YALI GUEST HOUSE

The Yali Guest House, a gift from the Yale-in-China Association, is now completed and will be open by January 1974 to visiting academics and University guests for short-term stays at the University.

The Guest House, situated near the University Health Centre at the northeast of the University campus, is a two-storey building with split levels, providing approximately 3,400 square feet of floor space. The plan of the House is compact, consisting of five single bedrooms, two double bedrooms, and a reception lounge, reading room, dining room and kitchen.

The generous donations of US$60,000 towards the construction cost of the Yali Guest House and US$200,000 to build the University Health Centre in 1971 are the two most recent demonstrations of the Yale-in-China Association’s continuing friendship and goodwill toward the Chinese people.

CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE PROFESSOR OF GEOGRAPHY TO INTERNATIONAL PUBLICATIONS

Prof. Cheng-siang Chen, Chair Professor of Geography, as “C.S. Chen”, has published in recent years numerous articles in overseas publications, the majority of which represents the findings of his years of research on China. Notable among these are his contributions to the Report of the Committee for the World Atlas of Agriculture, Volume II, published in 1973, and the new edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The Committee for the World Atlas of Agriculture, formed by the International Association of Agricultural Economists and the International Geographical Union, comprises 15 scholars of world renown, 7 of whom are famous geographers, including the Chairmen of the International Geographical Union in 1960-64 and 1964-68, the Chair Professor of Geography of the University of Paris, and Prof. Cheng-siang Chen of this University. The Committee, after ten years of research, started in 1970 to publish reports in 5 volumes, producing one volume each year.

Prof. Chen has been a member of the Committee for three consecutive terms beginning 1960. He is in charge of research on East Asia and Southwest Pacific and has travelled extensively in these areas engaging in field-work studies. About one-fourth of the 671-pages (14” x 10”) of Volume II of the Report was written by Prof. Chen: the sections on China, North and South Korea, Outer Mongolia, Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macao (together with 62 maps). The section on China occupies a very prominent position in the report, and Prof. Chen has decided to publish this as a monograph entitled The Chinese Culture Area, adding a chapter on the Ryu Kyu Islands. The book is scheduled to come out towards the end of the year, with German and Japanese translations appearing at the same time.

A revised edition of Encyclopaedia Britannica, in 30 volumes, has recently been published, and the sections on the geography, population, communication and social changes of China are all written by Prof. Chen. There were only four lines on China in the first edition of Encyclopaedia Britannica (Edinburgh, 1771), and even in the eleventh edition (1910-11), when the Encyclopaedia assumed its format for the next few decades, China was still not given full treatment. In this latest edition, the first major revision since 1929, the chapter on China has been completely rewritten and comprises 220,000 words and many tables and illustrations. The sections on Hong Kong, with the exception of the section on its history, are also written by Prof. Chen.

Prof. Chen is also on the international editorial committee of Geoforum—Journal of Physical, Human and Regional Geosciences, one of the newest and most important journals of geographical sciences.

CH'ING PORCELAIN EXHIBITION

The University is holding a comprehensive Ch'ing porcelain exhibition at the Art Gallery, Institute of Chinese Studies, from November 1973 to February 1974. The exhibits, on loan from the Wah Kwong Collection, include imperial ware of monochrome glazes, underglaze blue, t'ou ts'ai, famille verte, famille rose and enamels.

The exhibition basically covers the period from the middle of the reign of K'ang-hsi to the end of Ch'ien-lung (about the end of eighteenth century), which is the period of strongest development of what may be called the Ch'ing decorative style, but there are also a few nineteenth-century pieces which make up the cadre. The visitor will readily observe the gradual transition from the elegant simplicity of the early Ch'ing, through the refined richness of the Yung-cheng period to the complex superabundance of the Ch'ien-lung era—after which the process of disintegration set in. Apart from providing a number of beautiful objects for view, the exhibition serves to illustrate the dynamics of the growth and fading away of one of the major decorative art styles of China in the recent past.

COMPLETION OF GLOSSARY OF LEGAL TERMS

In 1972, the Government of Hong Kong enlisted the help of this University in the compilation of a Glossary of Legal Terms. A Special Translation Project was set up and twelve well-known legal experts and scholars were invited to serve as Advisers of the Project. After one year's concentrated effort, the Glossary is completed and the manuscripts have been presented by Dr. Choh-Ming Li, the Vice-Chancellor, to the Government. The Glossary covers terms extracted from the Laws of Hong Kong, Government regulations and manuals, and basic legal vocabulary, incorporating over 19,000 English and 29,000 Chinese entries, listed under 40 classified categories. Apart from these, the four Appendices—Titles of Ordinances, Regulations, By-laws, Rules & Orders, Civil & Miscellaneous Lists, Geographical Names, Weights and Measures—also serve as easy reference.

It is with the aim of rendering greater service to the community that the University undertook this important task of compiling an English-Chinese glossary, which will surely help to bring the Government and the people yet closer together.

PROFILES OF NEW PROFESSORS

Prof. L.B. Thrower, Professor of Biology and Director of Marine Science Laboratory

Prof. Thrower entered the University of Melbourne after active service during the Second World War and obtained the degrees of B.Sc., M.Sc. and Ph.D. From 1954 to 57 he was Plant Pathologist in Papua-New Guinea. He then returned to the University of Melbourne as Lecturer in Botany, and was promoted to Senior Lecturer in 1961.

In 1965 he was appointed Professor of Botany at the University of Hong Kong, and subsequently served as Dean, Faculty of Science (1966–68) and Pro-Vice-Chancellor (1968–71).

His early research and teaching was mainly on plant diseases, and particularly the metabolism of diseased plants. Since coming to Hong Kong, Prof. Thrower has been developing courses on ecology appropriate to Hong Kong, and extended his earlier interest to include the diseases of local economic plants. This developing interest in ecology led to his appointment in 1967 as a member of the Provisional Council for the Use and Conservation of the Countryside, and he has served on the advisory committee which succeeded the Provisional Council.

Prof. Thrower became Professor of Biology at this University in September 1973 and acts concurrently as Director of the Marine Science Laboratory.

Prof. Richard J. Coughlin, Visiting Professor of Sociology

His academic career was interrupted when he served for two years with Asia Foundation in Hong Kong.

As a sociologist, Prof. Coughlin has strong inclinations toward anthropological methods of research, and in fact he presently holds an appointment in both disciplines at the University of Virginia. He is an East Asian and Southeast Asian specialist, having done field work in Thailand, Vietnam, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Korea, but he has become immersed in the study of aspects of American society, notably crime and delinquency and population. His research and publications cover inter alia the overseas Chinese in Thailand and the Caribbean, urbanization and population in Hong Kong, Southeast Asia, and Korea, criminal behaviour systems in the United States and Hong Kong, birth control in Hong Kong, and prematurity among Negro women in the United States.

地理學講座教授對
學術界之貢獻

本大學地理學講座教授陳正祥博士近年在海外發表多種重要著作，大部分為長期對中國研究之成果。其中最重要者，見於一九七三年出版之國際農業地理委員會(Committee for the World Atlas of Agriculture)報告書第二卷及新版「大英百科全書」(Encyclopaedia Britannica)內。

國際農業地理委員會由國際農業經濟學者協會(International Association of Agricultural Economists)與國際地理學會(International Geographical Union)聯合組成，共有委員十五人，皆世界一時名彥；地理學家佔七人，包括國際地理學會一九六〇—六四年期之第二十屆會長，一九六四—六八年期之第二十一屆會長，巴黎大學地理學講座教授，本大學之陳正祥教授等。該委員會經過十年研究，一九七〇年開始出版報告書，共五卷，每年出版一卷。

陳教授自一九六〇年起，三屆連任該委員會委員，主持亞洲東部及西南太平洋地區之研究調查事宜，曾在整個地區作廣泛考察。委員會報告書第二卷內中國、南北朝鮮、外蒙古、台灣、香港、澳門等部分，均由陳教授撰寫入約佔全書六七一頁(14"X10")之四分一，並附有地圖插圖六十二幅，而中國部分所佔之篇幅，為全報告書之冠，因國際間需求者衆，陳教授決將所著部分合併另出單行本，並增加琉球一章，定名為「中國文化地區」(The Chinese Cultural Area)，於本年底出版，同時譯成德文本及日文本。

此外大英百科全書最近發行新版，共三十卷，其中有關中國地理、人口、交通及社會變遷等部份，皆邀請陳教授撰述。該百科全書一七七一年在愛丁堡發行第一版時，中國只佔四行；一九一〇—一一年發行第十一版，內容已經定型，惟中國部分仍微不足道。此次乃一九ニニ年以來之首次徹底重寫，中國部分共達二十二萬字，並有大量圖表。至於香港部分，除歷史一項外，亦完全為陳教授所撰述。

陳教授又為目前被認為最新及最重要地理學季刊之一之"Geografiska Journal of Physical and Regional Geosciences"之十人國際編輯委員會之委員，該刊用英、德、法三種文字出版。

中國文化研究所文物館由十一月至一九七四年二月舉行清代瓷器展覽，展出趙氏華光草堂珍藏清代瓷器凡百餘品。展品包括盛淸康熙、雍正、乾隆三朝官窯單色釉、靑花、鬥彩、五彩、粉彩、琺瑯彩等。

淸初瓷器之式樣與製作，均沿襲明末之制度，從康熙二十年起至乾隆中葉之八年左右為清代製瓷之高峯時期，而雍正一朝與乾隆上半期又為清代瓷業之全盛期。乾隆官窯瓷之最大特點即為「模仿」。除仿製古瓷以外，於造形設計方面，每每採用古代禮器尊彝之形製，最後更以瓷器仿製其他質料之器皿與用具，無論仿木、石、漆、銅，均甚逼眞。以技巧而言，可謂神乎其技，可惜非藝術創作之正途。故飮流齋說瓷評謂：「至乾隆，則華褥極矣，精巧之致，幾乎鬼斧神工，而古樸渾厚之致，蕩然無存，故乾隆一朝，爲有淸極盛時代，亦爲一代盛衰之樞紐也。」乾隆以後，雖然未嘗無佳作，唯較之康、雍、乾三朝之精製，難免有頹敗之趨向，已經「不入雅玩」。清代瓷器藝術之發展，參觀者可藉此次展出得綜覽其大槪。
The Yali Guest House is now completed and will be occupied by January 1974, to accommodate visiting academics and university guests for short-term stays.

The Guest House, situated near the northeast of the University campus, is a twostorey building with split levels, providing approximately 3,400 square feet of floor space. The plan of the House is compact, consisting of five single bedrooms, two double bedrooms, and a reception lounge, reading room, dining room and kitchen.

The generous donations of US$60,000 towards the construction cost of the Yali Guest House and US$200,000 to build the University Health Centre in 1971 are two more recent demonstrations of the Yale-in-China Association's continuing friendship and goodwill towards the Chinese people.
