The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Calendar 1993–94
The emblem of the University is the mythical Chinese bird fēng (鳳), which is chosen because of its symbolism as Bird of the South since the Han Dynasty. It is also a symbol of nobility, beauty, loyalty and majesty.

The University colours are purple and gold, representing devotion and loyalty (purple), perseverance and resolution (gold).

The motto of the University is '博学约礼' (bo wen yue li): '博学' is to broaden one's intellectual horizon; '约礼' is to keep within the bounds of propriety.

These words of Confucius have long been considered a principal precept of his teaching. It is recorded in the Analects of Confucius that the Master says, 'By extensively studying all learning, and keeping himself under the restraint of the rules of propriety, one may thus likewise not err from what is right.' (Legge's version of the Four Books)

In choosing '博学约礼' as its motto, the University is laying equal emphasis on the intellectual and moral aspects of education.

Introduction

The Chinese University of Hong Kong was incorporated in October 1963 under a Hong Kong Ordinance 'to establish a university with a federal constitution in which the principal language of instruction shall be Chinese'. The objectives are to (i) assist in the preservation, dissemination, communication and increase of knowledge; (ii) provide regular courses of instruction in the humanities, the sciences and other branches of learning of a standard required and expected of a university of the highest standing; and (iii) stimulate the intellectual and cultural development of Hong Kong and thereby to assist in promoting its economic and social welfare.

The University has its origin in three post-secondary colleges: New Asia College (founded 1949), Chung Chi College (founded 1951), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956). In December 1976 a new ordinance was enacted, making important changes in the constitution governing the University and the constituent colleges. An ordinance for the fourth college, Shaw College, was enacted in July 1986. The new college became operational in 1988.

The University is a self-governing corporation drawing its income mainly from grants made by the Hong Kong Government, supplemented by fees and donations from private sources.

The governing and executive body of the University is the Council, which has the management and control of the affairs, purposes and functions of the University. The Senate has the control and regulation of instruction, education and research.

A wide range of full-time undergraduate programmes leading to the BA, BBA, BEng, BMedSc, MB ChB, BNurs, BPharm, BSc and BSSc degrees are offered by various departments under the faculties of arts, business administration, education, engineering, medicine, science, and social science. There are nine part-time degree programmes leading to the degrees of BA, BBA, BEd, BNurs, BSc and BSSc.

Postgraduate programmes leading to the PhD, MA, MBA, MDiv, MEd, MPhil, MSc, MSSc, MSW degrees as well as the Diploma in Social Work, and full-time and part-time programmes leading to the Diploma in Education, are offered by the Graduate School through its 35 graduate divisions.

While the principal medium of instruction is Chinese, English is also widely used. Indeed, the majority of the teaching staff are bilingual (Chinese/English) and have studied and/or taught in major universities all over the world. The University is international in outlook and enjoys close associations with many universities, foundations and organizations abroad.

The total enrollment of the University in the academic year 1992–93 was 10,872, including 8,956 undergraduate and 1,916 postgraduate students.

The University has seven research institutes, under which are a number of research centres. They are the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Research Institute for the Humanities, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies, the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (which has been incorporated as a self-supporting research and development entity), and the recently established Hong Kong Institute of Educational Research of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Extensions of the University include the Department of Extramural Studies and the New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

General Information
The University

Origin

The University has its origin in three post-secondary colleges: New Asia College (founded 1949), Chung Chi College (founded 1951), and The United College of Hong Kong (founded 1956), which drew, in their early days, a sizable proportion of their teachers and some of their students from mainland China.

In 1957, these three colleges came together to form the Chinese Colleges Joint Council with the object of securing government recognition of their efforts in providing higher education for the students of Hong Kong. In 1959, Mr. John S. Fulton (later Lord Fulton of Falmer) was invited to advise on the general lines of development for the three colleges as a whole. In 1960, the government introduced the Post-Secondary Colleges Ordinance and Regulations, which approved financial support to the three colleges with a view to raising their academic standards.

In 1961, a University Preparatory Committee, chaired by Dr. the Hon. Sir Cho-Yiu Kwan, was appointed to advise on sites and buildings and matters relating to the establishment of the University. A group of advisers from Britain and the United States visited Hong Kong in the same year to advise the colleges on development to university level of courses in arts, science, commerce and social science. The report of these advisers was encouraging, and so in 1962, the government appointed a commission under the chairmanship of Mr. John S. Fulton to consider and determine whether and how a Chinese university should be created from the three colleges.

The Report of the Fulton Commission, known as the Fulton Report and published in April 1963, recommended the establishment of a new university. Shortly after its publication the Report was approved in principle by the government. A Provisional Council was set up in June 1963, and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance and Statutes were enacted in September of the same year. On 17th October 1963 the University was formally inaugurated.
The Ordinance

In November 1975, the Governor, in his capacity as Chancellor of the University, appointed an external commission to review the constitutional arrangements governing the University and its constituent colleges. Lord Fulton of Falmer was again invited to serve as chairman of the commission.

The second Fulton Report was submitted to the Chancellor in March 1976 and published in May. The Report recommended important changes to the constitutional arrangements governing the University and the colleges. Under the new arrangements proposed by the commission, the University would be responsible for academic and development policy, financial management, the matriculation of students, the appointment of staff, the determination of the curriculum, the conduct of examinations and the award of degrees. The participation of senior academics in the governing bodies of the University would be strengthened. In addition, the Report also recommended that the University should strive to strike a balance between ‘subject-orientated’ teaching and small group ‘student-orientated’ teaching, and that the latter should be entrusted to the colleges. This ‘student-orientated’ teaching would be designed to build in the students habits and frames of mind characteristic of experts in their chosen fields and to equip them with the necessary skills for meeting new challenges in a rapidly changing world. A new ordinance to give effect to the recommendations in the second Fulton Report was enacted in December 1976.

In 1986, the University received a generous donation from the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd. for the specific purpose of establishing a fourth college, Shaw College, which began admitting students in September 1988. The Ordinance and the Statutes were further revised to provide for the establishment of Shaw College.

The Ordinance and the Statutes of the University incorporating the amendments over the years are printed on pp. 271–304 of this Calendar.

Academic Structure and Policy

The Chinese University of Hong Kong is a growing university offering a range of full-time and part-time programmes which lead to bachelor’s degrees, master’s degrees and doctorates.

There are seven faculties (arts, business administration, education, engineering, medicine, science, and social science) and a total of 57 departments offering 32 major programmes and 30 minor programmes for full-time undergraduate students and nine part-time undergraduate programmes.

Postgraduate programmes including 30 doctoral programmes, 48 master’s programmes and three diploma programmes are offered by the Graduate School through its 35 graduate divisions.

The Senate has control over instruction and research. The faculties advise the Senate through the faculty boards on the programmes of studies recommended by the boards of studies. The boards of studies are responsible for subject-orientated teaching. The colleges, in turn, are responsible for student-orientated teaching and the provision of residential accommodation. All teaching staff and undergraduate students are assigned to different constituent colleges.

Undergraduate Studies

At its inception the University’s undergraduate curriculum was based on a combination of the credit unit system and the degree examination system. After a comprehensive review in the mid-eighties, the University decided to adopt a pure credit-unit based curriculum structure. In 1991–92, greater flexibility was introduced in students’ selection of courses and pace of study.

Full-time Undergraduate Studies
The University endeavours to provide a wide variety of major and minor programmes to meet the needs of society and its students. With the birth of a separate Faculty of Engineering in 1991–92, engineering studies have undergone marked developments and currently four specializations in computer, information, electronic and systems engineering are offered. Other new academic disciplines introduced in recent years include architecture under the Faculty of Social Science, and nursing and pharmacy under the Faculty of Medicine. The Faculty of Arts has developed Japanese studies from a minor programme into a full-fledged major programme. The same will happen to translation in 1994–95 and a new minor programme in Italian studies is launched this year. Ground work has been laid by the Faculty of Education for offering physical education and sports science as a major programme next year, when the Faculty of Science will also launch two new major programmes in environmental science and food science, making full use of the expertise of several existing departments.

Part-time Undergraduate Studies
The Part-time Degree Programmes were first launched in 1981–82 with classes conducted in the evening. The nine part-time degree programmes currently offered are biology and chemistry, business administration, Chinese and English, mathematics and statistics, music, nursing, physical education, primary education and social work.

Postgraduate Studies
Doctoral programmes of the University were first introduced in 1980–81. With the introduction of two new PhD programmes in communication and government & public administration in 1993–94, there are now 30 doctoral programmes. Master’s programmes were first offered in 1966–67, and the number of programmes has increased to 48 by 1993–94. A new diploma programme in psychology has also been introduced in 1993–94.

Finance
The University’s main source of income for both capital and recurrent expenses is the Hong Kong Government. Fee income represents a relatively small percentage of the University’s total revenues. In addition, the University and its constituent colleges have small endowment funds at their disposal and also receive contributions from private donors for research and other designated purposes.

Negotiations between the University and the government are conducted by the University and Polytechnic Grants Committee, established in 1965. This committee advises the government on the financial requirements of the University.

The total capital cost of buildings on campus amounted to HK$801 million by June 1992. Although the majority of the funding has come from the government, the University has also received generous support from private donors, whose contributions have made up about 26 per cent of the total capital cost.
Lands and Buildings

The University has a campus measuring some 134 hectares located on a tract of land under lease from the Hong Kong Government north of the Sha Tin New Town in the New Territories. It commands scenic views of Tolo Harbour to the north and Tide Cove to the east.

The campus varies in elevation from 4.4 to 140 metres above sea level and has been carved from a rocky promontory into a number of plateaux to provide the sites for buildings of the University and its four colleges, as well as blocks of staff residences.

Buildings for central activities are located mainly at the mid-level. The expanse of land in the valley next to the University Station of the Kowloon-Canton Railway has been the campus of Chung Chi College since 1956. At the highest level are United College and New Asia College, which moved from urban Hong Kong and Kowloon to their present sites in 1972 and 1973 respectively. Each of the original colleges has its own administration and teaching blocks, library, staff/student amenities building, student hostels and staff quarters. Shaw College, commissioned in 1989 at the northwest tip of the campus, has comparable facilities except accommodation for academic departments, as it was designed to be a residential college only.

Around the impressive tree-lined University Mall and the University Square featuring a sizable sculpture and a forum structure with a reflecting pool, the following major central buildings cluster: the University Administration Building; the University Library, the Tin Ka Ping Building incorporating an extended section of the library and several research and academic exchange centres, the Institute of Chinese Studies and the Art Gallery with its extension and annex; the Sui-Loong Pao Building (housing offices of the Registry); the Pi-Ch’iu Building (housing the Computer Services Centre); the Y.C. Liang Hall (a lecture hall complex); the Sir Run Run Shaw Hall (a 1,500-seat multi-purpose auditorium); the Lady Shaw Building (for the science and engineering departments); the Engineering Building Complex; the Science Centre Complex; and the Choh-Ming Li Building for Basic Medical Sciences.

Other buildings scattered at the periphery of the central campus include the Benjamin Franklin Centre and John Fulton Centre (two amenities buildings with a swimming pool for staff and students) to the south; the Li Dak Sum Building, Fung King Hey Building, and Leung Kau Kui Building (academic facilities for the arts, social science and business administration departments) to the west; the Health Centre, the Yali Guest House, the Chan Kwan-tung Inter-University Hall and the Chilangs Building (a complex of guest house facilities) to the east. By the main entrance stands on guard a Transport and Security Depot whilst clustered on the hilly slopes to the north lie many blocks of staff quarters.

Descending from the mid-level towards the bay are the Postgraduate Hall Complex (dormitories for postgraduates), the Estates and Maintenance Building, the University Sports Centre and the Kwok Sports Building (squash centre and teaching facilities for physical education), and finally the complex of buildings for the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology and the Marine Science Laboratory on the waterfront. And along the approaches to the University Station sit the Fong Shu Chuen Building and Fong Yun Wah Hall (housing a Chinese language centre), the Ho Tim Building (housing the Faculty of Education) and the Hui Yeung Shing Building (housing the University Press and several departments of the Faculty of Arts).
In the last two decades, some 85 buildings, big or small, have been erected on the once barren hillside. Additions in the year include the Tin Ka Ping Building, the Engineering Building Complex, and a hostel for 300 on the Chung Chi campus.

Building projects under construction or active design include the Wong Foo Yuan Building and two other phases of redevelopment of the teaching blocks of Chung Chi College, an extension to the Ch’ien Ma Library on the New Asia campus, and a building providing animal holding and other supportive facilities for the medical and science departments.

Other capital works being planned comprise additional teaching and research facilities for the science departments, further phases of redevelopment of the teaching buildings of Chung Chi College, more hostels and staff/student amenities, and the upgrading of engineering services.

The clinical departments of the Faculty of Medicine are housed in the Clinical Sciences Building at the Prince of Wales Hospital, the regional hospital of Sha Tin, about eight kilometres from the main campus.

Residential Accommodation

The University provides several types of accommodation for staff members, academic visitors and students.

Staff Housing
Staff quarters are allocated by the University to appointees who are eligible for staff housing. There are about 300 senior staff flats on campus in multi-storey apartment buildings, some 100 flats for single teachers and other staff, and several blocks of quarters for minor staff.

The Inter-University Hall provides fully-furnished and self-contained quarters for academic visitors coming to the University for periods of one to two years.

Guest Houses
The University operates several guest houses which provide room and board facilities for guests on short periods of stay in the University. The Yali Guest House, completed in 1974, is a gift from the Yale-China Association. The University Guest Houses I and II began operation in 1980. Two new guest houses, the Chan Kwan-tung Inter-University Hall and the Chiangs Building, were completed in summer 1992 to provide lodging for up to 180 visitors.

Student Hostels
The University and its constituent colleges operate a number of hostels for students who wish to live on campus.

The Postgraduate Hall Complex, consisting of Sir Cho-Yiu Hall, Lady Ho Tung Hall, and the Postgraduate Hall, provides 350 places for graduate students. Chung Chi College used to have seven hostels: Ming Hua Tang, Wen Lin Tang, Ying Lin Tang, Hua Lien Tang, Theology Building, Madam S.H. Ho Hall and Wen Chih Tang. A new hostel with 300 places has been commissioned recently, which will bring the total number of hostel places from 784 to 1,084. At New Asia College, the Chih Hsing Hall, Xuesi Hall and Grace Tien Hall can accommodate 770. At United College, the Adam Schall Residence, Bethlehem Hall and Hang Seng Hall also have a combined capacity of 770. By 1992 three student hostels have been erected on the Shaw College campus. Together they provide 880 places.
With the exception of the Postgraduate Hall Complex which has 120 single rooms, most student hostels provide shared accommodation in the form of twin-bed rooms. There are also a small number of special rooms for married students without children.

In addition, the Faculty of Medicine operates the Madam S.H. Ho Hostel for medical students at the Prince of Wales Hospital at Sha Tin, the teaching hospital of the faculty, to provide accommodation for 148 senior clinical students.

Hostel fees range from HK$1,800 to $3,300 a term, depending on the type of accommodation. Detailed information on hostel fees is listed on p. 223.

Liaison with the World of Learning

The University has since its inception in 1963 striven to enhance the cross fertilization of Chinese and Western cultural traditions. To this end, the University has over the years established and maintained relationships with a large number of overseas bodies, including universities, institutes and centres of learning, governmental agencies, and in particular, with regional and international associations of universities.

The University enjoys a close relationship with numerous overseas universities. The first exchange programme was launched in 1965 with the University of California. Since then, university-level student exchanges with Georgetown University and Brown University in the USA, Tsukuba University and Soka University in Japan, and the University of British Columbia and the University of Toronto in Canada have also been established. The University is also a member of the International Student Exchange Programme (ISEP), which is based at Georgetown University. These exchanges are coordinated by the Office of International Studies Programmes. Staff exchanges and development programmes are maintained with a number of French, British and German universities through arrangements with respective governments and exchange bodies. In Japan, short-term staff visit programmes with Tsukuba University and Soka University have been established.

The University's constituent colleges, too, have cultivated links with certain universities abroad. New Asia College has close relations with the Yale-China Association, Chung Chi College with the Wellesley-Yenching Committee and Princeton-in-Asia, and United College with Williams College and Indiana University. For the exchange of undergraduates and graduates, Chung Chi College has made special arrangements with the University of Redlands, Washington and Lee University, International Christian University, and Keio University; New Asia College with Asia University and Soka University; United College with Williams College and Indiana University; and Shaw College with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and the University of Victoria in Canada.

Chung Chi College also participates in the Asia-North America Faculty Exchange Programme sponsored by the United Board of Christian Higher Education in Asia, which enables eligible staff to teach as visiting professors for one year in North American universities.

Other units which have exchange relations with overseas institutions of higher learning include the MBA and BBA programmes, and the Department of Japanese Studies. The MBA programmes currently exchange graduates with New York University, the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Chicago, the University of British Columbia, the University of Western Ontario, London Business School, York University, the University of California at Berkeley and Columbia Business School, while the BBA programmes have undergraduate exchange agreements with Queen’s College and James Madison University. The Department of Japanese Studies has exchange agreements with Nagoya University of Commerce and Business Administration, Nanzan University, Soka University, Sophia University and Kyorin University.

In response to the growing interest of overseas students and scholars in Chinese and Asian studies, the University launched the International Asian Studies Programme in 1977 in cooperation with the Yale-China Association. The programme makes it possible for participants to take credit-earning courses on China and Asia taught in English and Chinese, as well as courses in Chinese language. So far there have been over 1,000 participants from 27 countries. The programme is administered by the Office of International Studies Programmes. For details of admission, see pp. 216–217 of this Calendar.

The facilities at the University for international conferences and seminars have continued to attract scholars from far and wide. The orientation programme for the Luce Scholars Programme administered by the Asia Foundation, for example, has been conducted at the University for more than 10 years. In recent years, the University has been the venue for many regional conferences or gatherings of international stature. Some of these are organized with local organizations, others with institutions abroad including the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the Inter-University Consortium for International Social Development, the International Association of Schools of Social Work, the International Public Relations Association, the Association of Commonwealth Universities, the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation in America, the International Development Research Centre in Canada, French National Centre of Scientific Research, the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning, and the Southeast Asian Mathematical Society.

The international character of the University has been significantly enhanced by foreign government contributions to the language and literature instruction programmes. Visiting lectureships have been provided by the governments of France, Germany, Italy, and Japan for instruction in their respective languages, and many graduates of the University have obtained fellowships for advanced studies in these countries. In addition, the University has since its very early days benefited from grants from various foundations for staff development, research, scholarships and exchange programmes. These foundations include the Lingnan Foundation in New York, the Asia Foundation, the Yale-China Association, the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the World Health Organization, the Leverhulme Trust and the Japan Foundation.

Cooperation with other universities has always been encouraged and maintained through various associations of universities. Today, the University is a member of the Association of Commonwealth Universities (ACU), the Association of Southeast Asian Institutions of Higher Learning (ASAIHL), and the International Association of Universities (IAU). It has also been closely associated with the Committee for International Cooperation in Higher Education (CICHE) in the United Kingdom.

Over the years, the University and its staff have developed academic links and research collaboration with many educational and research institutions in China. As a result of the open-door policy in China, such exchange activities have been stepped up considerably. Each year, the University receives several hundred academic visitors from various disciplines from different parts of China. They participate in research work, give lectures and seminars and attend staff development courses. Formal exchange agreements have been concluded by the University or its individual departments with Peking University, Tsinghua University, the Academia Sinica in Beijing and its institutes in Shanghai, the Hebei Academy of Sciences, Northeast University of Technology in Shenyang, Fudan University in Shanghai, Zhongshan
University, South China Normal University in Guangzhou, Nankai University in Tianjin, Guangxi Medical College in Nanning, Shaanxi University in Taiyuan, Xiamen University in Fujian, China Pharmaceutical University in Nanjing, South China University of Technology in Guangzhou, Shanghai Jiaotong University and the Academia Sinica, Shanghai Branch in Shanghai. The University has also offered courses on international trade and management development for universities and Ministries of China. Teachers of the University have served as honorary professors, advisers and consultants for various Chinese institutions.

The University is strongly committed to the continued enhancement and development of its external academic ties and collaborative research activities, and has established a Committee on Academic Links, chaired by one of the University’s pro-vice-chancellors, to provide overall supervision for the University’s academic link activities.

To assist University units in pursuing these goals, a new Office of Academic Links was created in September 1991 to provide better-coordinated and cost-effective administrative support services. The office also serves as a clearinghouse for information needed by various University units seeking to engage in academic exchange activities and collaborative research programmes. Under the guidance of the Committee on Academic Links, the office represents the University in conversations with outside bodies on matters related to academic links.

Liaison with the Business Community

The University has on-going working relations with local and international industrial and business firms and with government bodies. It has been providing graduates for their managerial and professional staff, conducting training and development programmes, performing sponsored and contract research and offering consultancy services. As Hong Kong’s economy transforms into a knowledge-intensive one, the need for these services has expanded considerably. Hence, the University has established the Office of Industrial and Business Development (OIBD) to assist the various departments in strengthening their existing relationship with outside organizations, and in developing new links with appropriate organizations and individuals.

The OIBD is also responsible for investigating the various means by which the University might offer services and programmes that would attract support from private and public sectors, both locally and internationally. These services might include contract research, product development, staff development programmes, consultancy, and special studies. Furthermore, the OIBD investigates possible areas for two-way technology transfer among the industrialized countries, Hong Kong and China, and to identify new businesses/industries with high potential for rapid growth in Hong Kong.

As the executive arm of the Patent Committee of the University, the OIBD assists in the protection of intellectual properties, patent application, licensing of inventions to outside firms, and other commercialization activities. Such technology transfer would strengthen collaboration between the University and commercial firms and encourage the establishment of knowledge-based industries in Hong Kong.

The OIBD serves as the company secretary of the Varsity Resources Corporation (VRC) which is jointly owned and managed by six Hong Kong tertiary institutions. The VRC coordinates multi-institutional teams of experts to provide consultancies, technology transfer, product development, business plans, technology assessment, and other technical services.
The Constituent Colleges

With the reorganization of the University following the enactment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong Ordinance 1976, the boards of trustees of the three original colleges, viz. Chung Chi College, New Asia College and The United College of Hong Kong have been reconstituted. Each college board is mainly concerned with the management of the movable property and of certain college buildings entrusted to it, as well as the promotion of scholastic and cultural activities of the college.

Each college is governed by an assembly of fellows, chaired by the college head. The assembly of fellows assumes responsibility for making and implementing decisions on various matters relating to the college.

In January 1986, the University received a generous donation of HK$100 million and subsequently, an additional gift of HK$10 million, from the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd., for the establishment of the fourth college in the University. The University Council subsequently decided that the new college be named 'Shaw College' and invited Sir Run Run Shaw to become its Patron. To give legal effect to such a development, 'The Chinese University of Hong Kong (Declaration of Shaw College) Ordinance 1986' was enacted in July 1986. The new college admitted its first students in 1988.

Chung Chi College

Chung Chi College was founded in October 1951 by the representatives of Protestant churches in Hong Kong to meet the need for a local institution of higher learning that would follow the Christian education tradition of the 13 Christian universities in China. In 1955, it was formally incorporated under an ordinance of the Hong Kong Government.

The college had a very modest beginning using borrowed and rented premises, first in the Cathedral Hall and St. Paul's Co-educational College, then in Caine Road and Lower Albert Road. Expansion was made possible by financial help from church organizations in North America and Britain. Local churches, firms and private individuals also gave considerable support. In 1956 the college moved to its permanent site in the Ma Liu Shui valley.
Between 1959 and 1963 the college received the bulk of its funds from the Hong Kong Government. In 1963 the college was incorporated as one of the three colleges of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Chung Chi College started its religious education and theological training programme in 1957. After the establishment of The Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1963, the college set up a Theology Division for the training of Christian ministers, and later established its own Chaplaincy Office to promote religious activities which include college assemblies, Sunday worship services and Christian fellowship programmes.

Academic and cultural activities are regularly organized for both staff and students of the college. They include seminars, college life luncheon talks, annual education conferences, and the Siu Lien Ling Wong Visiting Fellows Programme. Students are also encouraged to take part in extracurricular activities organized by the college student union, departmental societies, class societies, and various interest groups and student hostel associations.

In 1992–93 Chung Chi College had a student enrolment of 1,920, of whom 927 were men and 993 were women. Most of the students were born in Hong Kong, but a few of them were overseas Chinese. About one-third of the students were Christians.

New Asia College

New Asia College was founded in 1949 by its former President, the late Dr. Ch’ien Mu, and a small group of scholars from China. Their aim was to preserve traditional Chinese culture and to balance it with Western learning so that students might understand their cultural heritage and at the same time be capable of coping with challenges of the modern world.

The college had a humble beginning but soon attracted support both locally and from overseas. Since 1954, it has had the cooperation and support of the Yale-China Association which had been active in educational development in China for many years. It has also received support from other educational institutions and foundations, notably the Harvard-Yenching Institute, the Asia Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, the British Council, the Mencius Foundation, the Ford Foundation, and the Ming Yu Cultural Foundation, Hong Kong. As a grant college from 1959 to 1963, and now as a constituent college of the University, it has received generous financial support from the Hong Kong Government.

Scholarly visits and other cultural activities are arranged throughout the year under different programmes such as the Ch’ien Mu Lecture in History and Culture Programme, the New Asia Ming Yu Foundation Professorship Programme, the New Asia S.Y. Chung Visiting Fellows Programme, the New Asia David Lam Economist Exchange Programme, and the Y.S. Hui Exchange Programme in Fine Arts. Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in the college and are freely organized by the college student union and a host of student clubs and societies.

In 1992–93 New Asia College had a student enrolment of 1,948, of whom 962 were men and 986 were women. Approximately 50 per cent of the student population received scholarships, bursaries or other forms of financial assistance.

* The Yale-China Association resumed activities in Changsha and Wuhan in 1980.
United College

United College was founded in 1956 by the amalgamation of five post-secondary colleges: Canton Overseas College, Kwang Hsia College, Wah Kiu College, Wen Hua College, and Ping Jing College of Accountancy. The five colleges decided to pool their resources to provide better higher education for local students. The United College of Hong Kong was subsequently incorporated under an ordinance of the Hong Kong Government in 1957 with a board of trustees as her governing body.

In 1962, the membership of the board of trustees was broadened to include representation from the local community and Dr. the Hon. Kenneth Ping-fan Fung was elected chairman of the board. In July 1962, the board appointed Mr. T.C. Cheng, then Chief Assistant Secretary for Chinese Affairs in the Hong Kong Government, as president of the college. Dr. Cheng assumed office in January 1963. In October of the same year, United College became a constituent college of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

In March 1971, foundation stones were laid for the five new buildings of the college on the University campus in Sha Tin. In December, the college moved from Bonham Road on Hong Kong Island to its present site on the University campus.

Dr. the Hon. P.C. Woo succeeded Sir Kenneth as the chairman of the college board in May 1972. In November 1983, Dr. Woo was appointed to the membership of the University Council and thus resigned from the college board. Sir Run Run Shaw was then elected chairman of the board to succeed Dr. Woo. In December 1988, Dr. Woo was made a permanent member of the board. Sir Run Run was elected honorary chairman and permanent member of the board in December 1991. Dr. Ho Tim then succeeded Sir Run Run as chairman of the board.

A college endowment fund was established in 1973 under the direction of the board of trustees. It provides essential financial support to many projects and schemes organized by the college, benefiting both students and staff members.

The student union of the college was first inaugurated in 1963 as a statutory body to represent the interests of and provide various services to students of the college. With financial support from the University and the college endowment fund, a wide range of extracurricular activities and intellectual exchange projects are organized every year.

In 1992–93, a total of 1,926 students were assigned to United College, of whom 974 were men and 952 were women.

Shaw College

Named after its Patron, Shaw College was made possible by the generosity of Sir Run Run Shaw, chairman of the Shaw Foundation (Hong Kong) Ltd. which donated HK$110 million to the University for the founding of its fourth constituent college.

An ordinance which gave legal effect to this new development in the University was passed by the Legislative Council in July 1986 and became law on 1st August of the same year. A Board of Trustees of Shaw College then came into being and helped chart the course of the college’s development in collaboration with a planning committee appointed by the University Council. Chaired by the former vice-chancellor, Prof. Ma Lin, the planning committee was in turn advised by Sir Quo-wei Lee, Dr. T.K. Ann, Mr. H.J. Shen and Mr. Louis Page.
The foundation stone for the first four buildings of the college was laid on 12th January 1987 by Sir David Akers-Jones, then Acting Governor of Hong Kong, and Sir Run Run Shaw, Patron of the college. In June 1987, the college set up its temporary offices in the Chung Chi Teaching Block near the KCR University Station. In September 1989, the first student hostel which can accommodate 584 students was completed. In October the same year, the administration building, Wen Lan Tang, and the visiting scholars units cum staff quarters, Ya Qun Lodge, were also opened for administrative staff, teachers and students of the college. A lecture theatre with a seating capacity of 537 was completed towards the end of 1991. The second student hostel with 289 places was completed in summer 1992.

On 2nd March 1990, Shaw College was officially opened by His Excellency the Governor, Chancellor of the University, Sir David Wilson, and the Patron of Shaw College, Sir Run Run Shaw.

Since the formal establishment of the Assembly of Fellows in June 1987, numerous academic and cultural activities have been planned and organized. They include monthly dinner lectures and visits by Sir Run Run Shaw Distinguished Visiting Scholars.

Extracurricular activities form an important part of student life in Shaw College. The first student union was formed in April 1990, and activities along various lines of interest have been organized by different clubs and societies.

In 1992–93, Shaw College had a student enrollment of 1,933, of whom 1,001 were men and 932 were women. The first batch of graduates graduated in mid-June 1990, and an alumni association was formed soon afterwards.
Part III

Research Units and University Extensions
Research Institutes and Centres

The University has established seven institutes to provide faculty members with financial support and other facilities for research. They include the Institute of Chinese Studies, the Research Institute for the Humanities, the Asia-Pacific Institute of Business, the Institute of Science and Technology, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies, the Hong Kong Institute of Educational Research of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and the Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology.

Institute of Chinese Studies

The Institute of Chinese Studies was established in 1967 on the basis of a broad conception of Chinese studies. It included what is traditionally identified as Sinology, but emphasized the application of scientific methodology, characterized by quantitative and comparative approaches, and the use of experimental methods where appropriate. Subsequently, other areas of studies related to contemporary Chinese culture and society have also been included among its activities.

The objectives of the institute are: to promote Chinese studies by serving as an international centre for maintaining communication and cooperation with other academic and research institutions and scholars in this field; to provide local and visiting academic members of the University with funding and research facilities; to promote the exchange of knowledge and experience in Chinese studies through publications, conferences and research seminars; and to foster the growth of a modern Chinese culture.

Under the Institute of Chinese Studies are the Art Gallery, the Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art, the Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre, the Research Centre for Translation, and the Research Centre for Contemporary Chinese Culture. Each of these units is responsible for the promotion of research in its own field. The institute also provides grants to support special research projects, sponsors seminars, and invites research fellows and visiting scholars from abroad to give lectures in their specialization. The reference reading room of the institute, including the collection of the late Mr. Wong
Pao-hsue, contains 33,081 volumes of books and 316 titles of periodicals.

The institute publishes annually a volume of The Journal of the Institute of Chinese Studies of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and also the bimonthly journal Twenty-First Century. The various units under the institute also issue their own monograph series, studies series and journals and other publications.

Art Gallery
The Art Gallery, established in 1971, serves both as a teaching museum for the Fine Arts Department and as a centre of research on Chinese art and archaeology. It is an active gallery which mounts special exhibitions of Chinese art at regular intervals along with displays of its permanent collection, providing a valuable service to the community of art enthusiasts in Hong Kong.

Apart from the general collection for teaching purposes, the Art Gallery houses a photographic archive and several important research collections of Chinese art and antiquities. Notable amongst the latter are a collection of 1,300 paintings and calligraphy by Guangdong artists and scholars dating from the Ming to recent periods, over 1,000 seals of the Warring States to Qing periods, more than 400 pieces of Chinese jade flower carvings, about 1,200 rubbings of ancient inscriptions and a comprehensive collection of Chinese ceramics.

The Art Gallery publishes fully illustrated catalogues to accompany the special exhibitions. In addition, studies on the Art Gallery collections and related research topics are published as monographs.

The Art Gallery has a Conservation Annex which provides technical support for the gallery. This includes the restoration and conservation of works of art, the mounting and restoration of Chinese paintings, woodwork, and photographic services. In 1987, the Yeung Shui Sang Laboratory for Thermoluminescence of Ancient Chinese Ceramics was set up under the joint auspices of the Art Gallery and the Department of Physics to do research and render service in ceramics dating.

An organization, the Friends of the Art Gallery, was founded in 1981 to support the Art Gallery and to promote its activities. Membership is open to the public.

Centre for Chinese Archaeology and Art
This centre was established in 1978 to undertake research projects in Chinese archaeology and art. The purpose was to pool the resources of the Art Gallery and the departments of history and fine arts to promote cooperation with museums and universities abroad in research programmes. Recently, the centre has shifted the emphasis of its activities to field archaeology, and its field work team has become active in local excavations, as well as collaborative projects with research centres in mainland China. The centre has also published several series of monographs and other specialized materials.

The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre
The centre has its origin in the Chinese Linguistics Research Centre, which was first established in 1966. It was enlarged in early 1979 under the name of Chinese Language Research Centre, and in 1980 it was renamed The Ng Tor-tai Chinese Language Research Centre.

The main objective of the centre is to engage in comprehensive research on the Chinese language, including such fields as the Chinese script, pronunciation, grammar and vocabulary, and to make available to the public in general and teachers of Chinese in particular the results of its research in the hope of raising the standard of Chinese language teaching in Hong Kong.

Research Centre for Contemporary Chinese Culture

This centre was established in the academic year 1993–94 in commemoration of the silver jubilee of the Institute of Chinese Studies, and will concentrate its efforts on three main areas of research: interpretation of modern Chinese history; various aspects of modern Chinese culture, including religion; and comparative studies of modernization.

Research Centre for Translation

In 1971, a Centre for Translation Projects was established with a grant from the Asia Foundation. It was renamed Research Centre for Translation in 1983 as a result of reorganization. The centre has concerned itself with research and publication in the field of English-Chinese and Chinese-English translation.

In translating from Chinese into English, the centre concentrates mainly on the areas of classical and modern literature. A continuing vehicle for this is the English-language journal, Renditions, published semiannually since 1973. Included in the centre’s projects are a series of Renditions Books, of which 12 titles have been published since 1976. To strengthen studies in translation and Chinese literature, the centre introduced a Renditions Paperbacks series in 1986; 15 titles have now been published and are distributed worldwide commercially. The success of Renditions and its sister publications is reflected in the large number of requests for permission to reprint and for translation rights received by the centre.

In recent years, the centre has established links with major research institutions in China and the West, which has led to collaboration with the Research Centre for Translation at Nankai University and the University of Texas at Dallas, on a computer-based bibliographic project ‘Index of Translation’.

The centre set up a Renditions Fellowship in 1989 with the aim of inviting annually one translator of world renown to visit the University and carry out a chosen translation project. Recipients of the fellowship include Burton Watson, Göran Malmqvist, Cyril Birch and Wang Zueling. In addition, a Renditions Honorary Fellowship has been founded to honour translators who have made significant contributions in the field of translation.

Research Institute for the Humanities

Established in August 1991, the Research Institute for the Humanities has three main objectives: to encourage and coordinate collective, especially interdisciplinary, research in the humanities at the University; to identify areas suited to long-term strategic research; and to organize regional and international conferences on the humanities.

The institute will, in the next five years, implement six interdisciplinary research programmes, each of which will consist of a cluster of research projects with well-defined areas of study: (1) comparative study of cultural traditions; (2) comparative literature; (3) human cognition: interdisciplinary and comparative studies; (4) interdisciplinary study of culture; (5) continuity and change: culture and society in transformation; and (6) methodology of the humanities.

To provide technical support for its research activities, the institute is in the process of setting up a microcomputer laboratory with multi-media services, database management and desktop publishing facilities, and networking and wordprocessing functions. This laboratory together with a centralized office staffed with research fellows/associates and visiting researchers will become an important resource centre for research in the humanities.

The institute is primarily supported by private funds and external research grants. Its activities are governed by a management board comprising senior members of the University. In order to keep its research projects in line with community needs and worldwide trends, the institute has appointed several well-known scholars of international repute to serve as external advisers on its advisory board.

Asia-Pacific Institute of Business

The Asia-Pacific Institute of Business (APIB) was established in 1990. Its overall objective is to assist management in local business enterprises to meet challenges of the future and to enhance the growth and prosperity of Hong Kong and the Asia-Pacific region through various training, consultancy and research activities, which include

(1) promoting and coordinating management training programmes for administrators at various levels. Senior executive programmes focus on strategy formulation and leadership skills while middle management programmes emphasize the development and refinement of core skills in functional areas of business management. Tailor-made in-house programmes will also be available upon request to meet the specific needs of individual companies.

(2) coordinating and conducting research on major issues and problems which confront managers in the Asia-Pacific region;

(3) providing consultancy services for individual businesses;

(4) publishing journals and occasional papers and sponsoring symposia and conferences so as to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas between managers and researchers.

The APIB is supported primarily by private endowments and corporate sponsorship. The institute's activities are governed by a management board comprising senior members of The Chinese University of Hong Kong. The board sets the institute's agenda and direction to ensure that the institute's activities are geared to meeting the critical needs of the business community.

Institute of Science and Technology

The Institute of Science and Technology was first established in 1965. Its objective is to promote interdisciplinary research in the Faculty of Science and the Faculty of Engineering with particular emphasis on projects with long-term regional significance or application value. It is also an important vehicle of the University for cooperation in scientific research, technological development, and consultation with industries, government departments and other universities.

Centre for Environmental Studies

Established in December 1990, the Centre for Environmental Studies aims at promoting interdisciplinary environmental research within the University. It will also collaborate with major international research centres, consultancy firms, the Hong Kong Government, and local interest groups to solve environmental problems.

The centre draws on the experience and expertise of an interdisciplinary research team, which comprises academic staff from various fields of studies in the University, to tackle environmental problems from a wide range of perspectives.

Four major areas of research have been identified:

1. technical analysis of different kinds of wastes and the study of methods of treatment for each;
2. the study of environmentally-induced health hazards and hygienic problems;
3. the development of monitoring and decision-support systems to assist decision makers and administrators in managing environmental issues;
4. the development of education programmes to promote environmental awareness, and the study of how environmental laws and policies should be enacted to ensure a clean environment.

Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre
The objective of the Chinese Medicinal Material Research Centre (CMMRC) is to evaluate the true efficacy of traditional Chinese medicines on a more scientific basis. It is a multi-disciplinary research centre within the Institute of Science and Technology and comprises three units. The Research Coordination Unit coordinates all research projects at the centre. The Service Development Unit is tasked with building up the expertise and facilities required for the authentication of Chinese medicinal materials, and for identifying their therapeutic and adverse effects. The Training and Education Unit aims at promoting a better understanding among the general public of the correct use of traditional Chinese medicines and an awareness of their possible adverse effects.

CMMRC’s unique computer databases, originally supported by IBM, have made CUHK a worldwide information centre on Chinese medicine. The centre has produced a two-volume monograph on the pharmacology and applications of Chinese materia medica. An international journal, Abstracts of Chinese Medicines, has also been published on a quarterly basis since October 1986. There is a museum of Chinese medicine which provides reference standards and quality control for Chinese drugs. The centre also undertakes strategic interdisciplinary research projects which will help improve the health-care of millions of people in China and worldwide.

Hong Kong Centre of Sports Medicine and Sports Science
Established in 1988, the centre is jointly operated by the Department of Orthopaedics and Traumatology, the Department of Sports Science and Physical Education, and the Hong Kong Sports Institute. Its objectives are (1) to promote and conduct research in sports medicine and sports science, (2) to promote and conduct related educational programmes, (3) to provide professional expertise and advisory support to the sporting community, and (4) to facilitate liaison and interaction with sports medicine and sports science institutions in other parts of the world to realize the above objectives.

Materials Technology Research Centre
Established in March 1992, the Materials Technology Research Centre provides a base for interdisciplinary and collaborative research in the materials area. Activities include the analysis of the structure and properties of advanced materials, the development of applications for new materials, and the synthesis and processing of new materials to serve the needs of local industries. It is staffed by faculty members of the departments of physics, chemistry and electronic engineering, whose research interests cover elemental and compound semiconductors, exotic ceramics, and metal alloys. Studies of the properties of many materials and their processing in various forms — single crystal, heteroepitaxial, microcrystalline, amorphous, and porous — have already started.

Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies

Established in 1990, the Hong Kong Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies replaces the former Institute of Social Studies and its two research centres – the Centre for Hong Kong Studies and the Centre for Contemporary Asian Studies, and aspires to become a research and academic centre of excellence in the interrelated study of Hong Kong, China, and the Asia-Pacific region.

With its focus on social science research, the institute plans strategic research programmes on the Hong Kong and Asia-Pacific economies as they develop in the 1990s. Topics include economic competitiveness and cooperation, reform and development of China in the 1990s, Japan and Asia-Pacific development, urban and regional development in the Asian-Pacific region, gender in a changing world, the political development of Hong Kong, social indicators and the social development of Hong Kong. A collaborative research programme on southern China, Hong Kong and Taiwan has also been established with Yale University’s Council of East Asian Studies. There is a strong policy orientation in all the research programmes planned.

To support its research activities, the institute will build up a data bank on Hong Kong, China and the Asia-Pacific countries. Significant contribution in this respect will come from the Universities Service Centre, which has been an important support centre for scholars in China studies since its inception in 1963. The Universities Service Centre was taken over by The Chinese University through an agreement with the American Council of Learned Societies in June 1988. The affiliation of the acclaimed Universities Service Centre with the institute has greatly strengthened the documentation resources of the institute.

Another important task of the institute is to promote academic exchange, host conferences, receive visiting researchers, and publish research findings.

The Hong Kong Institute of Educational Research of The Chinese University of Hong Kong

The Hong Kong Institute of Educational Research of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, newly established in September 1993, helps to strengthen the roles of the University as a leading centre of educational research, a responsible institution that addresses the needs of the teaching profession, and an active consulting agent for international organizations, public agencies, and local education bodies. It also helps to strengthen the University’s ties with local schools and overseas institutions. Projects initiated by the institute should facilitate educational planning, produce policy alternatives, and enlighten policy-makers and members of the education profession.

The objectives of the institute are to conduct strategic research with strong policy implications for educational developments in China and Hong Kong; to effectively deploy resources for educational research; to promote the role of the institute as a consultant and a development agent; and to win international recognition of its work.

To achieve its objectives, it plans to

1. develop, support, and coordinate long-term multi-disciplinary research programmes;
(2) establish a data bank to store important data from relevant international and local projects;
(3) publish research findings and ideas in the form of monographs and occasional papers, establish a comprehensive collection of research tools and materials pertaining to educational studies, and develop instructional and training materials;
(4) host international conferences, seminars, workshops, and public lectures for the academic community and the educational profession;
(5) publish two journals, Education Journal and Primary Education;
(6) offer educational development programmes and consultancy services for clients including government departments, public agencies, professional organizations, as well as schools and their sponsoring bodies;
(7) form a network of local and overseas scholars, community leaders, policy-makers, and teachers to support its endeavours.

The institute is an independent entity but is closely linked to the Faculty of Education. It is supported by private donations, University funds, research grants and revenue generated by its education and consultancy programmes.

Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology

The Hong Kong Institute of Biotechnology (HKIB) was founded in 1988 as a non-profit organization to help develop in Hong Kong a globally-connected biotechnology industry. Its main mission is to facilitate the promotion of technological innovation and the application of new technology in biotech-related industries in Hong Kong. HKIB will initially focus its efforts on pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, agricultural, environmental and food biotechnology.

In 1989, HKIB received a generous donation of HK$170 million from the Royal Hong Kong Jockey Club towards the construction cost of the HKIB building complex and the operating expenses of the institute for the first five years. The complex, occupying a site of 31,000 square metres inside the campus of The Chinese University of Hong Kong near Tolo Harbour, consists of two separate buildings. The Administration and Research Building houses the Administrative Office, a pilot FDA-certified GMP facility for the production of human health-care products, and laboratories for biotechnology research and product development. The Residential Building provides quarters for senior staff, exchange scholars from China and overseas visitors. The building complex was officially opened on 25th February 1992.

Established as an R & D pilot production facility and a training centre for postgraduate and postdoctoral personnel working at the centre, HKIB, although located at The Chinese University, is an independent facility open to every tertiary institution in Hong Kong. All biotechnology researchers are encouraged to bring appropriate projects to the institute for development into potential commercial products targeted at the world market.
Faculty and Departmental Research/Consultancy Units

Apart from the seven major institutes for interdisciplinary research described on pp. 57–63, there are a number of smaller research/consultancy units set up under the auspices of individual faculties and departments to promote research in various subject disciplines.

The Biotechnology Laboratory
The Biotechnology Laboratory was established in 1986 with a special grant from the Croucher Foundation and Dr. Ho Tim to promote and coordinate research activities in the multi-disciplinary area of biotechnology. Located on the fourth floor of the Basic Medical Sciences Building and occupying a total floor area of approximately 250 square metres, the laboratory is operated jointly by the departments of biochemistry and biology. It is well equipped for performing experiments in molecular biology and recombinant DNA work. Its major facilities include a high-speed centrifuge and an ultracentrifuge, automatic DNA/RNA sequencing equipment, an oligonucleotide synthesizer, sterile hoods, and cell and bacteria culturing facilities.

A major goal of the laboratory is to identify areas of research in biotechnology which are of local relevance and interest. Ongoing research projects include the cloning of genes involved in alcohol fermentation and starch hydrolysis, production of recombinant fish growth hormones, studies on the structural modification of an abortifacient plant protein, and identification of unique genes associated with the human heart.

Apart from carrying out research, the laboratory also serves as an education centre for biotechnology. Its laboratory facilities are available to students of the MPhil programme in biotechnology as well as undergraduates taking courses in this area. To promote a wider interest in biotechnology, the laboratory also organizes workshops on special topics for both local and overseas participants.

Centre for Clinical Trials and Epidemiological Research
The centre was established in 1988 within the Faculty of Medicine to pool resources and expertise in clinical trials and epidemiological research.

Apart from assisting faculty members in conducting research, the centre hopes to generate funds and other support for the development of clinical trials and epidemiological research in Hong Kong, and to build up linkages with similar centres worldwide.

Activities include the design of research studies, the pretesting of protocols and procedures, data analyses, the evaluation of trials, statistical consultation, the organization of courses and seminars, and original biomedical research. The centre also collaborates with other units in the University on interdepartmental and interdisciplinary projects. It has a library of literature and computer software relating to clinical trials and epidemiological research.

Clinical Psychology Centre
The Clinical Psychology Centre, set up in September 1993 under the Department of Psychology, is run by qualified clinical psychologists of the department. Various forms of psychological services for both adults and children are available to the public as well as University staff referred by the University Health Service. Such services include assessment of intelligence, aptitude, personality and vocational interests; specialized neuropsychological and forensic evaluations; individual, group, marital, and family therapies. Treatment programmes can be designed for child development problems, improving parenting skills, marital adjustment, depression, stress management, improving social skills and assertiveness. Consultation to individuals and organizations in the form of employee assessment and management is also available. Fees will be charged according to the type of service provided.

The Clinical Psychology Centre is located on the Chung Chi campus (Tel. no. 6096501).

Computer Science Consultancy Unit
Established in 1988, the Computer Science Consultancy Unit is managed by the Department of Computer Science. Its main function is to provide the industrial sector and the academic community with consulting services such as expert advice, system analysis, feasibility studies, simulation, and customized training programmes. The unit is fully supported by the staff of the department, whose areas of specialization and industrial experience cover the main branches of computer science such as computer architecture, artificial intelligence, image and speech processing, numerical analysis, real-world software applications, Chinese processing, computer education, system software, man-machine interface, and protection against computer viruses.

Electronics Consultancy Unit

Its main function is to provide the industrial sector and the academic community with consulting services such as expert advice, system analysis, feasibility studies, technical audit, laboratory tests, customized seminars and courses, manpower training and the provision of expert testimony. The unit is fully supported by the academic staff of the department, whose areas of specialization and industrial experience cover the main branches of electronics such as ASIC/VLSI, biomedical/rehabilitation engineering, communication systems, computer/microprocessor applications, speech/image/nonlinear signal processing, microwaves and antennas, optoelectronics, and solid state electronics.

Gynaecology Cancer Research Laboratory
The Gynaecology Cancer Research Laboratory was set up in 1988 in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Main areas of research include the establishment of cancer cell lines and the study of molecular genetics in gynaecological cancers.

The laboratory occupies a spacious room on the first floor in a special block of the Prince of Wales Hospital. Its facilities include a laminar flow hood, a carbon dioxide incubator, a deep freezer, and a centrifuging machine.

Hong Kong Cancer Institute

The Hong Kong Cancer Institute (HKCI) was established in 1990 as a focus of activities related to cancer and its problems. Its specific purposes are (1) to coordinate, promote and organize activities relating to the prevention and treatment of cancer; (2) to promote and provide training in cancer research; (3) to educate the public on methods of prevention and the early treatment of cancer; (4) to improve the welfare of cancer patients; and (5) to organize seminars, workshops and conferences for advancing its objectives.

HKCI through its predecessor, the Cancer Research Group, has established an exchange programme with the Turnour Hospital and Cancer Research Centre of the Zhongshan Medical Sciences University. It will work closely with the cancer centre to be built at the Prince of Wales Hospital on specialized diagnostic procedures and treatment of cancer patients, which include bone marrow transplantation, operating theatres, cancer outpatient treatment, counselling, and cancer research laboratories.

Marine Science Laboratory

The Marine Science Laboratory was established in 1970 as a research centre for advanced studies in marine science under the supervision of the Department of Biology. The present research emphasis is on the physiology of marine organisms, especially of fish and shrimps, in relation to mariculture. Another major area is the biology and ecology of planktonic organisms in the waters of Hong Kong and Southern China.

The laboratory is equipped with a physiology laboratory, a mariculture laboratory, two teaching laboratories, an air-conditioned aquarium, a hatchery house with six enclosed tanks (13 m² × 2, 11 m² × 2, 4 m² × 2), four large outdoor tanks (26 m² × 2, 40 m² × 2) and 14 smaller tanks, and two speed boats.

Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit

The Psychiatric Epidemiology Research Unit was established under the Department of Psychiatry in 1981 with a grant from the Keswick Foundation. Its primary goal is to study the frequency and distribution of psychiatric morbidity in the Sha Tin district of Hong Kong, both cross-sectionally and longitudinally, and involving all psychiatric morbidity data in children, adolescents, adults, and the elderly. A large-scale community survey of adult psychiatric morbidity and a smaller survey of school children have recently been completed, and a community psychogeriatric survey is being prepared. These studies will provide useful information for the planning and evaluation of mental health services in Hong Kong.

Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production

The Research Laboratory for Food Protein Production established under the Department of Biology aims at producing high quality food protein from wastes and simultaneously achieving pollution control. There are three main streams of research: (1) the production of edible mushrooms from cotton wastes, sawdusts, spent tea leaves, spent coffee grounds and whey; (2) the production of earthworm protein from organic wastes, including municipal and agro-industrial wastes, for use as food or feed; (3) biological detoxification of rapeseed meal and other agricultural by-products to improve their quality as animal feed. In addition, protoplast-based techniques for genetic manipulations in microorganisms have also been developed.

Research Laboratory for Food Science
Established in 1991 under the Department of Biology, the Research Laboratory for Food Science aims to serve the food industries in both Hong Kong and China through research, and through the development of new food products and new technology in food processing.
The activities of the laboratory are focused on the modernization of procedures in the processing of traditional Chinese food items, and the use of integrative biotechnology in developing health food products.

Research projects currently underway include:
(1) monitoring and improvement of shrimp paste production and processing methods;
(2) evaluation of the medicinal and nutritional value of mushrooms;
(3) development of mushroom-based health food items;
(4) quality control in the canning of mushrooms;
(5) cloning of DNA associated with shrimp-derived allergens;
(6) application of molecular biology to mushroom breeding;
(7) evaluation of mushrooms as a source of commercial flavourants;
(8) development of microbial products for use in the food industries.

Statistical Consulting Services Unit
The Statistical Consulting Services Unit is a consulting unit established in 1984 under the Department of Statistics. Its objective is to encourage the proper use of statistical methodology and to provide statistical expertise to colleagues on campus and to outside organizations. Statistical areas in which consultation may be provided include data analysis, design of experiments, analysis of categorical data, medical statistics, multiple logistic regression, social and business statistics, structural equation models, regression analysis, quality control and time series analysis.

Established in 1991 and managed by the Department of Systems Engineering, the Systems Engineering Consultancy Unit provides the industrial sector and the academic community with consulting services such as expert advice, system analysis and design, simulation, laboratory tests, customized seminars and training courses, research and development, and the provision of expert testimony. The unit is fully supported by the academic staff of the department, whose areas of specialization and industrial experience cover the main branches of systems engineering such as automation and robotics, computer vision and image processing, machine intelligence, system and control sciences, system modelling, optimization and management, information management, CAD/CAM and manufacturing technology.

Unit for Research on Assisted Human Reproduction
This subspecialty unit of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology is involved with the study of the various techniques in assisted human reproduction. These include in vitro fertilization and embryo transfer (IVF-ET), gamete intralFallopian transfer (GIFT), cryopreservation of human embryos, and microinjection of spermatozoa. Other areas of research include factors affecting follicular growth and oocyte maturation, endocrine response to ovarian hyperstimulation and the biochemistry of follicular fluids. Facilities are provided in the Lee Hysan Clinical Research Laboratories at the Prince of Wales Hospital.

The Yeung Shui Sang Laboratory for Thermoluminescence of Ancient Ceramics

The Yeung Shui Sang Laboratory for Thermoluminescence (TL) of Ancient Ceramics was established under the joint auspices of the Art Gallery and the Department of Physics in 1986 with a generous donation from the Yeung brothers.

Activities include carrying out research for the improvement of TL methods for dating ancient ceramics; collaborating with other museums and archaeological institutes in China, Japan and Southeast Asia in TL projects; and the provision of dating and authentication services to the public.

The Department of Extramural Studies runs a Town Centre on the 8th, 13th, 14th and 17th floors of Oriental Centre at 67 Chatham Road South, Kowloon. In order to provide more learning opportunities for those living in the more remote districts, some courses are held in Causeway Bay, Tai Koo Shing, Tsuen Wan, Sha Tin, Kwun Tong, Ho Man Tin and Tai Po at rented school premises. Information brochures and leaflets are issued regularly and are obtainable free upon request.

New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre

The New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre offers courses designed primarily for non-native speakers of Chinese. Founded in 1963 under the joint auspices of New Asia College and the Yale-China Association, the centre became a part of the University in 1974.

Every year over 300 students from different parts of the world are admitted to the language centre. These students range from absolute beginners to trained sinologists who wish to polish their spoken Chinese or learn a Chinese dialect. Courses are offered at all levels so that any student can find training which suits his needs and ability. The language centre also regularly teaches Mandarin to thousands of local Cantonese-speaking residents, including students of the University. The faculty of the language centre prepares a significant portion of its own teaching materials and audio-visual aids for the students.

The centre operates on a three-term system with the first and second terms lasting approximately 15 weeks each and the summer term 10 weeks. Students may register for admission to any term. Beginners’ courses are offered every term. The full-time programme of 15 sessions of classroom instruction per week constitutes the maximum course load. The maximum class size is eight students, while most classes average between four and five. In exceptional cases, private tutorials and part-time classes are available. Tuition fees for language centre courses are printed on p. 223 of this Calendar.

The centre has a full complement of tapes for teaching purposes. Language laboratory facilities are available.

The centre gives credits according to the American system and issues grades and transcripts. Courses taken at the centre have been recognized by major universities for degree credit. For students from institutions not using the credit system, transcripts are prepared in sufficient detail to present a clear picture of the work accomplished by each student.

Copies of an information brochure are obtainable free upon request. All correspondence should be addressed to the Director, New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, Sha Tin, New Territories.

Support Facilities and Services
Support Facilities and Services

The Library System

The Library System, introduced in 1963 with the establishment of the University, coordinates the collections and services of the University Library (founded 1965) and its four branch libraries: the Chung Chi College Elizabeth Luce Moore Library (founded 1951), the New Asia College Ch’ien Mu Library (founded 1949), the United College Wu Chung Library (founded 1956), and the Li Ping Medical Library (founded 1980) at the teaching hospital complex in Sha Tin. The administration of the Library System is centralized under the University Librarian.

The University Library, which started operation in rented premises in Kowloon, was accommodated temporarily in the Benjamin Franklin Centre for three years from 1969, and moved into its present premises in 1972. The five-storey library building has a floor space of 7,993 square metres. It can house over 400,000 volumes of books and accommodate 500 readers. With the expansion of the University, the library needs more space to house its rapidly growing collections and to meet the needs of its users. It has secured the ground floor and the first floor of the newly completed Tin Ka Ping Building adjacent to the University Library building as its annex, which provides an additional 1,800 square metres and 200 seats for readers.

The University Library houses extensive collections in science, social science and business administration, and each of the branch libraries at the colleges has its unique feature. Chung Chi College library holds strong collections in music and religious studies. New Asia College library houses good collections in Chinese literature, fine arts and philosophy. United College library has a Hong Kong Collection as well as a notable Modern Drama Collection. Medical collections are housed in two different locations: pre-clinical materials in the University Library and clinical materials in the Li Ping Medical Library.

All acquisitions and cataloguing activities are carried out in the University Library. The Library of Congress classification system has been used since 1969 for Western language materials and since 1971 for East Asian materials as well. Medical books are classified according to the National Library of Medicine scheme. Users can search items in the Online Public Catalogue of the Library System through terminals installed in all libraries. The holdings of the library system as of 30th June 1993 are:

In 1977, the Library System began to publish its Bibliographical Series, which covers both the collections of the system and Hong Kong publications. There are now eight titles in the series.

Library services offered include circulation, reserve books, inter-library loan and reference service. In addition, there are facilities to use audio-visual materials, microfilm, and CD-ROM databases, and to make copies of these resources. Through INTERNET and HARNET, access to overseas libraries and libraries of UPGC-funded local institutions is possible. The University Library subscribes to three database vendors for accessing overseas databases. They are DIALOG, PROFILE and STN INTERNATIONAL.

Universities Service Centre

The Universities Service Centre holds one of the best collections of original source materials on contemporary China. Established in 1963 by a group of Western scholars, it served as the centre of activity for several generations of China scholars. A new lease of life has been given to the centre since its management was transferred from the American Council of Learned Societies to The Chinese University of Hong Kong in 1988.

The centre is at present accommodated in the University Library building and houses 24,000 titles of monographs and a complete set of newspaper runs for every Chinese province from 1949 to the present. Currently it subscribes to 1,300 Chinese magazines, over 70 English magazines and more than 400 Chinese newspapers. It is open for use by both local and international scholars.

The Chinese University Press

The University started its publishing activity in 1967 with the establishment of the Publications Office. After a decade of experience in this field, the University established The Chinese University Press in 1977.

Last year, the Press published 45 titles including books in special series such as the Hong Kong studies series, the paperback series of the Hong Kong Centre for Economic Research, and the series of the Institute of Chinese Studies. Since 1988, the Press has also published general books in addition to its academic publications. By April 1993, 43 titles in this category have been published. In April 1991, the Press began producing audio and video tapes for the educational and commercial markets, including language tapes of various kinds, training tapes for business executives, and medical video tapes for clinical students as well as medical professionals.

The Press has good connections with many university presses and learned societies both in Hong Kong and overseas. It has co-published books with the university presses of Harvard, Columbia, Princeton and Washington. It has also entered into joint publication arrangements with commercial publishers in the USA, the UK, Japan and Sweden.
Support Facilities and Services

The Chinese University Press is a member of the Association for Asian Studies, the International Association of Scholarly Publishers and the Society for Scholarly Publishing. It is also an international member of the Association of American University Presses.

Computer Services Centre

The Computer Services Centre provides computing services to the academic, research and administrative units of the University. The centre houses two IBM systems including an IBM ES9000 mainframe and an IBM 9375 minicomputer in an SNA network; four DEC Micro VAXes in a local area cluster; an HP 9000/845 minicomputer; an HP9000/750 UNIX server for statistical packages, an HP9000/720 UNIX server for the Campus-wide E-mail System; a large pool of PCs in a Novell LAN and a laboratory of Macintoshes. All PCs on the LAN can access the mainframe and minicomputers in the centre. There is also a workstation laboratory, which is equipped with an IBM RS/6000, a DEC station, a NEXT, a Silicon Graphics and a HP9000/720.

The centre is composed of five sections: the User Services Section, the Microcomputer Applications Section, the Systems Programming and Operation Section, the Data Communications and Networking Section and the Administrative Support Section. Services tendered include:

1. basic computer resources;
2. consultation services for users with programming problems;
3. seminars and user documentation on the use of computer systems and package;
4. microcomputer application services which include technical support, technology transfer, office automation support and academic and research support;
5. workstation support which includes advice on hardware selection, installation of hardware and software at user site, user training, consultation and provision of system administration services;
6. evaluation, selection and installation of network equipment and overseeing networking activities between the University and the rest of the world.

Apart from the computer facilities mentioned above, there are many other departmental minicomputers, workstations and LANs residing in different buildings on the campus. In 1992, another stage of information transfer was launched with the introduction of the FDDI backbone network to facilitate resources sharing within the University.

The Computer Services Centre also plays a very important role in promoting local educational computing activities. It is an integral component of the Hong Kong Academic and Research Network (HARNET), a wide-area T1-ring data network linking the campus network of seven tertiary institutions in Hong Kong. The Chinese University of Hong Kong is the gateway through which HARNET is connected to the USA Internet via a 64 Kbps international link. Users are now able to connect on-line to thousands of computer networks in the world and gain access to various useful services and systems such as library catalogues, databases and even super-computers.

For further details on services available contact the head of the User Services Section (ext. 8844).

Information Management Unit

The Information Management Unit provides programming support and systems development services for University administration applications. The unit serves as a management information centre for all the departments within the administration and provides them with systematic and timely information for planning and decision-making. Efforts are being made to further computerize administrative procedures and develop an effective management information system. In centralizing and coordinating the University's data, the unit pays particular attention to data collection, validation, efficient data processing and elimination of redundant data and duplication of processing efforts.

The unit is made up of a number of application systems development teams, a technical support team, a production support team, and a systems maintenance team, whose services include:

(1) feasibility studies for new applications;
(2) development of computer application systems;
(3) documentation and user training for developed application systems;
(4) maintenance and support of production systems;
(5) management of the computer systems and software products used by the administration;
(6) setting up databases for management information;
(7) processing ad hoc information requests.

The Information Management Unit has developed application systems under both the mainframe computer system — IBM 4381 in the Computer Services Centre, and the departmental computer system — IBM AS/400 and PCs in the Registry, Secretariat and Bursary. All these computer systems are connected by an advanced data communications network. Workstations attached to one computer system can have access to other computer systems and applications residing in the overall network.

Services for Students and Student Activities

The Office of Student Affairs attends to student welfare and helps students take full advantage of their university education. The activities of the office are administered through its six sections: the Appointments Service, the Psychological Counselling Unit, the Student Activities Section, the Scholarships and Financial Aid Section, the Student Amenities/Staff/
Student Centres Management Section and the Statistics, Research and Publication Unit.

The University Appointments Service is a centre for career guidance and employment information; it is responsible for initiating and developing job opportunities for graduates of the University, organizing career guidance programmes, and helping employers with their recruitment of staff at the graduate level. It also administers guidance services to students who intend to further their studies after graduation.

The Student Activities Section coordinates university-wide student activities; liaises with the student unions and their affiliated societies and provides assistance and advice for various student functions and activities.

The Scholarships and Financial Aid Section administers scholarships, bursaries, emergency bursaries, student campus work schemes and loans from private donations and assists in the administration of the Government Financial Aid Scheme.

The Psychological Counselling Unit provides the following services: (1) individual counselling for students having psychological, interpersonal, and other adjustment problems;
(2) small group training in areas such as stress management, social skills and personal growth;
Support Facilities and Services

(3) Research on students' mental health and psychological needs.

The Student Amenities/Staff/Student Centres Management Section is responsible for managing student amenity facilities in the Benjamin Franklin Centre and the John Fulton Centre. It also coordinates policies on catering services and student hostels.

The Statistics, Research and Publication Unit undertakes research and statistical work related to the career development of graduates and the general characteristics and needs assessments of students. It also coordinates the editing and production of all official publications of the office such as Student Affairs, Appointments Service News Bulletin, Student Activities Handbook, Graduate Careers Handbook, For First Job Seekers, Graduate Studies Abroad, A Handbook of Scholarships and Financial Aid to Students, Pamphlets on Study Skills, etc.

Counselling on social, psychological, financial as well as academic problems is also provided by the dean of students offices at the colleges. These offices administer college scholarship and bursary awards and also play a vital role in the enrichment of college life. In close cooperation and collaboration with the college student unions and their affiliated societies, the dean of students offices also oversee the execution of college-wide student activities.

At present, there are five student unions in the University, one each for Chung Chi College, New Asia College, United College, Shaw College and one for the University as a whole. The latter maintains close links with the college unions and coordinates university-wide activities. All year round, a wide range of activities, including academic, athletic, cultural as well as social functions are organized by the student unions. These include the freshmen orientation camp, the swimming gala, and the University track and field meet.

Health Service

The University Health Service is charged with the responsibility of meeting the health needs of students, staff and their dependents. A comprehensive primary care service has been developed to handle the medical, dental, and psychological problems of students through a series of programmes on health education and preventive care.

The Health Centre is open from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9.00 a.m. to 12.30 p.m. on Saturdays. Services include

1. diagnosis, counselling, preventive and curative treatment, diagnostic laboratory tests and physiotherapy;
2. health education programmes and other related activities;
3. twenty-four-hour nursing service (except Saturday afternoons and public holidays);
4. in-patient care for students in need of observation, isolation, diagnosis and treatment;
5. dental consultation and examination, preventive treatment, prosthodontics and minor surgeries, urgent dental treatment (strictly in emergencies);
6. physical examinations for certification purposes;
7. coordination of access to special laboratory and x-ray services, referrals to appropriate specialists, treatment centres or hospitals.

No charges are levied on any of the clinical services provided directly by the University Health Service, with the exception of house visits and dental services.
Sports Facilities
To promote students' interest in physical education, the University provides a variety of sports facilities, including two sports fields, three gymnasiums, a swimming pool, 12 tennis courts, three squash courts, four weight training rooms, several multi-purpose courts, and a water sports centre.

The sports fields are built with covered spectator stands on the lowlands facing the sea. The Haddon-Cave Sports Field (with a seating capacity of 2,800 and flood-lighting facilities) provides a 400-metre all-weather track, a soccer pitch and a handball court. The Chung Chi Sports Field provides a 400-metre track, a soccer pitch, a basketball court and a volleyball court. Each of the three indoor gymnasiums (New Asia, United and University) houses badminton courts, basketball/volleyball courts, dance studios and table-tennis tables. The multi-purpose hall on the Chung Chi campus provides similar facilities at a slightly diminished capacity. On the Shaw College campus, there are three indoor squash courts and a games hall. Adjacent to the Benjamin Franklin Centre, the staff-student amenities building, is an outdoor Olympic-sized swimming pool. The Water Sports Centre is located on the Tolo Harbour shoreline. A new squash centre with six squash courts has just been completed near the University Sports Centre.

The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall
The Sir Run Run Shaw Hall is a well-equipped auditorium with a seating capacity of 1,500, designed for holding ceremonies, assemblies, meetings, lectures and exhibitions, and for staging concerts, plays and film shows. The hall also utilizes its own Cultural Activities Fund to present and sponsor high-quality stage performances and film shows, as well as to organize activities such as talks and workshops related to the performing arts.

Information Services and University Publications
Public Relations and Information Service
The Information and Public Relations Office of the University Secretariat is mainly responsible for providing information and public relations services both internally and externally.

The office maintains close liaison with the media. This includes answering press enquiries and regularly issuing press releases on University news and developments.

The office handles both internal and external enquiries, informs the University community on campus activities through the compilation of the Weekly Events, and helps update information about the University for local and overseas publications.

The office also organizes official functions and ceremonies such as degree congregations, lectures, seminars, presentation ceremonies and other staff club activities.

It is also responsible for hosting local and overseas visitors and producing information brochures, slides and videos to introduce the University to visitors.

Publications on the University
The Publication Office of the University Secretariat produces five major publications to provide different types of information about the University.

The Chinese University of Hong Kong Calendar, published in Chinese and English around October every year, is intended as a general introduction to the history, organization and academic programme of the University. Copies are on sale at The Chinese University Press and the University Bookstore.

Information about University activities, developments and recent achievements is given in the Chinese University Bulletin, published three times a year in Chinese and English. A Professorial Inaugural Lecture Series and a Wei Lun Lecture Series are published as supplements of the Chinese University Bulletin. The Bulletin and its supplements are distributed free to members and friends of the University.

A monthly CUHK Newsletter, which carries University news, announcements, personalia, as well as interviews and feature articles, is published primarily for staff members of the University.

Detailed description of the academic programmes offered by the University is contained in the CUHK Student Handbook (in both Chinese and English) published annually.

The Publication Office has also published seven Vice-Chancellor's Reports. The series traces the development of the University since its inception in 1963 to 1990. The report for the period 1990–93 will come out in the last quarter of 1993.

Information about research activities and staff publications is contained in two annual publications compiled by the University's Research Administration Office. They are respectively entitled Research Projects Summary and Staff Publications List.

Faculty of Social Science

A student who satisfies the conditions for graduation shall be awarded a bachelor's degree with one of the following classifications: First Class Honours, Second Class Honours Upper Division, Second Class Honours Lower Division, Third Class Honours and Pass. Degree classification is based on the grade point averages and the results of the comprehensive examination or its equivalent. However, the degrees of MB ChB are awarded on the basis of professional examinations taken at the end of the second to the fifth medical years.

Curriculum Structure
The normal length of study for a full-time programme is three to four years with the exception of medical studies and some professional programmes which have prescribed otherwise. The curriculum (excluding the MB ChB Programme, the Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences and the Nursing Programme) is based on a credit unit system.

For graduation, Secondary 6 and Secondary 7 students shall successfully complete at least 123 and 99 units of courses respectively which include:

(a) General Education (14–15 units depending on the college to which he belongs),
(b) General Chinese (six units unless exempted),
(c) General English (six units unless exempted),
(d) Physical Education (two units),
(e) normally up to 72 required units of major courses;
(f) remaining units in minor and/or elective courses of a student's own free choice.

If a comprehensive examination or graduation thesis/project is prescribed by the major programme, a student shall take and pass it.

A student who wishes to take a minor programme should formally register for his minor subject, preferably in the second year of attendance. A minor programme normally requires 18–30 units of courses.

Programmes in the Faculty of Medicine
The Faculty of Medicine offers a non-unit-based professional programme leading to the degrees of MB ChB. The programme requires two pre-clinical years and three clinical years of study. Besides taking the professional courses required by the faculty, the student shall also complete in compliance with University requirements the General Education Programme, the General Chinese and General English courses (unless exempted) and the Physical Education courses. Students who have completed their pre-clinical studies with satisfactory results may apply for admission to the Intercalated Degree Programme in Medical Sciences.

A medical student shall sit for both the professional examinations and periodic assessments of individual subjects. The first and second professional examinations will be held respectively at the end of medical year two and year three. The third professional examination consists of two parts, to be taken at the end of medical year four and year five respectively. The three clinical years of study will be conducted at the teaching hospital in Sha Tin in the various clinical departments. The student is also required to serve one year's internship at a recognized hospital after graduation.

The Nursing Programme leading to the degree of BNurs is designed for registered nurses with at least two years of post-registration experience. The length of study is two years for a full-time programme and four years for a part-time programme. The faculty also offers a Bachelor of Pharmacy Programme which follows the credit unit system.

Explanatory notes on Codes and Signs Used

A course code comprises three alphabets, three numerals and one numeral/alphabet. The first three alphabets stand for the subject (e.g. CHI, ENG, BIO, stand for Chinese, English and Biology respectively). The first numeral stands for the level of study. Undergraduate courses are coded 1 to 4 while postgraduate courses are coded 5 to 6 (where 5 denotes first year in Graduate School and 6 denotes second year in Graduate School). The numeric code starting with 0 stands for a course by Student-orientated Teaching.

Normally, lower level courses should be taken before upper level courses. However, for the sake of flexibility, most courses are open to students of all years of attendance subject to satisfactory fulfilment of prerequisite and co-requisite requirements. In fulfilling the total unit requirements of a major or minor programme, students should follow a prescribed study scheme and complete the required and elective courses as given therein.

Human Biology Stream

The Human Biology Stream is offered in cooperation with the Department of Anatomy and the Department of Physiology in the Faculty of Medicine. Basically, the course requirement in the first half of this stream is identical with that of the regular Biology Stream. In the latter half, students will specialize in other courses described therein.

Physical Education Courses

Required courses

Two units of physical education courses are required of all students in their first year of attendance. The required programme emphasizes the development of personality through team work and fair play as well as the acquisition of basic motor skills and attitude towards physical activities. A course may be taken only once. The number of units earned in physical education shall normally not exceed 10 except for students who minor in physical education and sports science. The basis of assessment for each course will be students' achievement in basic skills, attendance and learning attitude. Courses with two different course codes are being offered with men's and women's classes. All courses with one course code are co-ed classes, unless otherwise specified (e.g. men's soccer).

Part-time Undergraduate Studies

(Applicable to students admitted in 1991–92 and after)

General Information
The University offers nine part-time degree programmes: Biology and Chemistry, Business Administration, Chinese and English, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Nursing, Physical Education, Primary Education, and Social Work programmes. (The University has suspended the admission of students to the Part-time Degree Programme in Social Work since 1989–90.) General Regulations Governing Part-time Undergraduate Studies are printed on pp. 337–345 of this Calendar. Eligibility for admission is conditional upon fulfilling entrance requirements set out in Regulations Governing Admission to Part-time Undergraduate Studies printed on pp. 314–317. Degrees are awarded on the same basis as applicable to full-time programmes described on p. 86.

Curriculum Structure
The normal length of study of a part-time programme is six years, with three terms in each year (with the exception of the Nursing Programme). Apart from completing requirements of the major subject, students are also required to take language and general education courses and/or elective courses in other disciplines.

The University adopts with effect from 1991–92 a full-fledged credit unit system in the undergraduate curriculum (with the exception of the Nursing Programme). Secondary 6 and Secondary 7 students are required to complete before graduation at least 123 and 99 units of courses respectively. Students who have satisfied special entrance requirements of the Biology and Chemistry, Mathematics and Statistics, Music, Physical Education, and Primary Education programmes shall be granted unit exemption and are required to complete at least 80 or 60 units of courses before graduation, depending on the specific category under which they are admitted.
Exemption from major requirements in specific programmes shall also be given to students as prescribed in the study scheme concerned. (Please also see Curriculum Structure of the full-time programmes on pp. 86–87.)

The curriculum structure and programmes of the Nursing Programme can be found on p. 87 and p. 113 of this Calendar respectively.

Programmes

Explanatory Notes on Codes and Signs Used

To distinguish Part-time Degree Programmes from their full-time counterparts, 'P' is always used as the third letter in the course code. The other two letters stand for the subject (e.g. AMP, BAP, BIP, CHP, CMP, ENP, EPP, MAP, MUP, PEP, STP and TRP respectively stand for Mathematics, Business Administration, Biology, Chinese, Chemistry, English, Primary Education, Mathematics, Music, Physical Education, Statistics and Translation).
General Chinese and General English

All students other than those of the Chinese and English Programme are required to take in the first two years of attendance six units each of General Chinese and General English, unless exempted.

General Education

The General Education Programme is designed to broaden the interests of students, give them a wider perspective, and cultivate in them the ability to understand the major issues of contemporary life. The challenge of rational inquiry and discussion is also emphasized. These courses are an important part of university education.

Postgraduate Studies

The University first introduced programmes at the postgraduate level with the establishment of the School of Education in 1965. In the following year, the Graduate School was formally founded to undertake research training of graduate students leading to the award of master's degrees. In 1980, the University advanced into the realm of doctoral education.

The University awards the following higher degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Business Administration, Master of Divinity, Master of Education, Master of Philosophy, Master of Science, Master of Social Science, Master of Social Work, Doctor of Business Administration, Doctor of Literature, Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Science and Doctor of Social Science.

The Graduate School at present offers instructions leading to doctoral and master's degrees through 35 graduate divisions.

In the current academic year, postgraduate programmes leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in the fields of anthropology, basic medical sciences, biochemistry, biology, business administration, chemistry, Chinese history, Chinese language and literature, Chinese philosophy, clinical and pathological sciences, clinical psychology, communication, computer science, economics, education, electronic engineering, English, geography, government and public administration, history of Chinese art, information engineering, mathematics, music, physics, psychology, social welfare, sociology, statistics and systems engineering are offered. For a PhD degree, a full-time student shall normally spend a minimum of 36 months and a maximum of 84 months; a part-time student shall normally spend a minimum of 48 months and a maximum of 96 months.

Four types of programmes leading to the award of master's degrees are offered: (1) two-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Philosophy (MPhil), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Divinity (MDiv) and Master of Social Work (MSW); (2) one-year full-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of Master of Arts (MA), Master of Science (MSc), and Master of Social Science (MSSc); (3) three-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MPhil, MBA, and MSW; and (4) two-year part-time programmes leading to the award of the degrees of MA, MEd, MSc, and MSSc.

In addition, the Graduate School offers a diploma programme in social work to university graduates who major in fields other than social work but who are now employed in social service agencies. To provide professional training for graduates of approved universities to serve in local secondary schools, the Division of Education also offers a one-year full-time course and a two-year part-time course leading to the Diploma in Education (DipEd). A new diploma programme has also been introduced in 1993–94 to provide university graduates who major in fields other than psychology with the opportunity to pursue postgraduate studies in psychology.

Persons who have graduated with good honours degrees from recognized universities and who have the capacity for research may apply for admission to the above postgraduate programmes. For details, please refer to the General Regulations Governing Postgraduate Studies printed on pp. 346–353 of this Calendar and The Chinese University of Hong Kong Graduate School Brochure, 1993–94.

Programmes Leading to the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy

Anthropology

In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to a PhD programme, candidates should possess a master’s degree in anthropology from this university or other recognized universities. Candidates are required to furnish proof of their research capability in the form of academic references and transcripts. Some evidence of English-language ability will also be required.

The programme is research-oriented. A student may be asked to take additional courses or tutorials, and will be required to present an annual written progress report to his supervisor.

Advancement to PhD candidature is conditional upon the passing of a qualifying examination. Within six months after advancement to PhD candidature, the candidate must submit a research proposal for a 9–12 month period of fieldwork. Midway through fieldwork, a fieldwork report should be submitted. On return from fieldwork, the student will prepare a thesis based on fieldwork research.

Basic Medical Sciences

In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to the Graduate School, candidates should normally have a master’s degree in a field related to life sciences or the degrees of MB ChB or equivalent. The programme including advanced studies in anatomy, pharmacology and physiology but excluding biochemistry is research-oriented. Students should show ability for independent work and have in-depth knowledge of the fields relevant to the topic of their project. The minimum requirements for students of this programme will be two seminars a year. A candidate, except when holding a master’s degree from this university or a recognized university, must have satisfied the course requirements for the first year of the MPhil programme before admission to the PhD programme. Unless exemption is granted, a student has to attend seminars for a period of two years and he is required to study Japanese, French or German for a period of two years. A student must satisfy further requirements as may be laid down by the division.

(e) Neo-Confucianists (Ming Dynasty)

Should a student fail in any of the three papers, he could attempt that particular paper for a second time. This should normally take place at the beginning (September-October) of his third year of study, and in no case later than the end (April) of that year, even if he has a sound reason to apply for a deferment in taking the examination.

2. Advanced Workshop
3. Advanced Practicum
4. Thesis
5. Advanced Academic Seminar
6. Research Methods II

A student is required to complete a total of 22 units of courses, pass a comprehensive oral and written examination and submit a thesis.

Those with at least five years of relevant working experience will be exempted from six units of advanced practicum.

Advancement to PhD candidature is conditional upon the passing of a comprehensive examination. Within six months after advancement to PhD candidature in the full-time programme, the candidate must submit a thesis proposal.

Communication
In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to a PhD programme, candidates should possess a master’s degree in journalism/communication or in a related field from this university or other recognized universities.

In addition to University regulations, students in the MPhil programme of the Communication Division, after completing a minimum of 26 credit units of course work with a GPA above 3.5, may be admitted directly to the PhD programme on the recommendation of the division head with the approval of the Board of Studies of Journalism & Communication and the Graduate Council.

Candidates are required to furnish proof of their research capability in the form of strongly favourable comments from academic referees. Special consideration will be given to applicants’ scholarly achievement and professional experience in related fields. An applicant with a BSc degree will have to satisfy the following course requirements:

1. Each student must take at least six courses, four of which must be at the graduate level. One of the courses may be a language such as German, French, or Japanese. At least four of these courses must be taken and passed in the first two terms after he has registered as an MPhil student.

2. The GPA of the required courses taken must be at least 2.6 for each term, with each course grade at C or above.

3. Upon the supervisor’s recommendation, the student can be transferred to the PhD programme based on course results and/or a qualifying examination at least one year after the MPhil registration.

Applicants may be required to take and pass a qualifying examination, which may be a qualifying thesis, a formal progress report, or a set of degree papers. The exact format will be determined by the division upon the supervisor’s recommendation.

Business Administration

The Faculty of Business Administration offers three types of programmes leading to the degree of Master of Business Administration (MBA): (1) Two-Year MBA Programme (full-time), (2) Three-Year MBA Programme (part-time), and (3) Executive MBA Programme (two-year part-time).
The Two-Year Programme was previously operated by the Lingnan Institute of Business Administration established with substantial initial financial support from the Lingnan University Board of Trustees in New York in 1966. However, the use of the name ‘The Lingnan Institute of Business Administration’ has been discontinued. The Three-Year Programme was launched in 1977 with generous financial support from the local business community. The Executive MBA Programme was firstly launched in 1993 and is the first and only programme of its kind offered in Hong Kong. These three types of MBA programmes are now offered by the Faculty of Business Administration.

The major objective of the MBA programmes is to prepare men and women for responsible administrative and executive positions in business, government and other organizations. The newly launched Executive MBA Programme is aimed at developing in its participants essential skills and knowledge in modern management, and preparing them for general management responsibilities at the senior executive level. Relevance will be emphasized in the context of Hong Kong’s strategic location within greater China and the Asia-Pacific region. Classes of the Two-Year Programme are mainly held on campus. Classes of the Three-Year Programme and the Executive MBA Programme are held in the Town Centre in Tsim Sha Tsui East. Since both the Three-Year Programme and the Executive MBA Programme are designed to provide practising managers with the opportunity to learn new concepts of business management without interruption of their careers, classes for the former are held in the evenings from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., whereas classes for the latter are held on Fridays from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 2:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme is open to graduates of recognized colleges and universities, both in Hong Kong and abroad, who hold a bachelor’s degree normally with honours not lower than second class lower division or with an average grade of not lower than ‘B’ in any field of study, or to those who have recognized professional or similar qualifications equivalent to a degree. Undergraduates who expect to receive their bachelor’s degree in the current academic year may also apply for admission to the Two-Year MBA Programme.

Qualifications for admission to the Three-Year MBA Programme are identical with that of the Two-Year MBA Programme except that applicants are also required to have at least three years of full-time working experience after obtaining their bachelor’s degrees or recognized professional qualifications.

Admission to the Executive MBA Programme is open to graduates of recognized colleges and universities who have obtained a bachelor’s degree, or to those who have recognized professional qualifications equivalent to a degree. Besides, they are required to have at least seven years of post-qualification business or relevant work experience, including at least five years in a managerial position. They should also hold a responsible, senior management position, be recommended by their employers, and submit to the programme a company statement giving details of financial support from the company and testifying that the company has full knowledge of the time required for study and class participation. Applicants are not required to take the Graduate Management Admission Test. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to attend an interview soon after the application deadline.

Sociology
MPhil Degree Programme
In addition to the general qualifications for admission to the Graduate School, preference will be given to candidates who have a solid background in one social science subject (sociology, anthropology, psychology, etc.) and whose research interests are already well developed.

The two-year programme leading to an MPhil degree in sociology is organized to enable the students to devote the first year to course work and to spend the major part of the second year writing a master’s thesis. Each student and his supervisor will plan a programme of studies at the beginning of the first year. This programme will consist of required graduate courses and elected reading courses chosen in the light of the students’ needs and interests.

* Students not having taken previous course work in research are advised to take an additional course in research in another division.
 The Field Practicum can be taken in either the third term of the second year (block placement) or both the first and second terms of the third year (concurrent placement)
Social Work Diploma students who have been selected to take a third year in the part-time MSW Programme to obtain the MSW degree are required to take Research Methodology, Research Workshop, Supervised Research & Thesis III, and Field Practicum.
In some cases, students may be required to take advanced courses in the undergraduate curriculum which are relevant to the students' thesis topic or which will strengthen the students' general sociological background. In addition, each student will be required to attend the Graduate Seminar which meets every week. The purpose of this seminar is to provide a forum for the exchange of views among graduate students, faculty and visiting specialists in relation to a number of selected topics in current sociology and anthropology. Students are required to choose their thesis topic in the second term of the first year and, if possible, to initiate at least exploratory research during the summer months.

Fields of Specialization

The division offers supervised research and reading courses in the following areas: Advanced Theory, Advanced Methodology, Advanced Statistical Analysis, Aspects of Sociology, Chinese Society, and Graduate Seminar.

Statistics

MPhil Degree Programme

In addition to the general qualifications required for admission to the Graduate School, applicants should have majored or minored in statistics.

Each student should complete a minimum of 24 units which may be distributed as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>First Year</th>
<th>(Units)</th>

Seven graduate courses and seminars will be offered. If the graduate panel agrees, students may obtain two postgraduate course units by taking undergraduate courses which are related to their research. The thesis should either contain original results in statistics or make a substantial contribution to some particular areas through the use and interpretation of sound statistical methods. Normally, students' research projects should be related to the following fields of specialization.

Fields of Specialization

International Asian Studies Programme

In keeping with the University's distinctive educational mission of promoting cultural exchange between East and West, an International Asian Studies Programme was launched at the University in 1977 with the support of the Yale-China Association. This programme is open to a selected number of students, research scholars and academic staff from overseas who wish to take advantage of the University's academic resources and research facilities in the broad area of Chinese and Asian studies, including the Chinese language training programme offered by the New Asia Yale-in-China Chinese Language Centre.

The International Asian Studies Programme (IASP) is coordinated by the Office of International Studies Programmes and is fully integrated into the regular academic structure of the University. Programme participants from overseas and local students live in the same hostels. All courses offered at the University, except those by the Faculty of Medicine and the Faculty of Education, are open to IASP participants, and the programme itself also offers selected courses in Asian and Chinese studies taught in English for the benefit of both programme participants and local students.

There are three categories of participants: (1) associate students: undergraduates and graduate students taking a full load (12–18 units per term) of language and area studies; (2) associate research students: graduate students primarily undertaking research or writing their masters' theses or doctoral dissertations; and (3) special scholars: academic staff members or other learned scholars, normally of postdoctoral status, pursuing research, refresher or advanced courses.

Programme fees and financial aid for participants are respectively printed on p. 223 and pp. 253–254 of this Calendar.

The programme is a yearly programme (September to May). Application for single term participation is subject to availability of places. Previous course work on Chinese language or Asian studies is not required for admission, but undergraduate applicants must have normally completed at least two terms of university study and graduate applicants must hold a BA degree. Associate research students and special scholars with genuine research or scholarly interest are especially welcome.
All inquiries and applications should be addressed to the Office of International Studies Programmes at The Chinese University of Hong Kong except those from America and Canada which should be addressed to the Programme’s North American representative: International Asian Studies Programme, P.O. Box 905A, Yale Station, New Haven, Connecticut 06520, USA.

Cost of University Education
In addition to the prescribed fees listed above, all full-time students are advised to set aside funds for other items including meals, books, transport, personal and other expenses.

* The programme fees cover tuition and hostel accommodation, basic medical care, student union membership, transcripts, orientation programme and cultural activities.
The cost of meals on campus is about HK$12 for breakfast and $17 each for lunch and dinner. It is estimated that books and stationery and other incidental expenses would be in the region of $4,000 a year. In addition, a commuting student may have to spend between $3,800 and $4,800 a year on transport. Personal and other extra expenses are entirely at the discretion of the individual student concerned.

In all, taking into consideration all fees and expenditure set out above, a full-time student will probably need between $45,000 and $49,000 a year to support his education at the University.
Scholarships and Financial Aid to Students

To help needy students meet part of the cost of their university education, the government has made provisions for grants and loans through the Joint Committee on Student Finance. In the academic year 1992–93, a total of 48 million dollars was allocated to 31 per cent of the student population, who depended on this scheme for financial support. The University and its constituent colleges also administer their own scholarships, bursaries, loans and campus work schemes.

5.0 Course Load

5.1 Undergraduate associate students shall normally take a full load of 12–18 units (credits) of courses in any term except with prior permission of the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned. However, no student shall be allowed to take more than 21 units in any term.

5.2 Associate research students under OISP usually establish a consultative relationship with one or more faculty members who will supervise their work on the theses or dissertations. In total, they may take up to 10 units of courses each term (including language courses).

In some cases special language courses (reduced units) can be arranged so that a student can take a combination of language and non-language courses. Any postgraduate student who takes a total course load per term of more than 10 units will be considered an associate student for the purposes of fees and academic requirements.

5.3 Associate students of postgraduate programmes shall take the courses as specified by the Graduate Division concerned.

5.4 Auditing students shall take the courses as approved by the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned.

6.0 Selection of Courses (not applicable to auditing students)

6.1 A student shall, after consulting the teacher/s designated by the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned or by OISP and making sure that there is no timetable clash among the courses he wishes to select, complete the prescribed procedure for course registration.

6.2 A student shall select his courses according to the study scheme of his programme of studies.

7.0 Course Withdrawals and Additions (not applicable to auditing students)

7.1 A student who wishes to apply for withdrawal or addition of course/s shall complete the prescribed procedure within two weeks after the beginning of the teaching term.

7.2 Only under very special circumstances may a student apply for permission to withdraw from a course or enrol in a new course after the second week of the teaching term. Such applications shall be made on a prescribed form and submitted to the Registrar or Office of OISP for consideration by Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned or Director of OISP.

7.3 A student who withdraws from a course without going through the prescribed procedure shall be given a grade of F for the course.

8.0 Class Attendance and Leave of Absence (not applicable to auditing students)

8.1 A student shall attend classes, tests and examinations as required by the teachers of the courses in which he has enrolled.

8.2 A student who has been absent for any period shall be responsible for applying to the teacher/s concerned for permission to make up for any required work missed.

8.3 In case of illness necessitating absence exceeding one week, a student shall obtain permission from the Registrar/Office concerned through written application. Such applications shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a registered medical practitioner and shall require the endorsement of the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned.

8.4 A student who wishes to obtain a leave of absence exceeding one week for non-medical reasons shall obtain prior permission from the Registrar/Office concerned through written application. Such applications shall state the reasons for which leave of absence is sought and shall require the endorsement of the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned.

8.5 A student who, without permission to take leave, has been absent for a continuous period exceeding one month shall be considered to have withdrawn from studies at the University.

8.6 A student shall be required to take leave of absence if the condition of his health is considered as constituting a definite hazard to the University community. At the end of the prescribed period of absence, the student shall obtain a certificate of good health as required before he can apply to resume classes.

9.0 Course Assessment and Grades (not applicable to auditing students)

9.1 A student shall be assessed for every course he has registered for on the basis of his performance in the course. Criteria for assessment may include any one or any combination of the following: attendances, class work, written work, laboratory work, field work, research papers, tests, examinations, and any other criteria.

9.2 Course grades, their standards and converted points used in reporting shall be as follows:

The grade point average of a student’s course work shall be computed by dividing the total weighted converted points for courses taken by the total number of units attempted inclusive of courses failed, where the weighted converted points are converted points multiplied by the number of units of the course concerned.

9.3 A student who has gained a ‘Pass’ or above in a course shall earn the unit/s of that course.

10.0 Examinations (not applicable to auditing students)

10.1 Course Examinations

A student shall take course examinations, if prescribed by the teacher/s concerned, in the form of written, practical or oral assessment, or any combination thereof.

10.2 Absence from Course Examinations

10.2.1 A student who for medical or other compelling reasons is unable to sit for any course examination, shall apply in writing with documentary evidence at the earliest possible moment but not later than 10 days after the examination concerned to the Registrar/Office concerned for permission for absence. In the case of illness/injury, the application shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a registered medical practitioner.

10.2.2 (a) A student who is absent from course examination/s and whose application for absence is successful may be otherwise assessed at the discretion of the Board of Studies/Programme/Graduate Division concerned.

(b) A student who is absent from any examination without permission shall be given a grade of F for that examination.
11.0 Transcripts (not applicable to auditing students)

11.1 A student may apply for an official transcript giving details of all courses taken and grades obtained.

11.2 The official transcript shall not be issued to a student or any private individual. It shall be sent direct to an institution or a prospective employer upon payment of the prescribed fees and postage.

12.0 Disciplinary Action

12.1 A student who violates any rule or regulation and/or commits any misconduct such as:
(a) defamation of or assault on or battery against the person of any member of the University;
(b) wilful damage to or defacement of any property of the University;
(c) theft, fraud, misapplication of University funds or property of any kind;
(d) plagiarism in written assignments or cheating in tests or examinations;
(e) an offence in connection with examinations or violation of any of the regulations of the Senate governing conduct at examinations;
(f) falsification or serious misuse of University documents or records;
(g) refusal to comply with any regulations or orders by authorized persons and bodies prohibiting any conduct which disrupts teaching, study, research or administration of the University;
(h) any conduct which is detrimental to the reputation and well-being of the University;
(i) an offence of an immoral, scandalous or disgraceful nature of which the student has been convicted in any court of law; or
(j) misrepresentations or false statements made in any application or document submitted to the University; shall be disciplined by the Senate, Council of the Graduate School, the Board of Faculty and/or College Assembly of Fellows concerned in accordance with the nature and gravity of the offence.

12.2 Such disciplinary action may take the form of any of the following penalties which may be entered into the transcript of the student's academic record:
(a) reprimand;
(b) suspension from part or all of the rights, privileges and/or the use of part or all of the facilities of the University for a specified period of time;
(c) demerit (a total of three demerits may result in termination of studies at the University);
(d) suspension from the University for a specified period of time; or
(e) termination of studies at the University.
Penalty (d) or (e) may be imposed only with the approval of the Senate.

12.3 A student, on being informed of a decision to take disciplinary action against him, may within seven days write to request the Senate to review the decision.
The University Library System consists of the University Library in the central area of the campus and the branch libraries at the colleges and at the teaching hospital. The University Library houses an extensive research collection as well as many undergraduate materials and the pre-clinical portion of the medical collection. The branch libraries contain reference and curricular materials, some special subject collections according to the needs of the colleges, and books and periodicals to support general education. These regulations apply to all the libraries. The Senate Committee on the University Library System reserves the right to revise these regulations at any time.

Details about opening hours are posted at the entrance to each library. Opening hours are adapted to the semester schedules.

Library Privileges

Library privileges are personal and individual. They may not be transferred to, or used on behalf of, other persons.

Privileges fall into three categories:

1. Borrowing

Borrowing privileges are extended to all registered students and academic/administrative staff of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Others may apply to the University Librarian for special Borrowers’ Cards. Clerical staff, technicians and spouses of the faculty and administrative staff of the University may also apply to the University Librarian for borrowing privileges.

2. Reading

The privilege of reading is extended to visiting scholars, to researchers and to graduates of this University upon application to the University Librarian. Reserve books, however, are for the exclusive use of students and faculty of the University.
3. The use of special facilities

Carrels: Not reserved for any category of library user; they are available for the convenience of all.

Study rooms in the University Library: On application to the University Librarian, Assistant Lecturers (and above) and PhD students may reserve a room for three months, renewable if its use is justified. Others who are engaged in research may also apply. The use of these study rooms may not be transferred.

Seminar rooms in the University Library: Upon application to the University Librarian, users may reserve a seminar room for a lecture or for a series of lectures or meetings which would benefit from the use of library materials and resources.

Photocopying: Photocopying machines are available in all libraries. A reader may obtain at cost photocopies of materials, provided there is no infringement of copyright.

Interlibrary loans: The Interlibrary Loan Librarian will attempt to obtain from other libraries books and other materials which are not owned by the University Library System and which cannot be readily purchased.

Admission to the Libraries

Every user of the libraries must show a University Identification Card, or a Reader’s Card at the entrance of the library. Applications for Borrowers’ Cards and Readers’ Cards are made at the Circulation Desk.

The loss of a Borrower’s Card must be reported to the Library immediately; a duplicate card may be issued two weeks after the loss is reported. Only one duplicate will be granted within a semester. Change of address should also be reported to the Library as soon as possible.

Borrowing Regulations

Borrower Categories

Users of the University Library System to whom the borrowing privilege is accorded are grouped into the following categories:

1. Registered students of The Chinese University of Hong Kong:
   (a) Undergraduate students;
   (b) Graduate students; tutors/demonstrators who are registered students working part-time.

2. All teaching staff, including teaching assistants, full-time tutors/demonstrators.
3. Administrative staff of administrative assistant rank and above.
4. CUHK graduates, upon payment of a fee of $100 per annum.
5. Special categories:
   (a) Clerical staff and technicians, with the recommendation of their division heads;
   (b) Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff;
   (c) Others, upon special application.

Borrowing Limits

Individuals may borrow within the limits of the following schedule:

Category 1(a). Undergraduate students: 10 volumes (books) for two weeks.
Category 1(b). Graduate students, graduate assistants, part-time tutors/demonstrators: 15 volumes (books) for one month.

Categories 2 and 3. Teaching and administrative staff: 30 volumes may be borrowed for up to six months, although they should be returned as soon as they are no longer required. Bound periodicals and non-current single issues may be borrowed for periods of three days. Current periodicals may be borrowed for overnight use only.

Category 4. CUHK graduates: five volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(a). Clerical staff and technicians: five volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(b). Spouses of the faculty and administrative staff: three volumes (books) for two weeks.

Category 5(c). Others, according to special arrangement.

All books taken from the bookstacks must be charged at the Circulation Desk. Reserve books must be charged at the Reserve Books Desk: there are varying borrowing limits on these books.

Books obtained on interlibrary loan are borrowed through the courtesy of other libraries and their restrictions as to loan period and renewal are therefore observed. Usually the loan period is two weeks and the books may have to be used only in the Library. Photocopies of periodical articles may be obtained at cost.

Reference books, rare books, microforms and other audio-visual materials do not circulate.

Renewals

Borrowers may renew loans for two additional periods. To avoid fines renewals must be made on or before the last date of the initial loan period. Borrowers, with the exception of Categories 2 and 3, must renew their loans at the Circulation Desk of the issuing library.

Faculty members and administrative staff who require a book for more than one semester may renew it in writing. After two renewals, however, the book must be returned to the library shelves so that it may be available to others.

No book may be renewed if it is required by another person.

Recall

Circulating books and journals to be put on reserve for courses are subject to recall at any time. All other loans are subject to recall after two weeks (the initial loan period). In the recall notices, a new due date will be given, i.e., five working days after the date of the notice.

Borrowers should respond to a recall promptly. Late returns will be fined [see Fines (b)].

Overdue

The last date of the loan period is stamped on the date due slip at the back of each book loaned. When the loan period expires, an overdue notice is sent to all categories of borrowers. However, the responsibility of returning books on time lies with the borrower.

Fines

(a) Overdue — All categories of borrowers who keep books/items beyond the loan period are subject to a fine of HK$1.00 per item per day up to a maximum of HK$50. A fine of HK$1.00 per hour will be charged for each reserve book overdue.
(b) Recall — The fines for not responding to recalls for all categories of borrowers are as follows:
- five working days after new due date of first recall: HK$1.00 per item per day
- five working days after issuing of second recall: HK$5.00 per item per day
- five working days after issuing of third recall: the library could take any appropriate action to retrieve the items.

Losses
Borrowers who fail to return books or who return books damaged beyond repair will be charged the cost of replacement (including binding) in addition to the processing cost of HK$20.00 and any accumulated fine. Damaged books and marked pages should be reported to the Librarian as soon as noticed.

Category 2 and 3 borrowers who fail to return or renew books after two terms and three recalls will be subject to the above charges, which will be sent to the Bursar’s Office for collection.

Control Counter
Library users may bring their bags and briefcases into the libraries but umbrellas should be deposited at the entrance to the libraries. No food or beverages may be taken into the libraries. All the books that a user carries must be inspected as he leaves the library.

Loss of Privileges
Infractions, such as smoking, shouting and other disturbances, are forbidden in all parts of the libraries. The Librarian or an appointed deputy may expel from the library building for the remainder of the day any person who is acting to annoy others or who is damaging books or other property. Payment must be made to cover all damages.

A gross breach of the regulations may subject the borrower to a loss of library privileges.
(a) Overdue books — After normal recall procedures, a written warning will be sent. If this is ignored, borrowing privileges will be withheld in all the libraries until the return of the book(s) and the payment of accrued fines.
(b) Payment of charges — If a person refuses to pay any outstanding charges (fines, replacement costs of damaged books or repair of damaged property), all the libraries will withhold his borrowing privileges until the account is cleared.

Repeated offences may lead to a total loss of the privilege of using the libraries.
