The Conference decided to hold an Asian Workshop on Higher Education on 18th—30th August, 1969, at The Chinese University of Hong Kong, inviting over 20 universities and colleges to attend. This will be the first workshop of its kind to be held in South-East Asia. Dr. Li was elected Director of the Workshop. He will be assisted by Professor S.S. Hsueh as Associate Director and Mrs. Lilian Chang Lee as Executive Assistant.

INAUGURAL CONFERENCE OF CHINESE LANGUAGE PRESS INSTITUTE

On 18th November, Dr. Li delivered the opening address at the Inaugural Conference of the Chinese Language Press Institute held in Hong Kong. The text of his speech is as follows:

It is a great honour to me to be invited to participate in the inaugural conference of the Chinese Language Press Institute.

Chinese-language newspapers have had a long history, making significant contributions in many parts of the world. Because of their wide geographical dispersion there has been very little opportunity for people working in Chinese-language newspapers to get together to exchange their experiences and to seek technical co-operation among themselves. I trust that the establishment of the Chinese Language Press Institute is precisely to meet this need, thus marking the beginning of close co-operation among Chinese-language newspapers in the world and introducing a new page in the history of Chinese-language press.

Nowadays newspapers have become a daily necessity to the people. The public expectations of newspapers are more and more exacting; the public expect to find in the newspapers the most fresh, detailed and accurate reporting. In order to meet this demand, newspapers have constantly striven for improvement. I recall that two years ago a meeting here in Hong Kong of Southeast Asian Chinese Language Newspapers went into many practical problems, such as the proper training of press personnel, the mechanization of type-setting, the development of Chinese presses as modern business enterprises, the promotion of geographical co-operation, etc. The accounts of these deliberations given in the Chinese language newspapers in Hong Kong at that time revealed that many creative ideas emerged from that meeting.

Chinese language is unquestionably one of the most beautiful languages in the world. But today when the public demands prompt service, mechanization of type-setting for Chinese newspapers as well as modernization of management is urgently crying for a solution. Indeed, mechanization and modernization may well be the crux of all problems for the Chinese language press everywhere. I hope that the Institute will soon play the lead in finding the proper solutions for them.

With the common objective of serving the public and promoting public welfare, both the Chinese language press and The Chinese University of Hong Kong have maintained very close relations with each other. Three years ago, having obtained the support of Chinese and English newspapers in Hong Kong, the University set up a Department of Journalism at New Asia College and a Mass Communications Research Centre. In order to foster a close working relationship with the mass media, an Advisory Board consisting of all the major publishers and editors in Hong Kong has also been instituted, which has proved itself very useful in helping the University train a group of high-quality, idealistic and capable workers for the mass media. Up to now two classes of students have graduated from the Department of Journalism, and most of them are working for newspapers and other mass media in Hong Kong. There will doubtless be more and more Chinese University graduates in the future who will dedicate themselves to journalism. I very much hope, too, that the Mass Communications Research Centre will be able to work with the Chinese Language Press Institute in the common endeavour of promoting modernization of the Chinese press around the world.

It may also be pointed out that The Chinese University is dedicated not only to transmitting and increasing knowledge, but to enriching the Chinese culture as well. For this latter objective the relationship between The Chinese University and the Chinese language presses of the world becomes particularly close. We all know that the Chinese culture is among the oldest in the world, with a continuous, uninterrupted history up to the present, and stands as one of the most important links in the chain of world civilizations. That explains why most of the overseas Chinese treasure their heritage and are anxious to read Chinese-language publications. It is also mainly because of the importance of the Chinese people and their culture that people in America, Europe and many other parts of the world are taking a greater and greater interest in learning Chinese. Under these circumstances the Chinese press should become an extremely important vehicle to help them learn Chinese and to introduce to them many features of the Chinese culture. I hope that The Chinese University and the Chinese language press everywhere will cooperate closely to disseminate the Chinese cultural heritage to many parts of the world.

The Chinese Language Press Institute would not have been formed and you would not have taken such arduous journeys to come to this meeting if all of you did not have the keen sense of responsibility in finding solutions for many urgent problems the Chinese language press is facing in different parts of the world. Your role is historic. Let me wish you and the Institute all the success.

主席、各位代表先生、各位来宾：

今天是世界中文报业协会的成立典礼，我能有机会参加，感到万分荣幸和高兴！中文报纸在世界上有其悠久的历史和辉煌的贡献。时至今日，由于各自地域的广泛，世界各地中文同业很少有机会同聚一堂，互相交换意见或寻求技术上的合作。我相信世界中文报业协会的成立，是针对这样的需要，也是令世界中文报业界团结的起点，而为中文报业史写下光荣的一页。

随着时代的演进，新闻事业的进展也是一日千里。现代报纸已发展到与人们生活上不可一日或缺的精神食粮。而人们对报纸的要求也愈来愈高，大家都希望从报纸上看到最新鲜、最详尽和最确实的报导。报纸为了满足读者的需求，达到服务社会的目的，也是时时刻刻在研究进步中。记得两年前，东南亚报界曾讨论过在报纸上增加副刊，推行“综合服务”之下的报导，而报纸的编排，也须求改进的必要。所以如胶柱，行版文字的改进，字体的统一，也是中文报事业的问题和症结所在。我们希望贵协会能够积极推动改善，使中文报能发展到尽善尽美的境界。

同时，中文大学的设立，是以研究学术、作育人材，发扬中国文化为职志。就这一点说，中文大学与世界中文报界的关係更是密切。我们知道，中国文化源远流长，深沉博厚，是世界文化上最重要的一环。因此，中国僑民，虽然身居异国，仍然念念中国文化的故里，即是欧美各国，也是中文报刊，是中文报界的重要职责。因此，我希望中文大学与中国报界应该更密切的联系。同时，也希望中文大学与世界中文报界的关係，能更进一步，让中文报业界的朋友们，也能够在中国的文化研究中，有所贡献。

各位代表先生不辞劳瘁，不辞劳瘁，不远千里赶来参加此一盛会，都是凭著大家对中文报界一股热爱的热忱，希望贵协会能够积极推动改进，使中文报能发展到尽善尽美的境界。
