VISITATION OF THE UNIVERSITY GRANTS COMMITTEE

The Hong Kong Government has appointed the University Grants Committee with the following members:

Prof. M.J. Wise — The London School of Economics and Political Science, University of London.

Mr. Richard Griffiths, Deputy Assistant of the University Grants Committee in Britain, came to Hong Kong in January to help the local Committee to start operations.

The two local universities will present their budgets for 1967-70 to the Grants Committee, which will examine them after visits to the universities and then advise the Government on the allocation of funds for the universities for the triennium.

The overseas academic members of the Committee are expected to make their first visit to Hong Kong in late March. The proposed programme of this University for the Committee's visitation is as follows:

March 26 (Saturday) Visit the new site of the University at Ma Liu Shui.

March 31 (Thursday) Call on the Vice-Chancellor. Visit Chung Chi College and New Asia College and meet the senior administrative staff, representatives of the College Boards of Governors, the staff, and the students.

April 1 (Friday) Visit United College and meet the senior administrative staff, representatives of the Board of Trustees, the staff, and the students.

Meet the University Deans of the Faculties, Professors, Directors of Boards of Studies, representatives of professional schools and departments, and the Department of Extra-Mural Studies.

Attend the University Council meeting.

Portrait of the University's First Chancellor

Sir Tang Shiu-kinn has donated to this University, a portrait of Sir Robert Black, the first Chancellor and one of the University's first honorary graduates. The portrait, painted by Mr. J.M. Teesdale of England, will be hung in the future University Administrative Building in Wai Liu Shui.

The Asia Foundation

The Asia Foundation has offered a grant of HK$26,160 to the University Research Institute of Social Studies and the Humanities for a further study of the community of Taipo Tau Village by the Department of Sociology and Social Work Department of Chung Chi College.

The Rockefeller Foundation

The Rockefeller Foundation has donated US$15,000 towards the cost of a study of the population of Hong Kong by Professor Chen Ching-siang, Director of University Studies in Geography.

RECENT DEVELOPMENT IN IMPLEMENTATION OF NEW TEACHING METHODS

In March 1964, a Committee on Teaching Methods was set up in the University to propose a new teaching programme. The Committee submitted its report in September that year. Two experts, Professor A.G. Lehmann of the University of Reading and Dr. J.V. Loach of the University of Leeds, were later invited to visit the University and make recommendations for improving the University's teaching methods. Their report was made available to the University in March 1965. Both these reports, together with a summary, were published in a special supplement to this Bulletin in June 1965.

Both reports serve as a basis for later discussion and planning. In May, 1965, the Vice-Chancellor made a statement to the University Senate, in which he expressed satisfaction over certain measures which he considered the University should take. The Committee's report was welcomed by the Senate, and further discussion centered around the question of intermediate examination, which undergraduates are required to take after completing their second-year course. The Senate agreed that there should be a test of the candidates' general education, their ability to benefit from their courses of studies in the University and their working knowledge of some of the basic principles. The examination, the first of which would be held in 1967, should be composed of two parts; Part I consisting of one paper on English Language and Chinese Language and English Composition and translation of passages written in the classical style in to the modern style, with special reference to the Book of Mencius. Both tests form part of the Intermediate Examination, but may be taken by one or more students who have completed their first year in the University if the Language Departments of the Colleges so recommend.

Degree Examination

The Senate decided that as from May, 1966, the number of papers for the Degree Examination should be reduced to less than seven, five on the major subject and two on the minor, and not more than nine. A thesis may count as one paper, but the Board of Studies would be empowered to accept a thesis in place of more than one paper. In the third year, the Senate agreed that the number of examinations, certain course examinations should be eliminated.

The Senate continued to discuss in its meeting in December, 1965 some of the points raised in the Vice-Chancellor's paper, and reached a number of decisions.

English Language test

It was decided that the aim of the test should be to find out the candidate's ability to read and to express his ideas in English, with greater emphasis on comprehension, and that the test should gradually aim at the "Ordinary Level" standard of the General Certificate of Education Examination.

Chinese Language test

The Senate agreed that this should be a test of the candidate's ability to write and to read with understanding, with the emphasis laid on writing. The paper should consist of tests on composition and translation of passages written in the classical style in to the modern style, with special reference to the Book of Mencius.

Both tests form part of the Intermediate Examination, but may be taken by one or more students who have completed their first year in the University if the Language Departments of the Colleges so recommend.

A thesis may count as one paper, but the Board of Studies would be empowered to accept a thesis in place of more than one paper. In the third year, the Senate agreed that the number of examinations, certain course examinations should be eliminated.

Meanwhile, the Vice-Chancellor informed the Senate that small-group teaching was conducted in all the Colleges successfully. In March this year, the Vice-Chancellor prepared a paper entitled "Teaching Method: Further Steps in Implementation of the New teaching Methods."

The teaching load of the academic staff must be reasonably reduced so as to give them time to do research. To achieve these aims, the Vice-Chancellor proposed to reduce the number of course examinations, to reduce the number of courses, to streamline the course contents and to increase inter-collegiate courses.

Since the inauguration of the Department in April 1965, over 110 courses have been offered, covering a wide variety of subjects under the following categories: East-West Understanding, Social Work, Chinese Studies, Sociology and Social Work, History and Geography, Psychology and Philosophy, Economics, Political Science, Commerce and Law, Journalism, Art and Music, Science, Medicine and Mathematics, Education, English.

Enrolment

The figure of enrolment reached 4,600 up to the end of February, 1966.

Categories of Students

An analysis of the student body shows that over 26% are university graduates; 36% have either matriculated or passed the School Leaving Certificate Examination. Other than not having indicated their educational background.

Staff on Tour

Mr. T.C. Lai, Deputy Director, attended the Annual Conference of Directors of Extension & Summer School at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada last June. He read a paper on Hong Kong's Future as a Marketing center at the conference. In the same month, he attended the First World Conference on University Adult Education in Copenhagen. He was elected to the Executive Board for a term of 5 years.

Both reports serve as a basis for later discussion and planning. In May, 1965, the Vice-Chancellor made a statement to the University Senate, in which he expressed satisfaction over certain measures which the University's three Foundation Colleges had mapped out to implement the proposals made in the two reports. The Senate then resolved to endorse the two reports, give full support to the efforts made by the Colleges and ask the Boards of Studies to further study the Reports and make recommendations. The text of the Vice-Chancellor's statement also appeared in the same supplement to this Bulletin.

In May 1965, good progress has been made in all the Colleges in the implementation of the new teaching methods. News decisions have been made and carried out, sometimes amidst difficulties. In October, 1965, the Senate discussed on a paper produced by the Vice-Chancellor, which was given the title "Crucial Questions on Teaching Method". The discussion centered around the question of the Intermediate Examination, which undergraduates are required to take after completing their second-year course. The Senate agreed that there should be a test of the candidates' general education, their ability to benefit from their courses of studies in the University and their working knowledge of some of the basic principles. The exami- nation, the first of which would be held in 1967, should be composed of two parts, with Part I consisting of one paper on English Language and Chinese, and Part II consisting of one paper on the major subject, another on the minor subject and still another on a field of studies elected by the student. The student must pass both parts before he could be admitted to the third year. Meanwhile, in order to reduce the number of examinations, certain course examinations were to be eliminated.

The Senate continued to discuss in its meeting in December, 1965 some of the points raised in the Vice-Chancellor's paper, and reached a number of decisions.

English Language test It was decided that the aim of the test should be to find out the candidate's ability to read and to express his ideas in English, with greater emphasis on comprehension, and that the test should gradually aim at the "Ordinary Level" standard of the General Certificate of Education Examination.

A thesis may count as one paper, but the Boards of Studies would be empowered to accept a thesis in place of one of the University's research facilities increase in the future.

Meanwhile, the Vice-Chancellor informed the Senate that small-group teaching was conducted in all the Colleges successfully.

In March this year, the Vice-Chancellor prepared a paper entitled "Teaching Method: Further Steps in Implementation". It recommended that the basis of undergraduate education should be broadened; that the standard for the First Degree should be that for the General Degree; that the teaching load of the academic staff must be reasonably reduced so as to give them time to do research. To achieve these aims, the Vice-Chancellor proposed to reduce the number of course examinations, to reduce the number of courses, to streamline the course contents and to increase inter-collegiate courses.

The Vice-Chancellor had prepared this paper in consultation with the three College Presidents and the three University Deans. It was adopted by the Senate as a programme for action.

The Senate also resolved that the Boards of Studies are requested to work out new core programmes for major as well as minor subjects during the next few months, to substantiate the course contents and to increase inter-collegiate teaching. The Boards will report to the Vice-Chancellor before the middle of August this year on their tasks, so that the whole programme of new teaching methods can be put into effect in September.

Documents on new teaching methods since May last year will be published in a special supplement to the next issue of this Bulletin.

ADMISSION TO THE DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM

The University announced on March 21, 1966 that the Department of Journalism of New Asia College was prepared to accept applications for admission. Application forms are available at all College Registrars.

All students of the three Foundation Colleges who are now in their second year can apply.

There will be a qualifying examination in Chinese composition, English composition, History, Economics, and Sociology. The applicants will be informed of the date of examination in due course. Successful candidates will be interviewed by a selection panel.

The University has received generous donations from local newspapers to establish several scholarships for students of Journalism.

Applications for such scholarships must be submitted to College Registrars not later than Tuesday, April 26.

PROGRESS REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EXTRA-MURAL STUDIES

Since the inauguration of the Department in April 1965, over 110 courses have been offered, covering a wide variety of subjects under the following categories: East-West Understanding, Social Questions, Chinese Studies, Sociology and Social Work, History, Geography, Psychology and Philosophy, Economics, Political Science, Commerce and Law, Journalism, Art and Music, Science, Medicine and Mathematics, Education, English.

ASSOCIATE LECTURERS

Rev. Isaac H.S. Mah, Chung Chi, Religious Knowledge and Philosophy.

Rev. Mah was born in Toishan, Kwangtung. He was educated in Canton, and took his degrees (B.A., 1934, M.Ed., 1937) in National Sun Yat-sen University.

Between 1937 and 1947, he taught at Lingnan University, National Sun Yat-sen University, Kwangtung Provincial College of Arts and Sciences, Kwangtung Kuo-min University, Canton University, Graves Theological Seminary, Yuen To Bible College, and Concordia Bible College, as lecturer, associate professor, or professor. From 1947 to 1949, Rev. Mah was Professor and Dean of Faculty at the Southern Commercial College. Mr. Mah has also been principal of a middle school and a senior inspector at a Provincial Department of Education.

After having served his church for forty years in various capacities, the Rev. Mah was ordained minister on October 31, 1965 by the Church of Christ in China. Rev. Mah joined Chung Chi College in 1965 as a part-time teacher in its extra-mural programmes and since 1957 has been a full-time teacher in the Department of Religious Knowledge and Philosophy. From 1961 to 1962, he was at the Princeton Theological Seminary, and Princeton University for further study on a World University Service Scholarship. For his publications, see the Chinese version of the Bulletin.

Mr. Robert F. Steuding, United, English.

Mr. Robert F. Steuding joined the Department of English Language and Literature of United College as Assistant Lecturer in the first term of 1965. He gives lectures on English and Classical Literature.

A native of New York State, Mr. Steuding was born in the British colonial village of Hurley. Travelling throughout this area which nests among the Catskill Mountains of Washington Irving's 'Rip Van Winkle', Mr. Steuding spent his early years as a professional musician while studying for the Bachelor of Arts Degree at St. Bernardine of Siena College. Holding two scholarships and being a member of two honour societies, Mr. Steuding graduated with因为他's studies. After graduating, he married and began his movement across the United States, finally settling in Los Angeles, California. Two years of graduate study and teaching at the University of Southern California followed, during which Mr. Steuding devoted himself mainly to the study of English composition and American literature, especially Ernest Hemingway, preparing his Master's thesis on this modern American writer.

Since then, Mr. Steuding has been working on his Doctorate and has published various articles and poems. He also plans to publish a book on Hemingway in the next few years. Mr. Steuding is a member of the Modern Language Association, the National Council of Teachers of English, the American Association of University Professors, and the Philological Association of the Pacific Coast.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF

Dr. King Hung Hwang, Assistant Registrar, Central Office.

Dr. King Hung Hwang, whose training has been that of a lawyer and his experience covers a wide field of international public relations, succeeds Mr. Steve S.C. Huang as Assistant Registrar of the University. Dr. Hwang is of Cantonese extraction but was born in Malaya in 1919. 新聞學系招生
新敎學方法之實施及其最近之發展

一九六四年三月在本大學成立之敎學方法委員會曾於於是年九月提出有關新敎學方法之建議報告書。前由本校邀請來港訪問之英國雷丁大學賴曼敎授及立次大學校務主任羅池博士,對本大學之敎學方法,亦曾於一九六五年三月草就報告書,提供若干改進之意見。上記兩項報告書及其摘要,俱載於一九六五年六月份本校刊之特刊。

本校對敎學方法之改進,曾根據上述兩項報告書多次硏究討論。一九六五年五月,本校校長向大學教務會提出報告,對三間成員學院爲實施該兩項報告書中之建議所擬定之方案,表示滿意。敎務會愛決議接受該兩項報告書之建議,支持各學院之努力,並指示各系務會將報告書詳細硏讨,提出實施建議。校長對教務會報告之原文,亦曾刊載於本刊同期之特刊中。

新敎學方法自一九六五年五月在各學院實施以來,頗收成效。大學敎務會曾於一九六五年十月討論校長提出之文件,其標題爲「敎學方法之重要問題」。當時討論之焦點在中期考試一問題,此項考試,凡大學肄業生於修完第二年之課程後皆應參加。敎務會以爲是項考試,其目的應在測驗考生之一般敎育與對大學...。該項考試將於一九六七年開始,共分兩段:第一段之科目,計以中文及英文各佔一科,第二段則有主修科及副修科各一科,並另有選考科一科。凡此兩段之考試,考生均須合格,始得升級。且爲減少考試次數起見,若干課程之考試將予免除。

敎務會於一九六五年十二月舉行之會議中,就校長所提出文件中之若干要旨,續予討論,並達成數項決議如下︰

英文測驗
敎務會經決定,此項測驗之目的,應在明瞭考生對英文之閱讀能力及以英文表達意見之能力,其中尤以閱讀能力較爲重要。此項測驗應逐漸符合普通敎育文憑考試之「普通程度」。

中文測驗
敎務會同意應測驗考生中文寫作及閱讀之能力,尤應着重寫作能力。測驗應包括作文及文言譯白話,尤須着重孟子一書。此兩項測驗爲中期考試之一部分,但各學生修完其第一年之課程後,亦得經其所屬學院有關語文系之推薦,參加是項測驗。

學位考試
教務會又决定一九六八年五月以後所有學位考試之科目不超過九科,但亦不得少於七科,其中五科爲主科,二科爲副科。學生撰寫論文一篇可作一科算。將來本大學各種硏究設備更臻充實之時,各系務會可規定以論文一篇代替一科以上。

大學校長並在敎務會稱,各學院之小組教學進行甚爲圓滿。本年三月,大學校長復向敎務會提出一項文件,其標題為「敎授方法更進一步之實施」,主張︰(一)大學肄業生之教育基礎應力求廣泛,(二)學位之標準應爲一普通學位之標準,(三)敎師之敎學負擔應予合理減輕,俾其有時問從事硏究工作。爲達成此三目標起見,大學校長建議減少課程考試之次數與課程之數目,刷新課程內容,並增加三學院學生共修之科目。

大學校長於提出此項文件前,曾與三學院院長暨三位大學學科主任會商。敎務會經已將其中之建議採納,付諸實施。敎務會同時議決要求各系務會於今後數月中草訂各系主科及副科之敎學綱要,充實各科內容及增加三學院學生共修之科目。各系務會將於本年八月初以前向校長提出報告,使整個新敎學計劃能於九月間施行。去年五月以來本校有關新敎學方法之各項文件將於下期本刊之特刊中發表。

新聞學系招生
本大學於本年三月二十一日宣佈新亞書院新聞學系開始招生,各成員學院註冊處均有報名表格備索。三間成員學院之二年級學生均可報名申請。申請各生須參加下列各科之考試:中文作文、英文作文、常識以及歷史、經濟、社會學三科中之任何一科。及格後由遴選小組面試。本大學業蒙本港報界慨捐獎學金數名,以獎助新聞學系學生。申請是項獎學金者應於本年四月二十六日前將申請書送交新亞書院註冊處。
