NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN CHINESE STUDIES

Institute of Chinese Studies Advisory Board

The Institute of Chinese Studies was set up in 1967 with the aim of promoting scholarship in Chinese studies, and encouraging the exchange of knowledge and ideas in the study of Chinese culture. Upon completion of its building in December 1970, the various research centres and the Art Gallery occupied the Institute. The Institute has a Research Board composed of the heads of its seven research divisions, and publications are handled by an Editorial Board, which has so far published four volumes of the Journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies and a number of monographs and books. The Art Gallery has held six exhibitions on Chinese culture since September 1971.

In view of the momentous task of the Institute and the expectations from all quarters, the Vice-Chancellor established in March 1973 an Advisory Board to suggest development plans in accordance with the needs of the University and the community at large, and advise on their implementation and make recommendations thereon to the Vice-Chancellor.

Members of the Advisory Board are:

Dr. the Hon. Sir Kenneth Ping-fan Fung (Chairman)
Bishop Francis C.P. Hsu
Miss Aw Sian
Dr. the Hon. Q.W. Lee
Secrroy: Mr. Stephen C. Soong (Special Assistant to the Vice-Chancellor)

"Wing Lung Bank Fund for Promotion of Chinese Culture"

A "Wing Lung Bank Fund for Promotion of Chinese Culture" has been established with a donation of HK$1 million from Mr. Yee-sung Wu, Chairman of Wing Lung Bank Ltd., and Mr. Jieh-Yee Wu, Managing Director and General Manager of the Bank. The proceeds from the Fund will be used to finance research projects and publications of the Institute of Chinese Studies.

The Wu brothers made the donation to commemorate the Bank's 40th anniversary and the inauguration of the Bank's new building.
Donation from Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

In response to a request from the Vice-Chancellor, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation has provided a grant of US$300,000 to the University in support of its Chinese Studies Programme. The grant is payable over a three-year period at the rate of US$100,000 a year. Specific allocation of the funds will be left to the Vice-Chancellor with the proviso that they be used within the next three academic years to advance the general aim expressed in his proposal.

The grant will assist the University over the next three years to integrate an interdisciplinary approach to the various aspects of Chinese Studies, The Institute of Chinese Studies is expected to contribute its part to the overall development.

Exhibition of Chinese Carved Jades

The Art Gallery of the Institute of Chinese Studies held an Exhibition of Chinese Carved Jades from 3rd to 25th March, to coincide with the Hong Kong Arts Festival held from 26th February to 24th March.

The Exhibition, largest of its kind ever held in Hong Kong, featured over two hundred items covering a wide range of types and periods. The exhibits can be classified into: (1) archaic jades of Han Dynasty and earlier times — “ritual” jades and personal ornaments; (2) carvings of animals and birds from T'ang Dynasty to Ch'ing Dynasty; (3) green and white jade carvings of late Ming and early Ch'ing periods, including green jade brush holders and wine-pots, and white jade pendants and ornaments; (4) large carvings of the late Ch'ing Dynasty and modern times in the form of vessels of archaistic style and screens with landscape and flower and bird motifs.

Exhibition of the Lan-T'ing Preface

To commemorate the 27th sixty-year cycle of the writing of the most famous piece of calligraphy, The Lan-T'ing Preface, in the year 353 A.D., the Art Gallery mounted an Exhibition of the Lan-T'ing from 10th April to 15th May.

Exhibits, on loan from local as well as British, Japanese, Swiss, and American collectors, may be classified into six categories: (1) 152 ink-rubbings of The Lan-T'ing Preface from Sung, Ming and Ch'ing Dynasties; (2) 6 original paintings, including the hand-scrolls of the Literary Gathering at Lan-T'ing by Ming and Ch'ing masters; (3) 6 original scrolls of calligraphy of The Lan-T'ing Preface by famous calligraphists such as Chao Meng-fu of Yuan, Tung Ch'i-Chang of Ming, and Ch'eng Chao of Ch'ing, etc.; (4) 93 photostat copies of calligraphic models of The Lan-T’ing Preface including the recently published Anthology of Calligraphic Models of Lan-T’ing; (5) photographs; and (6) other exhibits such as an ink-well of Ming Dynasty, brush holders and seals.

Institute of Chinese Studies Advisory Board

The Institute of Chinese Studies was set up in 1967 with the aim of promoting scholarship in Chinese studies, and encouraging the exchange of knowledge and ideas in the study of Chinese culture. Upon completion of its building in December 1970, the various research centres and the Art Gallery occupied the Institute. The Institute has a Research Board composed of the heads of its seven research divisions, and publications are handled by an Editorial Board, which has so far published four volumes of the Journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies and a number of monographs and books. The Art Gallery has held six exhibitions on Chinese culture since September 1971.

In view of the momentous task of the Institute and the expectations from all quarters, the Vice-Chancellor established in March 1973 an Advisory Board to suggest development plans in accordance with the needs of the University and the community at large, and advise on their implementation and make recommendations thereon to the Vice-Chancellor.

Members of the Advisory Board are:

Dr. the Hon. Sir Kenneth Ping-fan Fung (Chairman)
Bishop Francis C.P. Hsu
Mss Aw Sian
Dr. the Hon. Q.W. Lee
Secretary: Mr. Stephen C. Soong (Special Assistant to the Vice-Chancellor)
