graduates of the University have obtained fellowships for advanced studies in these countries. In addition, the University has since its very early days benefited from grants from various foundations for staff development, research, scholarships and exchange programmes. These foundations include the Lingnan Foundation in New York, The Asia Foundation, the Yale-China Association, the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the World Health Organization, the Leverhulme Trust and The Japan Foundation.

Cooperation with other universities has always been encouraged and maintained through various associations of universities. Today, the University is a member of the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU), the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning (ASAIHL), and the International Association of Universities (IAU). It has also been closely associated with the Committee for International Cooperation in Higher Education (CICHE) in the United Kingdom.

Over the years, the University and its staff have developed academic links and research collaboration with many educational and research institutions in China. As a result of the recent open-door policy in China, such exchange activities have been stepped up considerably. Each year, the University receives several hundreds of academic visitors from all parts of China, representing virtually every academic discipline. They participate in research work, give lectures and seminars and attend staff development courses. Formal exchange agreements have been concluded by the University or its individual departments with the Peking University, Tsinghua University and the Academia Sinica in Beijing and its institutes in Shanghai, the Hebei Academy of Sciences, the Northeast University of Technology in Shenyang, the Fudan University in Shanghai, the Zhongshan University, the South China Normal University in Guangzhou, the Nankai University in Tianjin, the Guangxi Medical College in Nanning and the Shaanxi University in Taipan. The University has also offered courses on international trade and management development for universities and Ministries of China. Teachers of the University have served as honorary professors, advisers and consultants for various Chinese institutions.

Liaison with the Business Community

The University has established working relations with local and international industrial and business firms and with government bodies by providing graduate managerial and professional staff, conducting training and development programmes, performing sponsored and contract research and offering consultancy services. As Hong Kong’s economy grows, the need for these services has expanded considerably. Hence, in 1988 the University established the Office of Industrial and Business Development (OIBD) to assist the various departments in strengthening their existing relationship with outside organizations, and in developing new links with appropriate organizations and individuals.

The OIBD is also responsible for investigating the various means by which the University might offer services and programmes that would attract support from both local and international companies. These services might include contract research, product development, staff development programmes, consultancy, special studies and liaison activities with local and overseas universities and research institutes. Following these investigations the R & D Contract Administration Unit of the OIBD will assist the appropriate departments in making the necessary contacts with outside bodies, negotiating agreements, and facilitating the implementation of the agreements and programmes.

Finally, the OIBD is to investigate possible areas for two-way technology transfer among the industrialized countries, Hong Kong and China, and to identify new businesses/industries with high potential for rapid growth. This will be augmented through cooperative efforts with existing local organizations and educational institutions.

In January 1990, the OIBD, the Office of Academic Exchange, and the Office of Alumni Affairs were amalgamated to form a University Development
Section within the University Secretariat. This new section has the mission to support the expansion of the University’s R & D activities and achieve other University development objectives through linkages and collaboration with business and public organizations. The University will thus be more capable of enlarging its reservoir of knowledge, and in turn benefit society by transferring this knowledge to students and to the community at large.
THE CONSTITUENT COLLEGES

With the reorganization of the University following the enactment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance 1976, the boards of trustees of the three original colleges, viz. Chung Chi College, New Asia College and The United College of Hong Kong have been reconstituted. Each college board is mainly concerned with the management of the movable property and of certain college buildings entrusted to it, as well as the promotion of scholastic and cultural activities of the college.

Each college is governed by an assembly of fellows, chaired by the college head. The assembly of fellows assumes responsibility for making and implementing decisions on various matters relating to the college.

In January 1986, the University received a generous donation of HK$100 million and subsequently, an additional gift of HK$10 million, from Sir Run Run Shaw, a long-time friend and benefactor of the University, for the establishment of the fourth college in the University. The University Council subsequently decided that the new college be named ‘Shaw College’ and invited Sir Run Run to become its Patron. To give legal effect to such a development, ‘The Chinese University of Hong Kong (Declaration of Shaw College) Ordinance 1986’ was enacted in July 1986. The new college admitted its first students in 1988.

Chung Chi College

Chung Chi College was founded in October 1951 by the representatives of Protestant churches in Hong Kong to meet the need for a local institution of higher learning that would follow the Christian education tradition of the thirteen Christian universities in China. In 1955, it was formally incorporated under an Ordinance of the Hong Kong Government.

The College had a very modest beginning with only sixty-three students in the first year. It used borrowed and rented premises, first in the Cathedral Hall and St. Paul’s Co-educational College, then in Caine Road and Lower Albert Road. Expansion was made possible by financial help from North America through the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia and the Trustees of Lingnan University (now renamed the Lingnan Foundation), and from Britain through the Asia Christian College Association. Local churches, firms and private individuals also gave considerable support. In 1956 the College moved to its permanent site in the New Territories, in the beautiful Ma Liu Shui Valley. Between 1959 and 1963 the College received the bulk of its funds from the Hong Kong Government. In 1963 the College was incorporated as one of the three colleges of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.
Theological Training

From 1957 religious education and theological training have been part of the academic programme of Chung Chi College. Since the establishment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1963, training in religious studies has been subsidized by the Government, while training of Christian ministers was, from 1963 to 1968, operated on an affiliated basis through the Chung Chi Theological Seminary. In 1968, the Seminary as such ceased to exist and its function was transferred to a new Division of Theology in the Department of Philosophy and Religion. The new Division, under a Theological Council, is financed independently by church gifts, but academically it is a recognized part of the College and the University. The Theology Division is a member of the South-East Asia Theological Education Council, and is recognized by the Council as an institute of higher theological training. Students enter by fulfilling the University's entrance requirements, and University degrees are awarded to those who qualify. A small number of selected non-degree students are also trained, but with a separate curriculum organized by the South-East Asia Graduate School of Theology.

Academic and Cultural Activities

The College spares no effort in fostering a cultural environment for staff and students. It organizes periodic seminars and staff-student get-togethers to discuss topics of general and educational interest. Regular gatherings include the 'College Life Committee Luncheon', annual educational conferences, 'Tolo Nocturne' and the weekly assembly. The College also invites distinguished scholars to visit the College on a short-term basis to meet with staff and students to broaden their horizon. For this purpose, a 'Siu Lien Ling Wong Visiting Fellows Programme' has been established.

To encourage study and research, scholarships, grants, prizes, and summer research assistance are offered to students, and exchange programmes with universities abroad are arranged. The College also arranges with the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia to provide certain faculty research grants for staff and nominates staff to participate in the Asia-North America Faculty Exchange Programme.

Micro-computer Laboratory

In 1988-89, the Board of Trustees of Chung Chi College started a fund-raising campaign for the setting up of a Micro-computer Laboratory to promote computer literacy and redress the problem of insufficient computer facilities on campus. On 4th June, 1989, the Micro-computer Laboratory was completed. There are 30 micro-computers and four printers installed with a local area network system directly linked to the University Computer Service Centre.
Students and Extracurricular Activities

In 1989-90 Chung Chi College had a student enrolment of 1,719, of whom 809 were men and 910 were women. Most of the students were born in Hong Kong, but a few of them were overseas Chinese. About one-third of the students were Christians.

Student activities of all sorts are organized by the Chung Chi College Student Union and a host of student societies, and the Dean of Students' Office. Together they are responsible for the many cultural, religious, academic, recreational and extracurricular activities that serve to provide a social meeting ground for students from different hostels and different faculties.

New Asia College

New Asia College was founded in 1949 by its former President, Dr. Ch’ien Mu, and a small group of scholars from China. Their aim was to preserve traditional Chinese culture and to balance it with Western learning so that students might understand their cultural heritage and at the same time be capable of coping with challenges of the modern world.

The College had a humble beginning but soon attracted support both locally and from overseas. Since 1954, it has had the cooperation and support of the Yale-China Association which had been active in educational development in China for many years.* It has also received support from other educational institutions and foundations, notably the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the Asia Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, the British Council, the Mencius Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Ming Yu Cultural Foundation, Hong Kong. As a grant College from 1959 to 1963, and now as a constituent college of the University, it has received generous financial support from the Hong Kong Government.

Academic and Cultural Activities

The cultural and academic activities of New Asia College are many and are held throughout the year. Distinguished international scholars are invited to visit the College under different programmes. They include the Ch’ien Mu Lecture in History and Culture Programme, the New Asia Ming Yu Foundation Professorship Programme, the New Asia S.Y. Chung Visiting Fellows Programme, and the New Asia David Lam Economist Exchange Programme. To increase scholarly and cultural interchange with various parts of the world, the College has also awarded faculty members the New Asia Ming Yu Research and Visiting Grants to enable them to present papers at international conferences or to pursue professional interests abroad. Prominent members of the local community are also frequently invited to talk to faculty and students on cultural or general topics at monthly cultural dinner gatherings and biweekly assemblies.

Students and Extracurricular Activities

In 1989-1990 New Asia College had a student enrolment of 1,724, of whom 800 were men and 924 were women. Approximately 50% of the student population received scholarships, bursaries or other forms of financial assistance.

Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in the College and are freely organized by the New Asia College Student Union and a host of student clubs and societies. Students of the College are offered at least a year of hostel residence in their undergraduate years so that they may appreciate more deeply the value of mutual help and cooperation in community life.

United College

United College was founded in 1956 by the amalgamation of five post-secondary colleges (namely, Canton Overseas College, Kwang Hsia College, Wah Kiu College, Wen Hua College, and Ping Jing College of Accountancy) which decided to pool their resources to better provide higher education for local students. It was incorporated under an Ordinance of the Hong Kong Government in 1957 with a Board of Trustees as its governing body.

In 1962, the College Board of Trustees was broadened to include representation from the local community, and Dr. the Hon. Kenneth Ping-fan Fung was elected Chairman. In July 1962, Mr. T.C. Cheng, then Chief Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs, accepted the Board of Trustees' offer of appointment as President, and assumed office in January 1963. The United College became a constituent college of The Chinese University of Hong Kong in October 1963. Since then, the College has made rapid progress which is reflected by the rapid increase in enrolment, the improved quality of staff and students, as well as by a general enlivening in all aspects of college life.

In March 1971, foundation stones were laid for the five new buildings for the College on the University's campus in Shatin. Later in December in that same year, the College moved from its original premises at Bonham Road to the new campus.

In May 1972, Sir Kenneth resigned from the chairmanship of the College to take up his appointment as a member of the University and Polytechnic Grants Committee. He was succeeded by Dr. the Hon. P.C. Woo. In November 1983, Dr. the Hon. P.C. Woo resigned as Chairman of the College, following his appointment to the membership of the University Council. Sir Run Run Shaw, Vice-Chairman, was then elected Chairman, and the consequential vacant post of Vice-Chairman was filled by the Hon. Poon Wing-cheung, a Trustee of the College. In October 1985, the Hon. Poon wing-cheung resigned from the vice-chairmanship and treasurership of the College to take up his appointment as the University Treasurer. He was succeeded by Dr. Ho Tim, a Trustee of the College, as Vice-Chairman; and by Dr. Peter Chan Po Fun, also a Trustee of the College, as Treasurer.

Academic and Cultural Activities

The College has organized various schemes and lecture series to develop a congenial cultural and intellectual environment for staff and students.

The College introduced in September 1978 the Ivory Tower Lecture Series. Scholars and experts in various academic disciplines/professional fields of the University and from outside have been invited to give lectures on specialized topics.

In early 1979, the College initiated the Annual Workshop Scheme, providing a forum for intellectual interaction between students and staff.

Financed by the College Endowment Fund, the Distinguished Visiting Scholar Scheme came into being in 1979. Scholars of international stature have been invited to deliver lectures on campus under this scheme. They include Prof. C.N. Yang, Prof. S. Schram, Prof. Ezra Vogel, Prof. Samuel E. Finer, Prof. Edward J. Lau, Prof. S.S. Chern, Prof. K.C. Chang, Dr. Franklin Chang-Diaz, Prof. Norton Ginsburg, Prof. Robin Norris, Prof. Ky Fan and Prof. Jan Swartvik.

The Resident Fellowship Scheme, also financed by the College Endowment Fund, was established in 1982 to sponsor scholars from Hong Kong’s neighbouring countries to visit the College for the promotion of intellectual and community life on campus.

The College Endowment Fund also financed the establishment of a Microcomputer Laboratory in October 1985 for the purpose of developing and enhancing students’ interest and knowledge in the operation and application of microcomputers. Training courses on the use of computers and selected software have been organized regularly for students and staff. In 1987, again with financial support from the College Endowment Fund, the Microcomputer Laboratory was expanded in area to accommodate more hardware. At present, there are 50 microcomputers, 11 printers and over 150 pieces of computer software in the Microcomputer Laboratory.

Students and Extracurricular Activities

In 1989-90, a total of 1,741 students were assigned to United College, of whom 860 were men and 881 were women. The government provided 423 students with interest-free loans and grants. Students received a total of 279 awards in the form of prizes, scholarships, fellowships and bursaries administered by the College and the University.

Inaugurated in 1963, the United College Student Union is a statutory body representing all students of the College. Various student organizations are registered under the Student Union. They include faculty and department societies, non-residential hall committees and various interest clubs. Every year, students organize a wide range of activities including academic, athletic and social functions.

With financial support from the College Endowment Fund, the College started a Budding Scholar Exchange Programme in 1990. The objective of the programme is to provide a chance for the students to experience the organization of and participation in academic research and exchange activities with students from other Southeast Asian universities.

Shaw College

Named after its Patron, Shaw College was made possible by the generosity of Sir Run Run Shaw, Chairman of Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Limited which donated HK$110 million to the University for the founding of its fourth constituent college.

An ordinance which gives legal effect to this new and exciting development in the University was passed by the Legislative Council in July 1986 and became law on 1st August of the same year. A Board of Trustees of Shaw College then came into being and helped chart the course of the College’s development in collaboration with the Planning Committee for Shaw College appointed by the University Council. Chaired by the former Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Ma Lin, the Planning Committee was in turn advised by Sir Quo-wei Lee, Dr. T.K. Ann, Mr. H.J. Shen and Mr. Louis Page.

The foundation stone for the first four buildings of the College was laid on 12th January, 1987 by Sir David Akers-Jones, then Acting Governor of Hong Kong, and Sir Run Run Shaw, Patron of the College. In June 1987, the College set up its temporary offices in the Chung Chi Teaching Block near the KCR University Station. In September 1989, the Student Hostel, which can accommodate 584 students, was completed. In October the same year, the Administration Building, Wen Lan Tang, and the Visiting Scholars Units cum Staff Quarters, Ya Qun Lodge, were also opened for administrative staff, teachers and students of the College. Built on 4.5 hectares of land at the northwestern part of the University campus overlooking Tolo Harbour, Shaw College also provides facilities such as microcomputer laboratories, reading rooms, a multi-function hall, conference rooms and canteens.

On 2nd March, 1990, Shaw College was officially opened by His Excellency the Governor, Chancellor of the University, Sir David Wilson, and the Patron of Shaw College, Sir Run Run Shaw.

Academic and Cultural Activities

Shaw College follows the pattern set by the three existing colleges in its general orientation, but emphasis is put on new disciplines being developed in the University.

Since the formal establishment of the Assembly of Fellows in June 1987, numerous academic and cultural activities have been planned and organized. A series of monthly dinner lectures have been held and seven lectures were delivered by the following guest speakers: Mr. William Cheng, Senior College Tutor of Shaw College; Prof. Yuen-tseh Lee, Professor of Chemistry, University of California at Berkeley and Nobel Laureate in Chemistry 1986; Dr. Chrit Titulaer, President of the Christ Titulaer Production Inc. in the Netherlands; Mr. T.L. Tsim, Director of the Chinese University Press; Prof. Patrick C. P. Ho, Professor of Ophthalmology, Department of Surgery; and Dr. Chan Wing-ming, Lecturer, Department of Chinese Language and Literature. The College will continue to invite academics in various disciplines to speak in this lecture series which forms part of the College's unstructured general education programme.

In October 1989, Prof. Yuan-tseh Lee, Nobel Laureate in Chemistry and Professor of Chemistry of the University of California at Berkeley, accepted the College's invitation to be the '1989 Sir Run Run Shaw Distinguished Visiting Scholar'. During his visit, Prof. Lee gave a dinner lecture, ran a seminar for graduate students of Physics and Chemistry and delivered an open lecture on 'Combustion of Fossil Fuels and the Human Society' at the Sir Run Run Shaw Hall.

Computer Laboratories

Two Computer Laboratories are open to members of the College. Thirty personal computers, six printers and a variety of computer software are available in the laboratories. One of the laboratories is also designed to be used for teaching.

Students and Extracurricular Activities

In 1989-90, Shaw College had a total of 1,026 students. The first batch of graduates graduated in mid-June 1990, and an alumni association was formed soon afterwards.

All students will have equal opportunity to compete for prizes and scholarships which are based on performance in academic work and extracurricular activities. Grants and loans are provided to those who are in financial need.
Students of the College can participate in the international student exchange programmes administered by the University, and Shaw College itself is planning to develop new student exchange programmes with overseas universities so that students can have more opportunities to be exposed to other cultures.

Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in Shaw College. Clubs, societies and sports activities along various lines of interest have been organized. The first Student Union was successfully formed in April 1990. The Student Council and departmental student representatives were also elected at around the same time.
Part III
Programmes of Studies
FULL-TIME UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES

General Information

Eligibility for admission is conditional upon fulfilling the entrance requirements of the University or obtaining exemption therefrom under the provisions in Section V of the Regulations Governing Admission to Full-time Undergraduate Studies. In addition to satisfying the entrance/exemption requirements mentioned above, applicants for admission shall be required to satisfy the relevant additional admissions requirements of the Faculties and programmes concerned in Section IV of the Regulations Governing Admission to Full-time Undergraduate Studies which are printed on pp. 325-332 of this Calendar.

The University’s five Faculties of Arts, Business Administration, Medicine, Science, and Social Science offer a wide range of courses leading to the BA, BBA, BMedSc, MB ChB, BSc, and BSSc degrees. Programmes of Studies leading to these degrees are printed on pp. 115-171, Regulations Governing Full-time Undergraduate Studies and General Regulations Governing Undergraduate Medical Studies are respectively printed on pp. 333-347 and pp. 348-352 of this Calendar.

Major and Minor subjects offered by the Faculties and the School of Education are as follows:

Faculty of Arts

Faculty of Business Administration
Integrated Business Administration.

Faculty of Medicine
The Faculty offers no Major/Minor programmes but a single professional undergraduate course in Medicine and an Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences.

Faculty of Science
Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Electronics, Engineering, Mathematics, Physics, and Statistics.
Faculty of Social Science

School of Education
Physical Education.

A student who satisfies the conditions for graduation shall be awarded a Bachelor's degree with one of the following classifications: First Class Honours, Second Class Honours Upper Division, Second Class Honours Lower Division, Third Class Honours and Pass. Honours assessment is based on the four-year grade point averages and also results of the Comprehensive Examination or its equivalent. The degrees of MB ChB, however, are awarded on the basis of Professional Examinations taken at the end of the second to the fifth medical years.

Curriculum Structure

The normal length of study for a full-time programme is four years with the exception of Medical Studies and some professional programmes which have prescribed otherwise. A first-year student is admitted on a Faculty basis and upon successful completion of the first year will be admitted to a Major programme.

The curriculum structure (except Medical Studies) is based on a combination of credit unit system and degree examination system since the inception of the University. After a two-year comprehensive curriculum review, the Senate ruled that a new curriculum structure be adopted for students admitted in 1986 and thereafter. The main thrusts thereof are to: (a) abolish the degree examination system, (b) strengthen the General Education Programme, (c) make the Minor programme optional, and (d) raise the standard of Chinese and English languages. Details of the curriculum structure are presented below:

For graduation, a student shall successfully complete at least 120 units of courses and shall normally take no less than 12 units but no more than 18 units in any teaching term. He is required to sit for course examinations at the end of each term. If Comprehensive Examination or Graduation Thesis/Project is prescribed by a Major programme, the student shall take it at the end of the fourth year.

The 120 units of courses shall include:
(a) General Education (18 units),
(b) General Chinese (6 units unless exempted),
(c) General English (6 units unless exempted),
(d) Physical Education (2 units),
(e) Major programme (normally 60-72 units), inclusive of Faculty requirements, if any,
(f) Minor and/or elective courses (the remaining units).

A student who opts to take a Minor programme shall formally register for his Minor subject, preferably in the second or third year. A Minor programme normally requires 18-30 units of courses. If approval has been obtained from the Major and Minor departments concerned, a student may elect two minor subjects provided that the total number of units required by the Major and the two Minor programmes does not exceed 102 units.

Medical Studies

The Faculty of Medicine offers a single non-unit-based professional programme consisting of two Pre-clinical years and three Clinical years of study. A medical student shall normally enter the Science Faculty as a Potential Medical Major and be admitted formally to the Medical Faculty in the next year. Besides taking the professional courses required by the Faculty, the student shall also complete in compliance with University requirements the General Education Programme, the General Chinese and General English Programmes (unless exempted) and the Physical Education Programme. Students who have completed their Pre-clinical studies with satisfactory results may apply for admission to the Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences.

A Medical student shall sit for both the Professional Examinations and periodic assessment of individual subjects. The First and Second Professional Examinations will be held respectively at the end of Medical Year 2 and Year 3. The Third Professional Examination consists of parts I and II, to be taken at the end of Medical Year 4 and Year 5 respectively. The three Clinical years of study will have classes held at the teaching hospital in Shatin in the various clinical departments. The student is also required to serve one year's internship at a recognized hospital after graduation.

The programmes of the Medical Faculty can be found in pp. 135-136 of this Calendar.

Programmes

Explanatory notes on Course Codes

Letters of the alphabet stand for the subjects (e.g. CHI, ENG, BIO, stand for Chinese, English and Biology respectively).

The first Arabic numeral stands for the years of study in which the course is to be taken (1 = 1st year, 2 = 2nd year, 3 = 3rd year, 4 = 4th year, 5 = 1st year, Graduate School, 6 = 2nd year, Graduate School); and the course code starting with 0 stands for Student-orientated Teaching with its second Arabic numeral standing for the year of study in which the course is to be taken. Normally, first-year courses are introductory courses for potential Major students; second-year courses are basic courses for Major study; and third- and fourth-year courses are upper division courses. However, for the sake of flexibility, most courses are also open to students of other years.

Explanatory Notes on Signs Used

A \textasciitilde \textasciitilde sign before a course code stands for core course, which may be a core required or a core optional course.

A \textasciitilde \textasciitilde \textasciitilde \textasciitilde sign before a course code stands for a required course.

A \textasciitilde \textasciitilde \textasciitilde sign before a course code denotes that the course is not offered in the academic year 1990-91.

Minor Programme:
(No Minor Programme in Professional Accountancy is offered)
FACULTY OF MEDICINE

The Faculty offers no Major/Minor programmes but a single professional undergraduate course of Medicine instead. Students are admitted on a Faculty basis and must complete the two pre-clinical and three clinical years of study. On completion of the Pre-clinical Programme, students may apply for admission to the one-year Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences.

GENERAL CHINESE AND GENERAL ENGLISH

Both the Department of Chinese Language and Literature and the English Language Teaching Unit offer language courses, viz. General Chinese and General English. These courses are required of all first year students unless exemption is granted.

General Chinese

The General Chinese course aims to help the student acquire the ability to use the Chinese language effectively for communication and study. The course consists of:

1. teaching of texts,
2. language exercise,
3. outside reading, and
4. composition.

General English

The General English courses are integrated skills courses tailored for students in different Faculties. Each of the courses aims at improving the English proficiency of first year students in the Faculty/Faculties concerned by focusing on those skills required for efficient and effective performance in academic tasks. The subject matter of the specially prepared materials is drawn from the various disciplines studied in the Faculty/Faculties concerned.

General Information

The University offers eight part-time degree programmes (pp.174-188): Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Physical Education, Primary Education, and Social Work programmes. (The University has suspended the admission of students to the Part-time Degree Programme in Social Work since 1989-90.) Regulations Governing Part-time Undergraduate Studies are printed on pp. 353-368 of this Calendar. In 1990-91, the Music Programme admits students to the first and fourth years; the Primary Education Programme admits students to the third and fourth years. While the Physical Education Programme admits students to the third year only, the other four programmes admit students to the first year only. Eligibility for admission is conditional upon fulfilling entrance requirements or obtaining exemption therefrom in accordance with Section 2.0 of the Regulations Governing Part-time Undergraduate Studies. Degrees are awarded on the same basis as those of the full-time programmes described in p. 112.

Curriculum Structure

The normal length of study of a part-time programme is six years, with three terms in each year. The Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, and Music programmes will consider permitting students admitted in 1986-87 and thereafter to follow a faster pace of study and graduate in five years subject to the fulfilment of the prescribed requirements.

For graduation, a first-year entrant shall complete at least 120 units of courses. As the University adopts with effect from the first-year intake of 1986-87 a credit unit system in its undergraduate curriculum in which course assessment will be greatly strengthened, students will not sit for a Degree Examination at the end of a programme.

Apart from completing requirements of the major subject, students are also required to take language and general education courses and/or elective courses in other disciplines. (Please also see Curriculum Structure of the full-time programmes in pp. 112-113.)

Programmes

Explanatory Notes on Course Codes

To distinguish Part-time Degree Programmes from their full-time counterparts,
'P' is always used as the third letter in the course code. The other two letters are to stand for the subject (e.g. AMP, BAP, BIP, CHP, CMP, ENP, EPP, MUP, PEP, STP, SWP, TRP for Mathematics, Business Administration, Biology, Chinese, Chemistry, English, Primary Education, Music, Physical Education, Statistics, Social Work and Translation). The first Arabic numeral stands for the year of study in which the course is to be taken (1 = 1st year, 2 = 2nd year, 3 = 3rd year, 4 = 4th year, 5 = 5th year, 6 = 6th year). Normally, first, second and third year courses are introductory and basic courses in a programme and fourth, fifth and sixth year courses are upper division courses. However, for the sake of flexibility, most courses are also open to students of other years.

Explanatory Notes on Signs Used

A ‘*’ sign before a course code stands for core course (required or optional).

A ‘++’ sign before a course code stands for a required course.

A ‘*’ sign before a course code denotes that the course is not offered in the academic year 1990-91.
General Chinese and General English

All students other than those of the Chinese-English Programme are required to take in the first two years six units each of General Chinese and General English unless exempted.

General Education

The General Education programme is designed to broaden the interests of students, give them a wider perspective, and cultivate in them the ability to understand the major issues of contemporary life. The challenge of rational inquiry and discussion is also emphasized. These courses are an important part of university education.

POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES OF STUDIES

The University first introduced programmes at the postgraduate level with the establishment of the School of Education in 1965. In the following year, the Graduate School was formally founded to undertake research training of graduate students leading to the award of master's degrees. In 1980, the University advanced into the realm of doctoral education.

The University awards the following high degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Business Administration, Master of Divinity, Master of Education, Master of Philosophy, Master of Science, Master of Social Science, Master of Social Work, Doctor of Business Administration, Doctor of Literature, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Science and Doctor of Social Science.

The Graduate School at present offers instructions leading to doctoral and master's degrees through thirty graduate divisions.

In the current academic year, the Doctor of Medicine (MD) Programme and postgraduate programmes leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in the field of Basic Medical Sciences, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Chinese History, Chinese Language and Literature, Chinese Philosophy, Clinical and Pathological Sciences, Computer Science, Economics, Education, Electronic Engineering, English, Geography, Information Engineering, Business Administration, Mathematics, Physics, Psychology, Sociology and Statistics are offered. For a PhD degree, a full-time student shall normally spend a minimum of three years (or two years for one holding a master's degree in a closely related field) and a maximum of seven years. A part-time student shall normally spend a minimum of four and a maximum of eight years.

Four types of programmes leading to the award of master's degrees are offered: (1) two-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Philosophy (MPhil), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Divinity (MDiv), Master of Social Science (MSSc), and Master of Social Work (MSW); (2) one-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Arts (MA), Master of Science (MSc), and Master of Social Science (MSSc); (3) three-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MPhil, MBA, and MSW; and (4) two-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MA, MSc, and MSSc.

Courses on education are conducted by the School of Education which provides professional training for graduates of approved universities to serve in local secondary schools. The School offers (1) a one-year full-time course and a two-year part-time course leading to the Diploma in Education (DipEd), and (2) a one-year full-time and a two-year part-time programme leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Education (MA(Ed)) or Master of Education (MEd).

In addition, the Graduate School offers a diploma programme in Social Work to university graduates who majored in the fields other than social work but who are now employed in social agencies.

Persons who have graduated with good honours degrees from recognized universities and who have the capacity for research may apply for admission to the above postgraduate programmes. For details, please refer to the General Regulations Governing Postgraduate Studies printed on pp. 369-380 of this Calendar and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Graduate School Brochure, 1990-1991.

Business Administration

The Faculty of Business Administration offers two types of programmes leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration (MBA): (1) a Two-Year Programme (full-time), and (2) a Three-Year Programme (part-time).

The Two-Year Programme was previously operated by the Lingnan Institute of Business Administration established with substantial initial financial support from the Lingnan University Board of Trustees in New York in 1966. The Three-Year Programme was launched in 1977 with generous financial support from the local business community. The use of the name “The Lingnan Institute of Business Administration” has been discontinued and both MBA programmes are now offered by the Faculty of Business Administration.

The major objective of the MBA programmes is to prepare men and women for responsible administrative and executive positions in business, government and other organizations. The Three-Year Programme, which is conducted in the evening in town, is designed to provide practising managers with the opportunity to learn new concepts of business management without interruption of their careers.

Admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme is open to graduates of recognized colleges and universities, both in Hong Kong and abroad, who hold a bachelor’s degree normally with honors not lower than second class lower division or with an average grade of not lower than ‘B’ in any field of study, or to those who have professional or similar qualifications equivalent to a degree. Undergraduates who expect to receive their bachelor’s degree in the current academic year may also apply for admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme.

Qualifications for admission to the Three-Year MBA Programme are identical with that of the Two-Year MBA Programme except that applicants are also required to have at least three years of full-time working experience after obtaining their bachelor’s degrees or recognized professional qualifications.

Two-Year MBA Degree Programmes

(A) For Graduates of Non-Business Administration

Completion of the two-year curriculum usually takes four semesters in full-time residence. Each student must complete a minimum of 54 units in order to graduate. A student who is allowed to waive one or more of the core courses must take substitute courses to meet the 54 unit graduation requirement.

Second year courses include International Business, Business Strategy and four elective courses. Students are also required to complete either a master's thesis or an MBA project report.

(B) For Graduates of Business Administration

Completion of the two-year curriculum usually takes four semesters in full-time residence. Each student must complete a minimum of 54 units in order to graduate. He/she is required to choose at least two specialized areas among the following six specialized areas as his/her fields of study:

2. Finance
3. International Business
4. Marketing
5. Management
6. Information and Decision Analysis

In order to claim a concentration in a particular specialized area, one has to take at least three courses coded 600 in that area.

Three-Year MBA Degree (Part-time) Programme

Completion of the three-year curriculum normally takes nine trimesters of study. Students are expected to take two courses each trimester. A minimum of 54 units are required in order to graduate.

First year courses include Accounting, Principles of Organization and Management, Economics, Statistical Analysis, Cost/Managerial Accounting and Legal Environment of Business.

Sociology

MPhil Degree Programme

In addition to the general qualifications for admission to the Graduate School, preference will be given to candidates who have a solid background in one social science subject (sociology, anthropology, psychology etc.) and whose research interests are already well developed. Oral examination in the form of an interview is also required.

The two-year programme leading to an MPhil degree in sociology is organized to enable the students to devote the first year to course work and to spend the major part of the second year writing a master’s thesis. Each student and his/her supervisor will plan a programme of studies at the beginning of the first year. This programme will consist of required graduate courses and elected reading courses chosen in the light of the student’s needs and interests. In some cases, students may be required to take advanced courses in the undergraduate curriculum which are relevant to the students’ thesis topic or which will strengthen the students’ general sociological background. In addition, each student will be required to attend the Graduate Seminar which meets every week. The purpose of this seminar is to provide a forum for the exchange of views among graduate students, faculty and visiting specialists in relation to a number of selected topics in current sociology and anthropology. Students are required to choose their thesis topic in the second term of the first year and, if possible, to initiate at least exploratory research during the summer months.

Requirements for the part-time MPhil programme are the same as the full-time programme, except that they have to be fulfilled within three years.

Fields of Specialization

The division offers supervised research and reading courses in the following areas: Advanced Theory, Advanced Methodology, Advanced Statistical Analysis, Aspects of Sociology, Chinese Society, and Graduate Seminar.

Statistics

MPhil Degree Programme

In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to the Graduate School, applicants should have majored or minored in statistics and passed an oral examination conducted by the Graduate Panel of the division concerned.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

The School of Education was established in 1965 to provide professional training for graduates of recognized universities to serve in local secondary schools. Programmes offered by the School cover a broad spectrum of teacher education and aim at developing professional competence in teaching. With the completion of the School’s new premises — the Ho Tim Building — in May 1987, the teaching facilities of the School have been much enhanced. Besides lecture halls and classrooms of various sizes, there are three science laboratories, a computer room, an educational technology unit, a language laboratory, a counselling laboratory, an instructional materials unit and an audio-visual workshop.

The School offers the following programmes:

INTERNATIONAL ASIAN STUDIES PROGRAMME

In keeping with the University's distinctive educational mission of promoting cultural exchange between East and West, an International Asian Studies Programme was launched at the University in 1977 with the support of the Yale-China Association. This programme is open to a selected number of students, research scholars and academic staff from overseas who wish to take advantage of the University's academic resources and research facilities in the broad area of Chinese and Asian studies, including the Chinese language training programme offered by the New Asia — Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

The International Asian Studies Programme (IASP) is coordinated by the Office of International Studies Programmes and is fully integrated into the regular academic structure of the University. Programme participants from overseas and local students live in the same hostels. All courses offered at the University, except those by the Medical Faculty, are open to IASP participants, and the programme itself also offers selected courses in Asian and Chinese studies taught in English for the benefit of both programme participants and local students.

There are three categories of participants: (1) associate students: undergraduates and graduate students taking a full load (12-18 units per term) of language and area studies; (2) associate research students: graduate students primarily undertaking research or writing their masters' theses or doctoral dissertations; and (3) special scholars: academic staff members or other learned scholars, normally of postdoctoral status, pursuing research, refresher or advanced courses.

Programme fees and financial aid for participants are respectively printed on p. 245 and p. 276 of this Calendar.

The programme is a yearly programme (September to April). Application for single term participation is subject to availability of places. Previous course work on Chinese language or Asian studies is not required for admission, but undergraduate applicants must have normally completed at least two terms of university study and graduate applicants must hold a BA degree. Associate research students and special scholars with genuine research or scholarly interest are especially welcome.

All inquiries and applications should be addressed to the Office of International Studies Programmes at The Chinese University of Hong Kong.
except those from America and Canada which should be addressed to the Programme’s North American representative: International Asian Studies Programme, P.O. Box 905A, New Haven, Connecticut 06520, U.S.A.

Cost of University Education

In addition to the prescribed fees listed above, all full-time students are advised to set aside funds for other items including meals, books, transport, personal and other expenses.

2 The programme fees cover tuition and hostel accommodation, basic medical care, student union membership, transcripts, orientation programme and cultural activities.
The cost of meals on campus is about HK$7.00 for breakfast and $11.00 each for lunch and dinner. It is estimated that books and stationery and other incidental expenses would be in the region of $3,000 a year. In addition, a commuting student may have to spend between $2,800 to $3,800 a year on transport. Personal and other extra expenses are entirely at the discretion of the individual student concerned.

In all, taking into consideration all fees and expenditure set out above, a student will probably need between $23,000 to $26,000 a year to support his education at the University.
SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID TO STUDENTS

To help needy students meet part of the cost of their university education, the Government has made provisions for grants and loans through the Joint Committee on Student Finance. In academic year 1989/90, a total of 23 million dollars were allocated to 25% of the student population, who depended on this scheme for financial support. The University and its constituent Colleges also administer their own scholarships, bursaries, loans and campus work schemes.

Part V
Research Units and University Extensions
RESEARCH INSTITUTES AND CENTRES

The University provides faculty members with financial support and research facilities so as to enable them to keep up with the latest developments in their own fields and to contribute to them. For this purpose the University has established five institutes, namely, the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies and the Institute of Biotechnology.

Institute of Chinese Studies

The Institute of Chinese Studies was established in 1967 on the basis of a broad conception of Chinese studies. It included what is traditionally identified as Sinology, but emphasized the application of scientific methodology, characterized by quantitative and comparative approaches, and the use of experimental methods where appropriate. Subsequently, other areas of studies related to contemporary Chinese culture and society have been included among its activities.

The objectives of the institute are: to promote Chinese studies by serving as an international centre for maintaining communication and cooperation with other academic and research institutions and scholars in this field; to provide local and visiting academic members of the University with funding and research facilities; and to promote the exchange of knowledge and experience in Chinese studies through publications, conferences and research seminars.

Under the Institute of Chinese Studies are the Art Gallery, the Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art, the Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre and the Research Centre for Translation. Each of these units is responsible for the promotion of research in its own field. The institute also provides grants to support special research projects, regularly sponsors seminars, and invites research fellows and visiting scholars from abroad to give lectures in their specialization. The Reference Reading Room of the institute, including the collection of the late Mr. Wong Pao-hsie, contains some 33,081 volumes of books and 316 titles of periodicals.

The institute publishes annually a volume of The Journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies of The Chinese University of Hong Kong. The various units under the institute also issue their own monograph series, studies series and journals and other publications.
Art Gallery

The Art Gallery, established in 1971, serves both as a teaching museum for the Fine Arts Department and as a centre of research on Chinese art and archaeology. As an active gallery which mounts special exhibitions of Chinese art at regular intervals along with displays of its permanent collection, it also provides a valuable service to the community of art enthusiasts in Hong Kong.

Apart from the general collection for teaching purposes, the Art Gallery houses a photographic archive and several important research collections of Chinese art and antiquities. Notable amongst the latter are a collection of 1,300 paintings and calligraphy by Guangdong artists and scholars dating from the Ming to recent periods, over 600 bronze seals of the Warring States to Qing periods, more than 400 pieces of Chinese jade flower carvings, about 1,200 rubbings of ancient inscriptions and a comprehensive collection of Chinese ceramics.

The Art Gallery publishes fully illustrated catalogues to accompany the special exhibitions. In addition, studies on the Art Gallery collections and related research topics are published as monographs.

The Art Gallery has a Conservation Annex which provides technical support for the Gallery. This includes the restoration and conservation of works of art, the mounting and restoration of Chinese paintings, woodwork and photographic services. In 1987, the Yeung Shui Sang Laboratory for Thermoluminescence of Ancient Chinese Ceramics was set up under the joint auspices of the Art Gallery and the Department of Physics to do research and render service in ceramics dating.

Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art

This centre was established in 1978 to undertake research projects in Chinese Archaeology and Art. The purpose was to pool the resources of the Art Gallery and the Departments of History and Fine Arts together, laying a solid foundation for research in this field, and to promote cooperation with museums and universities abroad in research programmes. A computerized database of the publications and data archives on the subject has been compiled and is now in service. Recently, the centre has shifted the emphasis of its activities to field archaeology, and a small field work team in the centre has become active in local excavations. The centre has also published several series of monographs and other specialized materials.

The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre

The centre has its origin in the Chinese Linguistics Research Centre, first established in 1966. It was enlarged in early 1979 under the name of Chinese Language Research Centre, and in 1980 it was renamed The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre.
The main objective of the centre is to engage in comprehensive research on the Chinese language, including such fields as the Chinese script, pronunciation, grammar and vocabulary, and to make available to the public in general and teachers of Chinese in particular the results of its research in the hope that this will contribute towards the raising of the standard of Chinese language teaching in Hong Kong.

Research Centre for Translation

In 1971, a Centre for Translation Projects was established with a grant from The Asia Foundation. It was renamed Research Centre for Translation in 1983 as a result of reorganization. The Centre has concerned itself with research and publication in the field of English-Chinese and Chinese-English translation.

In translating from Chinese into English, the centre concentrates mainly on the areas of classical and modern literature. A continuing vehicle for this is the English-language journal, Renditions, published semiannually since 1973 with the support of the Wing Lung Bank Fund for the Promotion of Chinese Culture. Included in the centre’s projects are a series of Renditions Books, of which twelve titles have been published since 1976. To strengthen studies in translation and Chinese literature, the centre has introduced a Renditions Paperbacks series in 1986; ten titles have now been published. The success of Renditions and its sister publications is reflected in the large number of requests for permission to reprint and for translation rights received by the centre.

In recent years, the centre has established exchanges and cooperation with major research institutions in China, which has led to collaboration with the Research Centre for Translation at Nankai University, Tianjin, China, on a computer-based bibliographic project ‘Index of Translation’. Since 1988, the centre has also established contacts with commercial publishers and book distributors in the U.S. and the U.K., which will lead to future cooperation in publishing projects.

The centre has set up a Renditions Fellowship in 1989 with the aim of inviting annually one translator of world renown to visit the University and carry out a chosen translation project. In addition, a Renditions Honorary Fellowship has been set up to honour translators who have made significant contributions in the field of translation.

Asia-Pacific Institute of Business

The Asia-Pacific Institute of Business (APIB) was established in February 1990. Its overall objective is to assist management in local business enterprises to meet challenges of the future and to enhance the growth and prosperity of Hong Kong and the Asia-Pacific region through various training, consultancy and research activities, which include:
(1) Promoting and coordinating management training programmes for administrators at various levels. Senior executive programmes focus on strategy formulation and leadership skills while middle management programmes emphasize the development and refinement of core skills in functional areas of business management. Tailor-made in-house programmes will also be available upon request to meet the specific needs of individual companies.

(2) Coordinating, conducting, and providing funds for research on major issues and problems which confront managers in the Asia-Pacific region.

(3) Providing consultancy services for individual businesses.

(4) Publishing journals and occasional papers and sponsoring symposia and conferences so as to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas between managers and researchers.

The APIB is supported primarily by private endowments and corporate sponsorship. The institute’s activities are governed by a management board comprising senior members of The Chinese University of Hong Kong. To ensure that the institute’s activities are geared to meeting the critical needs of the business community, an advisory council made up of senior members from local businesses, the government and international scholars was appointed to help set the institute’s agenda and direction.

Institute of Science and Technology

The Institute of Science and Technology was established in 1965 for the purpose of promoting interdisciplinary research in the Science Faculty with particular emphasis on projects with long-term regional significance or applied value. It is also an important vehicle of the University for cooperation in scientific research and consultation with industries, government departments and other universities.

Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre

The aim of the Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre (CMMRC) is to evaluate the true efficacy of traditional Chinese medicines on a more scientific basis. Strictly controlled scientific methods are used in order to separate fact from myth and distinguish spontaneous recovery and psychological effect from real bioactivity. Research based on clinical experience from the past may also lead to new discoveries that can shed light on problems in modern medicine.

With its cultural, geographical and technological advantages, Hong Kong can compete worldwide in this unique field and play a crucial role in scientific exchange between China and the outside world. CMMRC is a multidisciplinary research centre within the Institute of Science and Technology. Research is organized on a project basis. Members in the Science and Medical Faculties with an interest in Chinese medicine are encouraged to form teams to tackle important projects and to seek research grants from CMMRC, CUHK and external funding agencies. A multi-disciplinary CMMRC research laboratory and staff quarters have been constructed with private donations.

CMMRC's unique computer databases, originally supported by IBM, have made CUHK a worldwide information centre on Chinese medicine. The centre has published a two-volume monograph on the pharmacology and applications of Chinese materia medica in 1986 and 1987 and an international quarterly journal Abstracts of Chinese Medicines since October 1986. A museum of Chinese medicine provides reference standards and quality control of Chinese drugs. The centre is building up the expertise required for the authentication of Chinese medicinal materials and identifying their adverse effects. It also undertakes strategic interdisciplinary research projects. Current major experimental projects include investigations of (a) central nervous system drugs; (b) cardiovascular drugs; (c) immunology; and (d) birth control herbal drugs. In addition to biomedical research programmes, researches on the socioeconomical aspects of Chinese medicine will also be organized.

CMMRC depends heavily on external research grants to pay research assistants and purchase medicinal materials. Major donations have come from the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club, the World Health Organization, the Croucher Foundation and local philanthropists. Its work will help improve the health-care of millions of people in China and worldwide.

Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies

Established in 1990, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies replaces the former Institute of Social Studies and its two research centres — the Centre for Hong Kong Studies and the Centre for Contemporary Asian Studies, and aspires to become a research and academic centre of excellence in the interrelated study of Hong Kong, China, and the Asia-Pacific region.

With its focus on social science research, the institute plans strategic research programmes on the Hong Kong and Asia-Pacific economies as they develop in the 1990s. Topics include economic competitiveness and cooperation, reform and development of China in the 1990s, Japan and Asia-Pacific development, urban and regional development in the Asian-Pacific region, gender in a changing world, the political development of Hong Kong, social indicators and the social development of Hong Kong. A research programme on southern China, Hong Kong and Taiwan will also be conducted in collaboration with Yale University's Council of East Asian Studies. There is a strong policy orientation in all the research programmes planned.
To support its research activities, the institute will build up a data bank on Hong Kong, China and the Asia-Pacific countries. Significant contribution in this respect will come from the Universities Service Centre, which has been an important support centre for scholars in China studies since its inception in 1963. The Universities Service Centre was taken over by The Chinese University through an agreement with the American Council of Learned Society in June 1988. The affiliation of the acclaimed Universities Service Centre with the institute will greatly strengthen the documentation resources of the institute.

Another important task of the institute is to promote academic exchange, host conferences, receive visiting researchers, and publish research findings.

Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology

The Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (HKIB) was founded in June 1988 as a non-profit limited company to assist in the development of an internationally recognized biotechnology industry in Hong Kong. Its major aims are to:

1. Promote and encourage the development of a successful and prosperous biotechnology industry in Hong Kong.
2. Establish and support in-house independent basic and applied research programmes in biotechnology.
3. Carry out collaborative biotech-related projects with governmental organizations, educational and research institutions, as well as industrial and commercial corporations both in Hong Kong and overseas.
4. Provide assistance and service to scientists at all local tertiary institutions for the development and commercialization of biotech-related products.
5. Provide postgraduate training in biotechnology in collaboration with other tertiary institutions in Hong Kong, particularly The Chinese University of Hong Kong.
6. Provide an integrated base for a global network of biotechnological collaborations and commercialization, particularly among the Asia-Pacific nations.

Initially, HKIB will concentrate on the following areas:

(a) Novel therapeutic and diagnostic agents based on genetic engineering, hybridoma technology and bio-organic chemistry.
(b) Novel pharmaceuticals, or known chemicals for novel therapeutic applications, using the concepts and leads of oriental health care and medicinal materials.
(c) High-value, high-nutrition food products for the maintenance of health, balanced growth and development.
(d) Pre-pollution waste limitation and post-pollution treatment by bioprocesses.
In May 1989, HKIB received a major donation of HK$170 million from the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club, part of which will be used for the construction of HKIB’s first R & D, administration and residential complex.

The first building complex, currently under construction, will have a total floor area of 7,000 square metres, and be built at a site of 31,000 square metres near Tolo Harbour and made available by The Chinese University of Hong Kong for the exclusive use of HKIB. The R & D building will accommodate over one hundred scientific staff members to conduct biotechnology research and development projects. A special feature of this institute will be a pilot GMP-certified facility for the production of human health-care products that can be approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The administrative building will house management, business and financial personnel who will administer the research and teaching activities of the institute, develop business strategies for the commercialization of biotech-related products from HKIB and other institutions, as well as identify new opportunities for academic-industrial partnerships and collaborations. Many of the R & D, administration and residential facilities will be completed by the summer of 1991.

At present, HKIB is operating at the Lady Shaw Building of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, occupying about 465 square metres of office and laboratory space.
FACULTY AND DEPARTMENTAL RESEARCH UNITS

Unit for Research on Assisted Human Reproduction

This subspecialty unit of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology is involved with the study of the various techniques in assisted human reproduction. These include in-vitro fertilization and embryo transfer (IVF-ET), gamete intrafallopian transfer (GIFT), cryopreservation of human embryos, and microinjection of spermatozoa. Other areas of research include factors affecting follicular growth and oocyte maturation, endocrine response to ovarian hyperstimulation and the biochemistry of follicular fluids. Facilities are provided in the Lee Hysan Clinical Research Laboratories at the Prince of Wales Hospital and projects are conducted in collaboration with the Department of Anatomy.

The Biotechnology Laboratory

The Biotechnology Laboratory was established in 1986 with a special grant from the Croucher Foundation and Dr. Ho Tim to promote and coordinate research activities in the multi-disciplinary area of biotechnology. Located on the fourth floor of the Basic Medical Sciences Building and with a total floor area of approximately 250 square metres, the laboratory is operated jointly by the Departments of Biochemistry and Biology under the Planning Committee on Biotechnology. It is well equipped for performing experiments in molecular biology and recombinant DNA work. Its major facilities include a high-speed centrifuge and ultracentrifuge, DNA/RNA sequencing equipment, an oligonucleotide synthesizer, sterile hoods, and cell and bacteria culturing facilities.

A major goal of the laboratory is to identify areas of research in biotechnology which are of local relevance and interest. Ongoing research projects include the cloning of genes involved in alcohol fermentation and starch hydrolysis, production of recombinant fish growth hormone and studies on the structural modification of an abortifacient plant protein.

Apart from carrying out research, the laboratory also serves as an education centre for biotechnology. Its laboratory facilities are available to students of the MPhil programme in Biotechnology as well as undergraduates taking courses in this area. To promote a wider interest in biotechnology, the laboratory also organizes workshops on special topics for both local and overseas participants.
Cancer Research Group

The Cancer Research Group was established in 1987 for the promotion of cancer research within the Faculty of Medicine. Its specific aims are (a) to coordinate, promote and subsidize activities relating to the prevention and treatment of cancer; (b) to promote and provide training in cancer research; (c) to educate the public on methods of prevention and the early detection of cancer; (d) to improve the welfare of cancer patients; and (e) to organize seminars, workshops and conferences for advancing its objectives.

In the study of common cancers in Hong Kong, multi-disciplinary approaches are encouraged. Current research projects include those on nasopharyngeal, liver, oesophageal, lung and cervical cancers.

The research group is financed by the Faculty of Medicine and private donations. It aims to set up a foundation to ensure long term and uninterrupted research development.

Centre for Clinical Trials and Epidemiological Research

The centre was established in 1988 within the Faculty of Medicine to assist in and advise members of the Faculty on the design of special studies and the pretesting of protocols and procedures, with emphasis on interdepartmental and interdisciplinary projects. Staff of the centre also collaborate with members in other faculties in the design of research studies and the analysis of results.

The centre has a library of literature and computer software relating to clinical trials and epidemiological research, and has established links with similar centres around the world. It also conducts original research on statistical methodology in medicine and organizes regular educational seminars.

Comparative Literature Research Unit

First established as a Division of the Comparative Literature and Translation Centre in 1978, the Comparative Literature Research Unit has been affiliated with the Department of English since 1983.

The focus of the unit is Chinese-Western comparative literature from an interdisciplinary and theoretical perspective, with a strong methodological focus. Books already published include China and the West: Comparative Literature Studies, separately published in Chinese as Zhongxi Bijiao Wenxue Lunji (1980), Chinese-Western Comparative Literature: Theory and Strategy (1981), a translation of Douwe Fokkema's Theories of Literature in the Twentieth Century (1985) and Chinese Text: Studies in Comparative Literature (1986). To date, the unit has also sponsored or co-sponsored nine international conferences related to all major aspects of Chinese-Western comparative literature studies.
The unit also engages in cooperative projects with scholars from other institutions locally and abroad, in order to focus attention on areas of mutual interest. Currently, the unit is engaged in compiling an international multi-language comparative literature bibliography with special emphasis on Chinese literature, a series of casebooks on Chinese-Western comparative literature studies, dictionaries of literary terms, and a biannual newsletter in collaboration with scholars from Hong Kong, China, and Taiwan.

Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production

The Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production, under the Department of Biology, through interdisciplinary research cooperation aims at producing high quality food protein from wastes and simultaneously achieving pollution control. There are two main streams of research: (1) the production of food protein from sewage wastes by intensive aquaculture through successive steps in the food chain of algae, shrimp, fish, etc. and through vegetable crop production from sewage sludge; (2) the production of straw mushroom and other edible mushrooms from cotton wastes, sawdusts and used tea leaves. In addition, protoplast-based techniques for genetic manipulations in microorganisms have also been developed.

Gynaecology Cancer Research Laboratory

The Gynaecology Cancer Research Laboratory was set up in April 1988 in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Main areas of research include the establishment of cancer cell lines, the study of the effectiveness of Chinese herbal medicine on cancer growth in vivo, and immunohistochemical study of tumour cell proliferation.

The laboratory occupies a spacious room on the 6th floor in a special block of the Prince of Wales Hospital. Its facilities include a laminat flow hood, a CO₂ incubator, a deep freezer, and a centrifuging machine.

Marine Science Laboratory

The Marine Science Laboratory, established in 1970 as a research centre for advanced studies in marine science, is under the supervision of the Department of Biology. The present research emphasis is on the physiology of marine organisms, especially of fish and shrimps, in relation to mariculture.

The Laboratory is equipped with a physiology laboratory, a mariculture laboratory, two teaching laboratories, an air-conditioned aquarium, a hatchery house with six enclosed tanks (13 m² x 2, 11 m² x 2, 4 m² x 2), four large outdoor tanks (26 m² x 2, 40 m² x 2) and fourteen smaller tanks, and a speed boat (5m).
Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit

The Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit was established under the Department of Psychiatry in April 1981 with a grant from the Keswick Charity Foundation. Its primary goal is to study the frequency and distribution of psychiatric morbidity in the Shatin District, both cross-sectionally and longitudinally. Information generated will provide a better understanding of the characteristics of psychiatric morbidity in a Chinese community in Hong Kong, and of the attitudes of the general public towards psychiatric illnesses, and help to develop reliable rating scales for Chinese people, establish a psychiatric morbidity register, and evaluate local psychiatric services.

Following a pilot study of methodology for community survey in TaiPo, the research unit has completed a large-scale community psychiatric survey in the Shatin District, which is within the catchment area of the Prince of Wales Hospital where both the Department and the Unit are housed.

New Asia — Yale-in-China
Chinese Language Centre

The New Asia — Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre offers courses designed primarily for non-native speakers of Chinese. Founded in 1963 under the joint auspices of New Asia College and the Yale-China Association, the centre became a part of the University in 1974.

Every year over two hundred students from different parts of the world are admitted to the language centre. These students range from absolute beginners to trained sinologists who wish to polish their spoken Chinese or learn a Chinese dialect. Courses are offered at all levels so that any student can find training which suits his needs and ability. The language centre also regularly teaches Mandarin to thousands of local Cantonese-speaking residents.
including students of the University. The faculty of the language centre prepares a significant portion of its own teaching materials and audio-visual aids for the students.

The centre operates on a three-term system with the first and second terms lasting approximately fifteen weeks each and the summer term ten weeks. Students may register for admission to any term. Beginners’ courses are offered every term. The full-time programme of fifteen sessions of classroom instruction per week constitutes the maximum course load. The maximum class size is eight students, while most classes average between four and five. In exceptional cases, private tutorials and part-time classes are available. Tuition fees for language centre courses are printed on p. 245 of this Calendar.

The centre has a full complement of tapes for teaching purposes. Language laboratory facilities are available.

The centre gives credits according to the American system and issues grades and transcripts. Courses taken at the centre have been recognized by major universities for degree credit. For students from institutions not using the credit system, transcripts are prepared in sufficient detail to present a clear picture of the work accomplished by each student.

Copies of an information brochure are obtainable free upon request. All correspondence should be addressed to the Director, New Asia — Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shatin, New Territories.

Support Facilities and Services
SUPPORT FACILITIES AND SERVICES

The Library System

The Library System, introduced in 1963 with the establishment of the University, coordinates the collections and services of the University Library (founded 1965) and the branch libraries: the Chung Chi College library (founded 1951), the New Asia College library (founded 1949), the United College library (founded 1956), and the Medical library (founded 1980). The administration of the Library System is centralized under the University Librarian.

The University Library, which started operation in rented premises in Kowloon, was accommodated temporarily in the Benjamin Franklin Centre for three years from 1969, and moved into its present premises in 1972. The five-storey library building has a floor space of 7,993 square metres. It can house over 400,000 volumes of books and accommodate 500 readers. It is one of the most modern academic libraries in East Asia, fully equipped with the usual study rooms and carrels for readers, conference and seminar rooms, an audio-visual room, microfilm facilities, a rare book room and a book bindery.

The University Library is primarily a reference and research library for the use of staff and students of the University and visiting scholars. The branch libraries at the Colleges are basically undergraduate libraries but each has some unique features. Elisabeth Luce Moore Library of Chung Chi College holds strong collections in music and religious studies. Ch’ien Mu Library of New Asia College houses good collections in Chinese literature, fine arts and philosophy. Wu Chung Library of United College has a Hong Kong Collection as well as a notable Modern Drama Collection. Medical collections are housed in two different locations, with the pre-clinical materials in the University Library and the clinical materials in the Li Ping Medical Library, which is a part of the teaching hospital complex in Shatin.

All acquisitions and cataloguing activities are carried out in the University Library, which maintains a union catalogue of the holdings of the entire System. The holdings of the Library System as of 30th June, 1990 are:

<tr>

<th>East Asian</th>

Large sets of Chinese classical books in the traditional format of silk-stitched fascicles, as well as many important journals for Chinese studies in both East Asian and Western languages, have been acquired for research purposes. The Western language collection is also growing steadily stronger, particularly in bibliographic and reference materials.

In 1977, the Library System began to publish its Bibliographical Series. The following seven numbers have so far been published, covering aspects of both the collections of the System and Hong Kong publications: Union Catalogue of Serials (1977); Union Catalogue of Audio-Visual Materials (1979); An Annotated Guide to Serial Publications of the Hong Kong Government (1979); Serials of Hong Kong, 1845-1979 (1981); Newspapers of Hong Kong, 1941-1979 (1981); History of Medicine: An Annotated Bibliography of Titles at The Chinese University of Hong Kong (1984); Asian Fine Arts Collections: Union Catalogue, The Chinese University of Hong Kong (1984); and Catalogue of the Chinese Rare Books in the Libraries of The Chinese University of Hong Kong (1987).

For cataloguing purposes, the Library of Congress system has been used since 1969 for Western language materials and since 1971 for East Asian materials. Medical books are classified according to the National Library of Medicine scheme. An on-line circulation system was installed for the libraries on campus.

By using modern telecommunication and computer technology, the Library is now able to search electronically through files of databases and locate within seconds precisely the periodical or book citations and abstracts needed. The Library's Information Retrieval Service is connected by terminals through a telecommunications satellite to database vendors in the United States and the United Kingdom.

Universities Service Centre

By agreement with the American Council of Learned Societies in June 1988, the University assumed responsibility for the management of the Universities Service Centre (USC), which holds one of the best collections of original source materials on contemporary China.

Established in 1963 by a group of Western scholars to facilitate their research, the USC served as the centre of activity for several generations of China scholars during the 1960s and 1970s. Its library holds 18,000 titles of monographs and a complete set of newspaper runs for every Chinese province from 1949 to the present. Currently it subscribes to 1,100 Chinese magazines, over 70 English magazines and nearly 400 Chinese newspapers. The Centre is open for use by international scholars.
The Chinese University Press

The University started its publishing activity in 1967 with the establishment of the Publications Office. After a decade of experience in this field, the University established The Chinese University Press in 1977.

Last year, the Press published forty-seven titles including books in special series such as the Hong Kong studies series and the series of the Institute of Chinese Studies. From 1988, the Press has also started publishing general books in addition to its academic publications; up to April 1990, ten titles in this category have been published.

The Press has good connections with many university presses and learned societies both in Hong Kong and overseas. It has co-published books with the university presses of Harvard, Columbia, Princeton and the University of Washington. It has also entered into joint publication arrangements with commercial publishers in the United States, the United Kingdom, Japan and Sweden.

The Chinese University Press is a member of the Association for Asian Studies (AAS), the International Association of Scholarly Publishers (IASP) and the Society for Scholarly Publishing (SSP). It is also an international member of the Association of American University Presses (AAUP).

Computer Services Centre

The Chinese University Computer Services Centre located in the Pi-Ch’iu Building provides services to students, faculty, research and administrative staff. The Centre houses an IBM 4381 mainframe system, an IBM 9370 mainframe system, a HP 9000 mid-range computer, a DEC Micro Vax II and two DEC Micro Vax 2000, and a large pool of PCs in a 3Com LAN.

The Centre comprises four units: the User Support Unit, the Technical Support Unit, the Operations Unit and the Administrative Unit. The services provided by the four units include:

(a) Basic computer time for job processing on the above systems;
(b) Consultation services and technical advice for users with programming problems;

The Chinese University Computer Services Centre is an integral component of the University and Polytechnic Computer Centres (UPCC) System. This system comprises an advanced data communications network linking the computer facilities of the UPCC member institutions. The system is also linked to BITNET, an international academic information-transfer network that links up more than 2900 institutional and departmental computers at over 450 institutions of higher education and research centres, and provides free E-mail service for staff and postgraduates of each member institution. The facilities of this entire system are available to members of the University community upon request. For further details on services available, please contact the Head of User Services of the Computer Services Centre (Ext. 2745).

Information Management Unit

Established in October 1980, the Information Management Unit provides programming support and systems development services for University administration applications. The Unit serves as a management information centre for all the departments within the administration and provides them with systematic and timely information for planning and decision-making. Efforts are being made to further computerize administrative procedures and develop an effective management information system. In centralizing and coordinating the University's data, the Unit pays particular attention to data collection, validation, efficient data processing and the elimination of redundant data and duplication of processing efforts.

The services provided by the Unit include:
(a) Feasibility study for new applications;
(b) Development of computer application systems;
(c) Documentation for developed application systems;
(d) Maintenance and support of production systems;
(e) Setting up data bases for management information; and
(f) Processing ad hoc information requests.

The Information Management Unit has developed application systems under the mainframe computer system - IBM 4381 in the Computer Services Centre, and the departmental computer system - IBM S/38, S/36 and PCs in the Registry and Bursary offices. All these computer systems are connected by an advanced data communications network. Workstations attached to one system can therefore have access to other systems and applications residing in such systems. For further details on services available, please contact the Associate Head of the Information Management Unit.

Student Service and Student Activities

The Office of Student Affairs attends to student welfare and helps students take full advantage of their university education. The activities of the Office are administered through its six sections: the Appointments Service, the Psychological Counselling Unit, the Student Activities Section, the Scholarships and Financial Aid Section, the Student Amenities/Staff/Student Centres Management Section and the Statistics, Research and Publication Unit.

The University Appointments Service is a centre and clearing house for employment information; it is responsible for initiating and developing job opportunities for graduates of the University, organizing career guidance programmes, and helping employers with their recruitment of staff at the graduate level. It also administers guidance services to students who intend to further their studies after graduation.

The Student Activities Section coordinates university-wide student activities; liaises with the student unions and their affiliated societies and provides assistance and advice for various student functions and activities.
The Scholarships and Financial Aid Section administers scholarships, bursaries, emergency bursaries, student work study schemes and loans from private donations and assists in the administration of the Government Financial Aid Scheme.

The Psychological Counselling Unit provides the following services: (a) individual counselling for students having emotional, psychological or adaptational problems; (b) small group training or counselling in areas such as study skills, social skills and personal growth; (c) research on students' psychological needs.

The Student Amenities/Staff/Student Centres Management Section is responsible for managing student amenity facilities in the Benjamin Franklin Centre and the John Fulton Centre. It also coordinates policies on catering services and student hostels.

These offices administer college scholarship and bursary awards and also play a vital role in the enrichment of college life. In close cooperation and collaboration with the college student unions and their affiliated societies, the dean of students offices also oversee the execution of college-wide student activities.

At present, there are five student unions in the University, one each for Chung Chi College, New Asia College, United College, Shaw College and one for the University as a whole. The latter maintains close links with the college unions and coordinates university-wide activities. All year round, a wide range of activities, including academic, athletic, cultural as well as social functions are organized by the student unions. These include the Freshmen Orientation Camp, the Swimming Gala, and the University Track and Field Meet.

Sports Facilities

To promote students’ interest in physical education, the University provides a variety of sport facilities, including two sports fields, three gymnasias, a swimming pool, nine tennis courts, three squash courts, several multi-purpose courts, and a water sports centre.

The sports fields are built on the lowlands facing the sea. The University Sports Field, with covered spectator stands (with a seating capacity of 2,800), provides a 400-metre all weather track, a soccer pitch and a handball court. The Chung Chi Sports Field provides a 400-metre track, a soccer pitch, a basketball court and a volleyball court. Each of the three indoor gymnasias (New Asia, United and University) houses badminton courts, basketball/volleyball courts, dance studios and table-tennis tables. The multi-purpose hall on the Chung Chi campus provides similar facilities at a slightly diminished capacity. On the Shaw College campus, there are three indoor squash courts and a games hall. Adjacent to the Benjamin Franklin Centre, the staff-student amenities building, is an outdoor Olympic-size swimming pool. The Water Sports Centre is located on the Tolo Harbour shoreline and is open to staff and students for sailing and canoeing. A squash centre is also being planned at the University Sports Centre.
The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall

The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall is a well-equipped auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500, designed for holding ceremonies, assemblies, meetings, lectures, exhibitions and examinations, and for staging concerts, plays and film shows. (a) An applicant whose educational standard is considered adequate by the Graduate Division concerned may be admitted as an auditing student.

(b) Normally, application for admission as an auditing student shall be made to the Office of the Graduate School via the Graduate Division concerned before 1st August or 1st December preceding the teaching term for which admission is sought.

(c) An auditing student shall not receive any grade or other academic recognition for the courses taken.

3.0 Fees

3.1 The fees payable by students shall be prescribed by the University Council and may be varied from time to time at the University Council’s absolute discretion.

3.2 All fees shall be payable on dates specified by the University unless prior permission for deferment is obtained from the University Bursar.

3.3 A student who has not paid his fees by the specified date/s shall pay a fine until the fees are paid. He shall have his name removed from the register if he fails to pay up after a lapse of two weeks.

3.4 Caution money shall be payable on first registration as a deposit to make good any outstanding debts to the University incurred in, for example, damages to the University and/or College property. This sum less any deductions made for outstanding debts shall be refunded on discontinuation of studies at the University.

3.5 Apart from caution money, fees once paid shall not be refunded.

4.0 Registration

4.1 Applicants who have been offered admission to an approved course of study or research shall register in person with the Registry/Office concerned on the specified date/s and shall be deemed to have been admitted to the approved courses of study or research on the date/s of their first registration.

4.2 An applicant who for special reasons seeks permission for deferment of registration may apply in writing to the Registrar/Office concerned before the specified date/s for registration.

4.3 An applicant who has been offered admission but is prevented by illness or other sufficient cause from attending a given academic year or teaching term shall apply in writing to the Registrar/Office concerned for postponement of studies for a period not exceeding one year. Such an application shall be made before the specified date/s for registration. In the case of an applicant requesting postponement of studies on medical grounds, his application shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a registered medical practitioner.

4.4 Registration shall include the payment of fees due and the selection of courses. An applicant or a student who fails to pay the fees or select courses after a lapse of two weeks from the relevant specified dates shall be considered as having withdrawn from studies at the University.

4.5 A student registered for a full-time course of study or research shall not take up any full-time employment, paid or unpaid, during the teaching term.

4.6 No student shall be allowed to change his status to that of a candidate for a certificate, diploma, degree or higher degree of the University unless he has already satisfied the University's requirements for admission to an approved course of study or research leading to a certificate, diploma, degree or higher degree of the University and unless the change of status is specially recommended by the Department/Programme/Graduate Division concerned and approved by the Senate.

4.7 A student shall normally retain the name under which he was first registered. Under special circumstances, however, a student may submit to the Registrar/Office concerned an application for a change of his name (including alteration of, addition to or deletion from the name under which he was first registered) together with the following documents:

4.7.1 written consent from the applicant's parent or guardian, if the applicant is under the age of 21;

4.7.2 copy of applicant's identity card or passport, which carries the new name to be registered with the University; and

4.7.3 copy of applicant's statutory declaration and/or birth certificate.

4.8 A student shall inform the Registrar/Office concerned immediately of any change of address or other personal particulars entered in the student's registration form.
5.0 Course Load

5.1 Undergraduate associate students shall normally take a full load of 12-18 units (credits) of courses per term.

5.2 Associate research students under OISP usually establish a consultative relationship with one or more faculty members who will supervise their work on the theses or dissertations. In total, they may take up to 10 units of courses each term (including language courses). In some cases special language courses (reduced units) can be arranged so that a student can take a combination of language and non-language courses. Any postgraduate student who takes a total course load per term of more than 10 units will be considered an associate student for the purposes of fees and academic requirements.

5.3 Associate students of postgraduate programmes shall take the courses as specified by the Graduate Division concerned.

5.4 Auditing students shall take the courses as approved by the Department/Programme/Division concerned.

6.0 Selection of Courses (not applicable to auditing students)

6.1 After consulting the teacher designated by the Department/Programme/Division concerned or by OISP and ensuring that there will be no timetable clashes among the courses to be selected, a student shall fill in the prescribed form for course selection, obtain the necessary signatures of approval and submit the completed form to the Registrar/Office concerned on the specified date/s.

6.2 A student shall take the courses in the order specified in the programme of studies unless written application to do otherwise is approved by the Department/Programme/Division concerned and a record of such approval is submitted to the Registrar/Office concerned. A student shall not take any course for which there is a prerequisite unless the prerequisite has been met by him or is waived by the Department/Programme/Division concerned.

7.0 Course Withdrawal and Additional Course Selection (not applicable to auditing students)

7.1 A student who wishes to apply for course withdrawal or select additional course/s shall complete a prescribed form, obtain the approval of the teacher designated by the Department/Programme/Division concerned and submit the completed form to the Registrar/Office concerned within two weeks after the beginning of the teaching term.

7.2 Only under very special circumstances may a student apply, in writing to the head of Department/Programme/Division concerned or the Director of OISP for permission to withdraw from a course or enrol in a new course after the second week of the teaching term.

7.3 A student who withdraws from a course without going through the prescribed procedure shall be given grade 'F' for the course.

8.0 Class Attendance and Leave of Absence (not applicable to auditing students)

8.1 A student shall attend classes, tests and examinations as well as complete the work assigned by the teachers of the courses in which he has enrolled.

8.2 A student who cannot attend classes because of illness or other reasons shall report to the Registrar/Office concerned the exact date/s of his absence at the earliest opportunity.

8.3 In case of illness necessitating absence exceeding three days, a student shall inform the Registrar/Office concerned at the earliest opportunity and upon his recovery, submit a certificate signed by a registered medical practitioner.

8.4 A student who wishes to obtain a leave of absence for more than three days for non-medical reasons shall obtain prior permission from the Registrar/Office concerned through written application. Such an application shall state the reasons for which leave of absence is sought and shall be accompanied by the endorsement of the Dean of the Faculty/School concerned.

8.5 In case of illness or other serious emergencies, a student who has been granted leave of absence may apply to the Department/Programme concerned for permission to carry out make-up work for assignments and tests. Such an application shall be subject to approval of the Department/Programme in consultation with the teacher concerned.

8.6 A student whose accumulated periods of absence exceed one-third of a term shall not continue his studies for the term. However, under unusual circumstances, special cases may be considered on individual merit.

8.7 Notwithstanding Regulation 8.6, a student who, without permission to take leave, is absent from a course for more than one-third of its scheduled teaching periods shall be given grade 'F' for the course.

8.8 Notwithstanding Regulation 8.6, a student who, without permission to take leave, is absent for a continuous period exceeding one month shall be considered as having withdrawn from his studies at the University.

8.9 A student shall be required to take leave of absence if the condition of his health is considered by the Director of the University Health Service as constituting a definite hazard to the University community. Such a student shall seek necessary treatment as appropriate. At the end of the prescribed period of absence, the student shall obtain a certificate of good health signed by the Director of the University Health Service before he can apply for resumption of studies.

9.0 Course Assessment and Grade (not applicable to auditing students)

9.1 A student shall be assessed for every course he has registered for on the basis of his performance in the course examination or its equivalent. Course examination may be substituted or supplemented by any one or any combination of the following: class work, written work, laboratory work, field work, research papers, tests and any other method of academic assessment.

9.2 Course grades and their converted points used in assessment shall be as follows:

The grade point average of a student’s course work for a teaching term shall be computed by dividing the total weighted converted points for all courses taken by the total number of units attempted, where the weighted converted points are converted points multiplied by the number of units of the courses concerned.

9.3 A student who has gained a 'Pass' or above in a course shall earn the units of that course.

10.0 Examinations (not applicable to auditing students)

10.1 Course Examinations
A student shall take course examinations, if prescribed by the teacher/s concerned, in the form of written, practical or oral assessment, or any combination thereof.

10.2 Absence from Course Examinations
10.2.1 A student who for medical or other compelling reasons is unable to sit for any course examination/s, shall apply in writing with documentary evidence at the earliest possible moment but not later than ten days after the examination concerned to the Registrar/Office concerned for permission for absence. In the case of illness/injury, the application shall be accompanied by a certificate signed or countersigned by the Director of the University Health Service.
10.2.2 (a) A student who is absent from course examination/s and whose application for absence is successful may be otherwise assessed at the discretion of the Department/Programme/Division concerned.
(b) A student who is absent from any examination without permission shall be given grade 'F' for that examination.

11.0 Transcripts (not applicable to auditing students)

A student may apply for an official transcript giving details of all courses taken and grades obtained. The official transcript shall be sent directly to an institution or a prospective employer, upon payment of the prescribed fees and postage. The official transcript shall not be issued to a student or any private individual.

12.0 Disciplinary Action

12.1 A student who violates any rule or regulation and/or commits any misconduct such as:
(a) defamation of or assault on or battery against the person of any member of the University;
(b) wilful damage to or defacement of any property of the University;
(c) theft, fraud, misapplication of University funds or property of any kind;
(d) plagiarism in written assignments or cheating in tests or examinations;

(f) falsification or serious misuse of University documents or records;
(g) refusal to comply with any regulations or orders by authorized persons and bodies prohibiting any conduct which disrupts teaching, study, research or administration of the University;
(h) any conduct which is detrimental to the reputation and well-being of the University;
(i) an offence of an immoral, scandalous or disgraceful nature of which the student has been convicted in any court of law; or
(j) misrepresentations or false statements made in any application or document submitted to the University; shall be disciplined by the University Senate, Graduate Council, Senate Committee on Part-time Degree Programmes, the Board of Faculty and/or College Assembly of Fellows concerned in accordance with the nature and gravity of the offence.

Such disciplinary action may take the form of any of the following penalties which may be entered into the transcript of his student's academic record:
(i) reprimand;
(ii) suspension from part or all of the rights, privileges and/or the use of part of all of the facilities of the University for a specified period of time;
(iii) demerit (a total of three demerits may result in termination of studies at the University);
(iv) suspension from the University for specified period of time; or
(v) termination of studies at the University.

Penalties (iv) to (v) may be imposed only with the approval of the Senate.

12.2 A student, on being informed of a decision to take disciplinary action against him, may within seven days write to request the Senate to review the decision.
REGULATIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY SYSTEM

The University Library System consists of the University Library in the central area of the Campus and the branch libraries at the Colleges and at the teaching hospital. The University Library houses an extensive research collection as well as many undergraduate materials and the pre-clinical portion of the medical collection. The branch libraries contain reference and curricular materials, some special subject collections according to the needs of the Colleges, and books and periodicals to support general education. These regulations apply to all the libraries. The Senate Committee on the University Library System reserves the right to revise these regulations at any time.

The hours of opening are posted at the entrance of each Library and are adapted to the semester schedules.

Library Privileges

Library privileges are personal and individual. They may not be transferred to, or used on behalf of, other persons.

Privileges of the Library fall into three categories:

1. Borrowing

   Borrowing privileges are extended to all registered students and academic/administrative staff of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

   Others may apply to the University Librarian for special Borrowers' Cards. Clerical staff, technicians and spouses of the faculty and administrative staff of the University may also apply to the University Librarian for borrowing privileges.

2. Reading

   The privilege of reading is extended to visiting scholars, to researchers and to graduates of this University upon application to the University Librarian. Reserve books, however, are for the exclusive use of students and faculty of the University.

3. Privileges of special facilities

   Carrels: not reserved for any category of Library user, carrels are available for the convenience of all.

   Study Rooms in the University Library: On application to the University Librarian, Assistant Lecturers (and above) and PhD students may reserve a room for three months, renewable if its use justifies it. Others who are engaged in research may also apply. These study rooms may not be transferred.

Seminar Rooms in the University Library: Upon application to the University Librarian, a Seminar Room may be reserved for a lecture or for a series of lectures or meetings which would benefit from the use of library materials and resources.

Photocopying: Coin-operated photocopying machines are available in all libraries. A reader may obtain at cost photocopies of materials, provided there is no infringement of copyright.

Interlibrary loans: Our Interlibrary Loan Librarian will attempt to obtain from other libraries books and other materials which are not owned by the University Library System and which cannot be readily purchased.

Admission to the Libraries

Every user of the Libraries must show a University Identification Card, or a Reader's Card at the Entrance. Applications for Borrowers' Cards and Readers' Card are made at the Circulation Desk.

Loss of a Borrower's Card must be reported to the Library immediately; a duplicate card may be issued two weeks after the loss is reported. Only one duplicate will be granted within a semester. Change of address should also be reported to the Library as soon as possible.

Borrowing Regulations

Borrower Categories

Users of the University Library System to whom the borrowing privilege is accorded are grouped into the following categories:

1. Registered students of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.
   (a) Undergraduate students.
   (b) Graduate students; tutors/demonstrators who are registered students working part-time.
2. All teaching staff, including teaching assistants, full-time tutors/demonstrators.
3. Administrative staff; administrative assistants and above.
4. CUHK graduates: Upon payment of a fee of $100 per annum.
5. Special categories:
   (a) Clerical staff and technicians, with the recommendation of their division heads.
   (b) Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff.
   (c) Others, upon special application.

Borrowing Limits

Individuals may borrow within the limits of the following schedule:
Category 1(a). Undergraduate students: 10 volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 1(b). Graduate students, graduate assistants, part-time tutors/demonstrators: 15 volumes (books) for one month.

Categories 2-3. Teaching and administrative staff: 30 volumes may be borrowed for up to 6 months, although they should be returned as soon as they are no longer required. Bound periodicals and non-current single issues may be borrowed for periods of three days. Current periodicals may be borrowed for overnight use only.

Category 4. CUHK graduates: 5 volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(a). Clerical staff and technicians: 5 volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(b). Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff: 3 volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(c). Others, according to special arrangement.

All books taken from the bookstacks must be charged at the Circulation Desk. Reserve Books must be charged at the Reserve Book Desk: there are varying borrowing limits on these books.

Books obtained on interlibrary loan are borrowed through the courtesy of other libraries and their restrictions as to loan period and renewal are therefore observed. Usually the loan period is two weeks and the books may have to be used only in the Library. Photocopies of periodical articles may be obtained at cost.

Reference books, rare books, microforms and other audio-visual materials do not circulate.

Renewals

Borrowers may renew loans for two additional periods. To avoid fines renewals must be made on or before the last date of the initial loan period. Borrowers, with the exception of Categories 2-3, must renew their loans at the Circulation Desk of the issuing Library.

Faculty members and administrative staff who require a book for more than one semester may renew it in writing. After two renewals, however, the book must be returned to the library shelves so that it may be available to others.

No book may be renewed if it is required by another person.

Recall

Circulating books and journals to be put on reserve for courses are subject to recall at any time. All other loans are subject to recall after two weeks (the initial loan period). In the recall notices, a new due date will be given, i.e. five working days after the date of the notice.

Borrowers should respond to a recall promptly. Late returns will be fined [see Fines (b)].

Overdue

The last date of the loan period is stamped on the date due slip at the back of each book loaned. When the loan period expires, an overdue notice is sent to all categories of borrowers. However, the responsibility of returning books on time lies with the borrower.

Fines
(a) Overdue — All categories of borrowers who keep books/items beyond the loan period are subject to a fine of HK$1.00 per item per day up to a maximum of HK$50. A fine of HK$1.00 per hour will be charged for each reserve book overdue.
(b) Recall — The fines for not responding to recalls for all categories of borrowers are as follows:
   — after 5 working days of 1st recall: HK$1.00 per item per day
   — after 5 working days of 2nd recall: HK$5.00 per item per day
   — after 5 working days of 3rd recall: the Library could take any appropriate action to retrieve the items

Losses
Borrowers who fail to return books or who return books damaged beyond repair will be charged the cost of replacement (including binding) in addition to the processing cost of HK$20.00 and any accumulated fine. Damaged books and marked pages should be reported to the Librarian as soon as noticed.

Category 2 and 3 borrowers who fail to return or renew books after 2 terms and 3 recalls will be subject to the above charges, which will be sent to the Bursar's Office for collection.

Control Counter
Library users may bring in their bags and briefcases into the libraries whereas umbrellas should be deposited on entering the libraries. No food or beverages may be taken into the Library. On leaving the Library, all books, etc., must be inspected.

Loss of Privileges
Infractions, such as smoking, shouting and other disturbances, are forbidden in all parts of the Libraries. The Librarian or an appointed deputy may expel from the library building for the remainder of the day any person who is acting to annoy others or who is damaging books or other property. Payment must be made to cover all damages.

A gross breach of the Regulations may subject the borrower to a loss of library privileges.
(a) Overdue books — After normal recall procedures, a written warning will be sent. If this is ignored, borrowing privileges will be withheld in all the Libraries until the return of the book(s) and the payment of accrued fines.
(b) Payment of charges — If a person refuses to pay any outstanding charges (fines, replacement costs of damaged book or repair of damaged property), all the Libraries will withhold his borrowing privileges until the account is cleared.

Repeated offenses may lead to a total loss of the privilege of using the Libraries.
